This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION,
BUREAU OF AMERICAN ETHNOLOGY,
Washington, D. C., March 3, 1915.

SIR: I respectfully submit herewith for your consideration the manuscript of a work entitled "Kutenai Tales," by Franz Boas, "together with texts collected by Alexander Francis Chamberlain," with the recommendation that this material be published, with your approval, as Bulletin 59 of this Bureau.

Yours, very respectfully,

F. W. HODGE,
Ethnologist-in-Charge.

DR. CHARLES D. WALCOTT,
Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

PREFACE

THE following collection of Kutenai tales embraces a series of texts collected by the late Alexander F. Chamberlain in 1891, and another one collected by me in the summer of 1914. The texts collected by Dr. Chamberlain were told by two men—Paul, who, according to information received in 1914, lived near St. Eugène Mission, and who had spent some time among the Blackfeet; and Michel, who belonged to the same region. The name of the narrator of the Lower Kutenai tales is given in "The International Congress of Anthropology" (Chicago, 1894) as Angi McLaughlin. The texts recorded by Chamberlain are brief. It should be remembered that these were recorded on the first field expedition ever undertaken by Dr. Chamberlain, and that it requires a considerable amount of practice to record long tales. This accounts to a great extent for the fragmentary character of his notes.

Among the texts collected by me, one was told by Pierre Andrew, a man about 33 years of age, who has a good command of English. He is not able, however, to interpret with any considerable degree of accuracy the grammatical forms of Kutenai, so that his own translation is always a rather free rendering of the Indian sentences. Two tales were told by Pierre Numa, an older man, who, however, spoke so rapidly that the tales had to be redictated by Pierre Andrew, who served as interpreter. Three other tales were told in the same way by Mission Joe, a man about 60 years old, whose dictation was repeated by Felix Andrew, a young man who speaks English very well, but whose ability to interpret the Indian texts word by word was even less than that of Pierre Andrew. One tale was told by Felix Andrew himself and was recorded by Mr. Robert T. Aitken. The rest of the stories were told by Barnaby, a man about 60 years of age, who, after very short practice, learned to speak slowly and distinctly, and whose dictation was perfectly satisfactory. All these tales were recorded without translation; and the translation was made later on, in part with the assistance of Pierre Andrew, in part with that of Felix Andrew. All my informants were Upper Kutenai, and the revision of Chamberlain's tales was also made by Upper Kutenai; so that the dialectic forms of the Lower Kutenai have probably disappeared.

It is interesting to note that Barnaby refused to tell the Mosquito story (p. 25), because, as he said, it was proper for children, not for adults.

I wish to express my sincere thanks for much kindly assistance rendered to me in the course of my work by Rev. F. E. Lambot, O. M. I., and the Sisters in charge of the Government School of St. Eugène.

Description of Sounds

e, i represent a sound which is by origin probably a somewhat open i. In contact with velars and palatals, it inclines toward the sound of e. When long, the sound is always slightly diphthongized.

o, u represent a u with very slight rounding of lips. In contact with velars, it inclines toward the sound of o. When long, the sound is always slightly diphthongized.

(a˘), ɛ, ɔ open vowels, often followed by long consonants.

ü open short, about as German ü in Hütte. The pronunciation of this vowel differs very much among individuals. Some pronounce a clear ɛ; others a u. All admit that both these extreme forms are correct.

[1] Only in Coyote's pronunciation.

Digitized by Google

^{a}, ^{i}, ^{u}	vocalic resonance of consonants.
a, e, i, u	short weak vowels, very slightly voiced.
E	very weak vowel of indeterminate timber, lips, palate, and tongue almost in rest position, larynx not raised.
a_a, e_i, i_i, o_u	diphthongized vowels, ending with a decided glottal stricture, so as to be set off from the following consonants, without, however, forming a complete glottal stop.
p, t, ts, k, k^u, q	strongly aspirated surd stops (k^u labialized, q velar). ts is pronounced by many individuals as tc; but careful speakers, particularly old men, pronounced a clear ts. When followed by w or y, the stops lose some of the strength of their aspiration. Terminal k is somewhat palatalized, except when it follows a u.
p!, t!, ts!, k!, q!	very strong glottalized consonants (fortis). ts! has in its continuant part a pure s character.
s	as in English.
x̣	velar spirant.
ɬ	voiceless l.
dl	voiced affricative, only in the word kudlidlus ("butterfly").
m, n	often strongly sonant, with sonancy beginning suddenly before complete labial or lingual closure.
'	glottal stop.
'	aspiration. All surd stops are strongly aspirated, but the aspiration has been indicated only in words beginning with a_a'.

The primary accent is always on the penultima, the weak vowels, a, i, u, not being counted.

Coyote said: "To-morrow you will visit my tent." Coyote started back. Coyote arrived back at his tent. On the following day Moose arrived at the tent of Coyote. Coyote was seated. He said to his wife: "Look this way!" His wife looked at him. At once he cut off her nose. At once Dog ran out howling. Dog re-entered. He threw ashes on her, but her nose was not restored. Moose took ashes. He put them on her nose and it was whole again. He said to the two children: "Bring a root." They two went out. They brought it in. He took it. He threw it into the fire. He took it out of the fire. It turned into guts. He rolled them in the fire and gave them to (Coyote). Moose said to him: "Eat." Moose started back. Enough.

10. Coyote and the Woman

Coyote went along. There was a hill. He arrived on top. He saw a woman. Then the woman saw Coyote. She was afraid. Then she lay down. Then Coyote started. He saw the woman lying there. He thought she was dead. Coyote said: "Why is she dead? Let me see what killed her." Then he looked. He did not know what had killed her. Then Coyote started toward the backside of the woman. Coyote looked. He saw her backside. He tore it. He put his finger in. He smelled of it. He said: "It stinks. She has been dead for a long time." Then Coyote went on. The woman lay there. She thought: "Let me go to Coyote; let me marry him." Then the woman started. She got there. She said to Coyote: "Let us go to my tent." She started; she got to her tent. She staid there.

12. Coyote and the Ducks[1]

Coyote with his two children went along. There was a lake. He saw many ducks. He said to his children: "Cry!" The children cried. They cried thus: "My father's brothers-in-law!" Coyote cried thus: "My brothers-in-law!" One Mallard Duck said to his children: "Listen! a manitou is crying." Mallard Duck said: "Go to him (and listen to) what he is talking about." One of them went ashore. He came to Coyote. He said to him: "What do you refer to when you cry?" Coyote said: "Come ashore, all of you!" All the ducks came ashore. He pulled out their feathers. 13. Coyote and Owl[1]

There was a town. A child was crying. It was told: "Don't cry, Owl will take you." The child cried. Owl took it. He put it into a birch-bark basket. Then there were no more children. Coyote said: "I shall cry." At night Coyote cried. He was told: "Don't cry, else Owl will take you." Coyote cried aloud. Owl arrived. He said: "Give me the child." (Coyote) was given to him. (Owl) put him into the birch-bark basket. He carried him away. Owl arrived at his tent. Coyote saw many children dancing. He took gum. He rubbed it on Owl's eyes, and (Owl) was blind. He threw him into the fire. (Owl) was burned entirely. All the children started back to the tents of their parents.

It was a girl. He kept her. The chief lived there, driving game. He skinned a buffalo cow. He started to go back. He took a travois. He started off. He put the meat into it. He started to go back. He came back. That chief did not give any meat to his parents-in-law. The old woman was hungry. The old man's son-in-law did not give him anything to eat. She had another child, a male. She said: "Do not tell the chief that I have given birth." She said to her father: "Early to-morrow shoot a buffalo cow. Don't be afraid of the chief." Early the next day the old man shot a buffalo cow. He killed a cow. (The chief) went out early. He saw the old man skinning. He went in again. He took a bow. He thought: "I will kill that old man." 23. The Frenchman and His Daughters

There lived a Frenchman and his three daughters. He said to them: "You shall do whatever I tell you." The Frenchman went away. There was a stump. He arrived and struck it. It opened, and it was a door. Grizzly Bear came to look, and (the Frenchman) was told: "Come!" The Frenchman entered. He took food. He ate, and after eating he was told: "You will give me your child. I shall marry her." The Frenchman said to the Grizzly Bear: "I will give you my daughter." He went back. He arrived at home. He said to his eldest daughter, he said to her: "I told you, 'Whatever I tell you, that you must do.'" The girl said: "You said so." Her father said to her: "Let us go to-morrow." On the following day the Frenchman went with his daughter. He arrived at the stump. The Frenchman knocked at the stump. The door opened. The Grizzly Bear came out and said to him: "Come in!" The two entered.

24. COYOTE AND OWL[1]

There was a tent far away. Owl was there. When a child cried, its mother said: "Don't cry. Owl may take you!" At night, however, Owl came to the tent and took many children in his bark basket in which awls were standing. With these he killed them. Coyote said: "I shall become a child." Then Coyote became a child. Coyote said: "At night you shall throw me out." At night Coyote was taken and thrown out. He was taken by Owl. Owl started back to his tent. There were many children. They were there in the tent of Owl. At night Coyote said: "To-morrow you will get gum." The following day gum was taken. At night they danced. First Owl danced there. He perspired. Coyote said: "Later on I shall speak." Coyote said: "Throw the gum into the fire." The gum was thrown into the fire. It became hot. Coyote took

"Cook me." The woman said: | "Bring wood." He gathered wood. Then she made | a pit (it was a pit for cooking). The woman pulled out grass. | She took stones. She took wood. Then the Giant lay down. | Then soil was taken. The woman threw it on top. ‖ She set fire to it. Then the Giant said: "Iskuku', iskuku', | iskuku'!" Then the Giant spoke no more. Then he was dead. The woman | started to go back. She said: "Look! I killed the Giant." Enough. |

31. The Two Tsa'kap

There were two Tsa'kap, brother and sister. (The brother) was told: | "Don't go there!" He thought: "I will go there." ‖ He started. He went along. There was a squirrel sitting on a tree. | He shot at it. He did not hit it. He took his manitou arrow and shot | and hit it. He killed it. He watched. There was a lake. Just | in the middle he took off his clothing. He swam. | A little ways out in the water there was a charr. It swallowed him. ‖

There was his sister. The Tsa'kap had disappeared. That woman thought: | "Why is there no Tsa'kap?" The woman started to | the lake. She looked at the fish-line. She pulled it up. | She pulled the charr out of the water. She cut it open. The Tsa'kap spoke (inside). He said: | "Split it." Then she split it. She split the belly. ‖ The Tsa'kap arose. They two, the Tsa'kap brother and sister, went back together | to their tent. She said to him: "Don't go there." He thought: | "I will go." He went. There was a squirrel on a tree. He shot at it. | He did not hit it. He took his manitou arrow and shot. He hit it. | He looked for his arrow. He went along. There was a tent. He entered. ‖ A woman was sitting there. She said to him: "What is it?" He said to her: "I am | looking for my arrow." She said to him: "Let us go! We'll go swinging." | He said to her: "Well." She said to him: "You first." | He sat down. He said to her: "You first." She said to him: "You | first." Then the Tsa'kap swung. (The rope) did not break. ‖ The Tsa'kap went down again. He said to that woman: "Now you | swing!" (The rope) broke, and the woman was dead. | The Tsa'kap went on and arrived at his tent. |

He was told by his sister: "Don't go that way." He started. | He saw a manitou looking for beaver. There were many ‖ manitou people. He said: "Let me take a beaver." He killed it. | He took it. He started back. The Tsa'kap was pursued. He was told: | "Put it down, it belongs to me; you stole it from me." He said: "No; | it is mine." He went home to his tent. He said to his sister: | "Have we no father?" She said to him: "No." He thought: ‖ "Oh, if I had a father!" On the following day he said

33. The Sun[1]

Coyote went along with Chicken Hawk. Coyote said: | "Let us go there far away, where the people are making | the sun." Coyote said first: "I'll be | the sun." (Chicken Hawk said:) "I first." || Coyote said: "No." Then they started. They went along. Chicken Hawk said: | "You shall listen to me." Coyote said: | "What is it?" Chicken Hawk said: "It is where we are going." | Coyote said: "What is it?" (Chicken Hawk said:) "Then we'll stay | over there. There will be grease. When people pass, || they bite off a piece." They arrived there. Chicken Hawk bit off a piece. | "Now you," said Chicken Hawk. Then Chicken Hawk passed. | Then Coyote took it. The grease fell down. | Coyote went rolling along. Then | Coyote started. He went quickly. Chicken Hawk overtook him. || Chicken Hawk said: "Listen to me, what I tell you."[2] Then | he did not speak. They arrived there. Then in the evening Coyote said: | "I first." Chicken Hawk said: "No." Then | they started early. After a little while it was evening. Coyote arrived. | The people said: "Coyote is bad." || After a little while Chicken Hawk said: "Now I, now I myself shall | start." Thus spoke Chicken Hawk. Then the sun rose. | Chicken Hawk was a good sun. Coyote was angry. He thought | he would shoot Chicken Hawk. Coyote's arrow burned. | His arrow and his bow were all burned. He put it down. || The earth was all burned. He started running, and everything was on fire. | He did not know what to do. He came to a trail | and lay down there. The trail did not burn. | Then Coyote said: "I am glad that I am not dead." | Enough. ||

34. Fox and Skunk[3]

Skunk was going along. There was Fox. He carried a | pot.[4] He wanted to sit down. He put down his pot. He went along. | (Skunk) said: "There is nothing I am afraid of." He said: | "The only thing I am afraid of is whistling." Then | he sat down. Fox arose. There was the sound of whistling. || Skunk ran away. Fox broke the pot. | Fox started. Skunk arrived. | He saw that his pot was broken. He cried. He thought | he would kill Fox. Then Skunk started. He saw | a river. He was going to drink. He saw Fox inside || the water. Then he squirted his fluid at him. He became tired. He lay down and | looked up. He saw Fox, being above. Then | he turned around. He thought he would squirt his fluid at him, but Fox shot him. | Enough. |

35. Coyote and Caribou

There were two—(Coyote and) Caribou. Caribou started. Coyote was angry. | He thought he would kill Caribou. Coyote said: | "Why does it take you so long?" Caribou said: "I eat | small grass and I quickly get fat." Coyote killed || Caribou. Coyote came along. He entered | (Caribou's) tent. Caribou was dead. Coyote cried. He said: | "I loved my friend." Enough. |

36. Coyote and Owl[1]

Owl stole children. Coyote said: | "I'll be a child." Coyote cried in the evening. He was told: || "You make a bad noise. Owl may almost take you away." | Coyote was taken. He was thrown out of the doorway. Owl took him along. | He carried him along. He said: "I am Coyote." Owl was told: | "Let us dance!" Coyote and Owl danced. Coyote | killed Owl, who had stolen the children. They started back. || He said: "I killed Owl." Enough. |

37. Coyote and Deer

He went along. He saw Deer. He thought he would kill him. | The wind was blowing and frightened him. He did thus to it. He went on. He stood there holding (in the hand) | his head thus. Coyote said: "Is that your father's war bonnet?" | The thing said: "What is it? Do you forget that you killed me?" || Coyote said: "I thought it was nothing." Enough.[2] |

38. Kissing Dance

The drum is beaten. Men and women dance and kiss one another. In return blankets are given. Another person is kissed and many things are given.

39. Sun Dance

They build a tent to have a Sun dance. The Sun-dance leader is master.

[1] See pp. 20, 37.

[2] This story was not known to my informants. It seems to mean that Coyote intended to kill Deer and in pursuing him was frightened by the wind. It seems that then he shot Deer, and Deer was standing there holding his own head in his hands. He did not recognize it, and asked the Deer: "Is that your father's war bonnet?"

43. Games

Children play, dancing hand in hand in a circle, swinging their hands. Other games are dancing about squatting, and playing blind-man's buff. Toys are made. Some child is caught: if it is a boy, a snake is given to him for a bow; if it is a girl, a snake is given to her for a digging-stick.

44. Hunting on the Plains

Across the mountains they went out on the prairie, but they were afraid of the Piegans. They sang, traveling around there. They were afraid that the Piegans would steal their horses. They did that always when they went on the prairie. They came back when they finished rounding up the buffaloes. Then they stopped.

46. Frog and Chipmunk[1]

Frog was living in a tent, and her granddaughter was Chipmunk. Chipmunk | went around. She looked for everything. Frog said to her granddaughter: | "Don't go that way." Then Chipmunk went about again. She thought: | "What did she mean me to do, that I should not walk there?" Chipmunk || thought: "I will go that way where she told me not | to go." Then she went. She saw Owl. | Owl spoke, and said: "I shall bite the child." | (Chipmunk) was picking partridge berries and rose hips. On account of what had been said she did not move. Owl spoke, and said: "Your mother says we shall go || home."— "My mother died long ago." He said: "Your sister (says) | we shall go home." She said: "My sister died long ago." | He said: "Your mother's sister (says) we shall go home."— | "My mother's sister died long ago." He said to her: "Your father's sister says we shall go home."— | "My father's sister died long ago."— "Your younger sister || says we shall go home."—"My younger sister died long ago." Chipmunk spoke, | and said to Owl: "You look terrible; you have big eyes. | Cover your eyes with your hands, then I'll go along." Owl covered his eyes with his hands. | When Owl had covered his eyes with his hands, Chipmunk began | to run. Owl tried to kill her, and scratched || Chipmunk. Owl looked at his claws, and he licked off the blood that was on his claws. | Then she got back to her grandmother. She said: | "Grandmother, Owl is pursuing me." She said to her granddaughter: "There is no place where I can hide you." | Frog took her granddaughter and put her | in a birch-bark basket. Chipmunk made a noise inside || that basket. Frog thought she would hold her in her mouth, but it was very bad. | Then she took her out of her mouth. There was soup of | rotten bones. She dipped her into it. Then Frog just sat down. | Owl came in. Owl spoke, and said to Frog:[2] | "Did you see the child?" Frog said: "I did not look around. || I did not see her." Owl said: "There are her tracks." | Frog said: "I did not see the child." | Owl said: "Is there no water? I am thirsty." | Frog said: "There is no water." Then Owl said: | "Is there no soup?" Frog said: "There is no fluid. This is || rotten bone." Owl said: "I'll drink of it." Frog said: | "Leave some fluid for me." Then Owl began to drink. | He saw the child was inside. Owl said: | "She is inside; you told me a lie; you said that you had not seen her." Frog spoke, | and said to him: "You shall preserve her bones." Then || Owl bit the child. Then he ate her. dead. | After Frog had cried, she took her bones. She laid them out | and put them together. She carried them to the water. Then she | threw them into the water. Frog went back to her tent. She went in || and sat down. After a while, Chipmunk ran back into the tent | the same way as she had been before. | She was glad. She jumped at her. She embraced her. She said to her: | "I am glad, grandmother, that we meet again." | That is the end. |

47. Coyote and Buffalo[1]

Coyote went along. He found the head of a Buffalo Bull. He picked it up | and threw it away. Then he went on. He went along and | went about and came back the same way, there where he had gone before. He went along | and came back to the place where the head was, at the same place where the || head of the Bull was. It happened three times when he went along. Then he said to it: | "Why, I went here before, this way where you are lying, and you lie in the same place again." | He took a stone and smashed it. He took it and | scattered the pieces about. Then he started. He went and found a flat stone. | He threw his blanket over it. Then he lay down. While he was lying down, || he cried. He said while crying: |

"Their mother Dog,[2] Q!uta'ptsek and Mis·qułó'$_u$wom |
ha ha ho'ya; wes wis wis!" |

He heard noise of running. He arose. He looked around, | and there was nothing. "Oh, I thought I heard running; but it is nothing, || because there are many passers-by who did it." He lay down again. | After a little while he heard noise of running again. He raised | his head quickly. He saw a Bull approaching, | that ran after him. He jumped up quickly. | He started to run. He was pursued. He was out of breath and was tired. || Then Coyote spoke, and said: "Somebody shall help me." | He was told: "It is good, nephew, come to me." | He disappeared inside. Then the Bull arrived. He knew that (Coyote) | was in there. The Bull butted it. It was a stump. He split it in two. | Coyote ran away quickly. He started again. When he had gone a little ways, || he was out of breath again, and he spoke again, saying: "How far are you, | manitou? I am in danger." He was told: "Nephew, come to me, | come in." He saw it was a stone, and then | he disappeared in it. The Bull arrived. He butted it and | broke the stone in two. Coyote jumped up quickly || and jumped away. He went along, and after a short distance | he was out of breath again. Again he spoke: "I am already in danger." | Somebody spoke to him, and he was told: "Come, come to me." | That was a small bush. He disappeared inside. The Bull arrived | and butted it. He missed it. He could not hit || the little bush with his horns. The Bull could just not get it. Coyote said: | "Stop, stop doing this to me! You can not kill me." | The Bull said: "Well, I'll let you go." | Coyote was told: "Now, come!" Then Coyote went near him. |

Coyote said: "I'll fill my pipe. ‖ We will smoke." The Bull said: "It is well. Let us | smoke. What shall we smoke?" Coyote said: | "Let us smoke block tobacco." The Bull said: | "I don't smoke block tobacco." Coyote said: | "What do you smoke?"—"I smoke leaf tobacco." ‖ Coyote said: "It is well. | Let us smoke it. I have some." Then he | filled his pipe. Then they smoked. Coyote said: "It will be this way | in later times, when there will be many people. When they are angry at one another, | they will smoke to make their hearts (feel) good."

The Bull said: ‖ "It is well. I'll tell you what happened to me. | On this road, at the same place where my head lay, | my wife was taken away from me. I had two wives. When I went for my wives, | I came with them to this place. Then people came here, and | I was killed." Coyote said: "Now you will be ‖ my friend. We shall get back your wives." Coyote looked | at the horns of his friend. The points were broken off. He took | his knife and sharpened them. Their points were sharpened again.

He said to him: | "Now let us go." Then the two friends went along. | They saw tents, and Coyote said to his friend: ‖ "I'll stay here. Go on, go and get your wives back." | Then the Bull went to get back his wives. He took them back. | They made war on him. The Bull went back to where Coyote was staying. | Then Coyote arose. He saw his friend coming. | Then Coyote attacked the people. ‖ They saw there were two—the Bull and Coyote. They were afraid of them, and | they left them. Then the friends went along. They were four— | two men and two women. They stopped there. The Bull spoke, | and said to Coyote: "Look at these my two wives! | Which one do you want to take? Then I will eat her. I am hungry." The | Cow arrived. As she walked along, Coyote shot her. | He killed her. There she lay. A little ways off there was a flat stone. | He sat down on the flat stone. He sat there and ‖ began to cry. He cried for his wife whom he had killed.

After a little while | many wolves arrived. They ate at once | what he had killed. Coyote thought he would stand up, but he stuck (to the stone). | He tried to get up, but he couldn't get off. | Then the wolves ate the Cow. They ate it all. ‖ Nothing was left. Coyote just got up. He arose. His backside came off from the stone. | Coyote said: "Let me stick on, | let me stick on!"

He went there, and there were only bones. | He thought: "Well, I will break the bones." He piled | the bones together, and he was about to break them. He was told: "Nephew, ‖ I do not allow you to break bones." He said: "That is so." | He looked, and there was Badger. He was told: "I'll break the bones." | He was told: "You shall hold my tail." | Then he held (Badger's) tail. He was told: "Don't hold on too tightly, | you will badger my tail." He did so. He did not hold the tail tightly. ‖ Badger Woman took the bladder and put | the marrow into it. It was a big, round piece of marrow. Coyote was told: | "I shall eat that much," and (Badger) passed her hands close to her mouth. | Coyote also said: "I'll eat that much." Then Badger | ran away quickly, carrying the marrow. Coyote pursued her. ‖ He ran after her. Badger was eating all the time. When she had finished, | she threw back the bladder. Coyote was told: | "I suppose you want that." Badger went off. Coyote took | his bladder. He licked it. It was greasy. |

Coyote was standing there. There were only the remains of broken bones. ‖ He thought: "I will pile them together. I will pound them to pieces." He | sat down. Coyote began to pound. He was told: "Nephew, I won't | allow you to break bones." He saw two women. They were | two birds.[1] He was told: "We will pound it. | Meanwhile go and get something that you may ‖ use for a spoon. When you see that there is a fire, | come back." Coyote started. He took a root out of the ground, | pounded it, and dried it. Coyote staid there. | Then he saw a large fire. He went back, and | when he got back, nothing was left. He looked up the tree, ‖ and there was one of the birds. The other one was on another tree. | One carried the grease; the other one, | the chopped bone. He had nothing to eat of the game he had killed. Enough. |

48. The Animals and the Sun

There was a town. A chief gave his commands. He said: "Who | will be the Sun?" Then they began to talk about it. One of them was | told: "You shall be the Sun." After this one had been told | that he was to be the Sun, all heard about what ‖ was to be done. Those who were told to be the Sun went. | The name (of this one) was Raven. Then he started. | It became dark. On the following morning they watched for him to come up. | He came up. It was not bright enough when | he came up. The day was always blackish. ‖ It was always like evening. The Sun came back. | They said: "This way is bad. It is always | blackish." They said that he could not be it. | Another one was looked for. Chicken Hawk was sent. | It grew dark. Then Chicken Hawk started. On the following morning he went ‖ up. When he went up higher, the world looked yellow. | It was always like that. He went down. | In the evening the Sun came back. They said: "You can not be it. | It looks like bad weather."[1] They assembled and talked it over again. Coyote said: | "I will be it." They said: "Well." Coyote was about ‖ to start. Coyote started. At night | they slept. On the following morning Coyote went up. | When he went up, it began to be hot. It was fairly warm, and | then it was noon and the people cooked food. The Sun spoke, and | said: "Will there be any left for me?" It was heard ‖ what he said, and they left food for him. Even when they went into | the shade, it was warm. The children began to cry, | for the Sun burned them. They went to the water, and they thought | it would be good, but the water was hot. It was the same | when the Sun went down. It became warmer and warmer until ‖ sunset. When it was dark, they felt well. They had almost | been burned to death. Coyote came back. He was told: "You can not be it; | you are bad. You were too hot." |

There was one woman with two children. They said: "We will | go there where they are playing Sun." ‖ The two went. They arrived there, and they were told: "Why do you come?" | They said: "We heard that they play Sun." | They were told: "It is good. You shall go." Then he, | the elder one, started. They slept. The next morning | he went up. In the morning it was coolish. ‖ He went high up, and they always felt comfortable. | At noon it became warm, and when they were in the shade | it felt comfortable. They went swimming, and they felt well. | They felt cool. Then he came down. Then they felt comfortable, | because the Sun was setting. At night the‖ youth came back, and all thought that he should be | the Sun. The youth was told: "You shall be the Sun." | In the evening he came back, because it was given to him | to be the Sun. The other youth, the younger one, | staid there. He was told: "You shall go in ‖ the evening; you shall be the Moon." Then he went off. | It had not been dark long before the Moon went up. | It was always light throughout the night. | On the following morning he came back. He was told: "Your elder brother shall be | the Sun during the day. You shall be‖ the Moon." These two became the heavenly orbs [Suns]. These | two youths were thought to be good, | and they were glad. Then it was decided. |

Coyote was angry. He thought: "I will kill the Sun." | Then he made his bow, and he also had two arrows. ‖ Then he went in the night to the place where the Sun was to come up. | He staid there. On the following morning he took a good seat. | He lay on his stomach. Then he aimed at the right place. | The Sun rose. He aimed well | and was about to shoot. Then his arrow was burned. ‖ It burned quickly, and he threw it away. Then everything was on fire. He ran away. | There was fire on each side where he was going along. | He ran and went into the water. | He was almost burned. He saw a trail and | lay down on it. The fire arrived, and it turned back‖ because there was no grass on the trail. | He was saved. The people saw that the land was burning. | Some one said: "Why is this?" They said: "Coyote is not here; | it must be he who has done it." Coyote said: | "Later generations of people will do this. ‖ When there is a fire, they will lie down on a trail. | Then they will be saved." Then the people said: | "Don't do what Coyote has done. | Later generations shall not | play Sun." Some one said: "Now you know what ‖ to do." Then they were glad. They | scattered. That is the end. |

49. Coyote's Contests

There was a town. Coyote was thinking about (the future). He thought | there would be many generations of people. He thought of | the town where the people had been killed. He said to | his friends:

"Let us go and play with them!" They started. ‖ Coyote was their chief. Woodpecker, Flicker, Hawk, | Chicken Hawk, Duck, and Bluejay, seven of them, went. | They reached the town. They were told: "What do you want?" | (Coyote) said: "We come to play." He was told they would play | at diving. Coyote was told: "Who ‖ will play?" He said: "Duck shall be the one." The | people of the town said: "Our (player) shall be Beaver." | Some one said: "Ready!" Then they went to the shore. | Coyote went there. There on shore was a canoe. | He pulled out the calking, and he said to the little Duck: "I have taken the calking out of this canoe. ‖ When you dive, come up here! You shall | stick your nose up through the hole." Then the two dived, | and many people watched. Whoever | should float dead on the water, he was to lose. Beaver | never lost. Therefore he was selected when any one came to play with them. ‖ He was never beaten. Then they were watched. | The sun was going down. Coyote had said to the little Duck: | "When (you hear) shouting, then Beaver comes up out of the water. | Then you may come up, too." It was almost | sunset. Then at the place where Beaver had dived ‖ bubbles came up; and not long after the bubbles had come up, | he floated on top of the water. Then there was a noise. They were glad | because he had won. Then the little Duck dived back. | He knew that he would win. Then he came up. |

Chief Coyote said: "Now we will go on. ‖ We have won over you." They came to another town, | and they were told: "What do you want?" (Coyote) said: "We will play." | He was told: "What will you play?" He said: "Whatever you | like." He was told: "We will play boxing." | He was told: "Whoever is knocked down, he will lose." ‖ Coyote said to his children: "Who will play?" | Flicker said: "I'll be it." He was told: "No; you will be knocked down." | He said he wanted to be the one. There was | an expert boxer. He could not speak. | Flicker was the younger brother. ‖ The most expert one in the town was Kneecap. Then they met. | They went against each other, those who were to fight. Flicker was struck a hard blow, | and at once he was thrown upward. He was always rolling about, | and lost his senses. He was thrown back, | and he was struck again from below. He was knocked back still farther. Hawk was sitting there, ‖ and saw that his younger brother had almost been killed. | Then he went out of his own body.[1] He went up to Kneecap | and struck him hard. He gave him a hard knock | when he struck him. He went up to him and struck him again. Then he | knocked a piece off from him. Then he knew that he could kill him, and he was given ‖ back to Flicker. It was he again.[1] Then | Flicker fought him down, and that one was killed. | Thus Coyote won again in a bad manner. |

He said: "Now we will go." They went, | and arrived at a town. He was told: "What do you want?" ‖ Coyote said: "We will play." He was told | somebody would play eating. Much food was prepared. | Coyote and his children were told: "Who will play?" | Bluejay said: "I'll be it." Then they went into | the tent. Bluejay sat down and ‖ began to talk of his great-great-grandfathers, who lived long ago, and | those before them. Then he ate and talked. There was a great pile | of food. He had not been talking very long before he had eaten it all. He was still hungry. | Then they won. (Coyote) said: "Enough!" They went along. |

At once they began to quarrel. Coyote said ‖ he would take them through swamps. Coyote was told: "You | may go there alone, for you like them, therefore you say so." Little Duck said: | "We will go through little lakes." He was told: | "You may go alone. You like them, therefore you say so." | Flicker said he would take them through young dry trees. ‖ He was told: "You may go there alone. You like them, therefore | you say so." Woodpecker said he would take them through | thickly wooded places. He was told: "You may go there alone. | You like them, therefore you say so." Hawk said he would | take them through places with scattered trees. Thus they quarreled. ‖ They became angry at one another and separated. That is the end. |

50. The War on the Sky[2]

There was a town. There was Muskrat's brother's widow. He thought | he would marry her. Then she refused him. He was angry and shot her. | The arrow was of a different kind. He made it in a different way, what he used for shooting her. | Then he ran away. He said to his grandmother: "—— — (?)"[3] Then ‖ his face was torn up. Then the dead woman was discovered. | The arrow was not known. They sent for Frog, who (was in the habit of going) all | over the world. They wanted to know where that | arrow came from. Then she (Frog) went into the house where | the arrow was kept. She herself knew that it was her grandson's arrow. ‖ She did not know what to do, because it was her grandson, and she did not want to tell on him. | She spat into her hands and nodded. | They thought there must be a country in the sky, and that there must be a lake. | Some one said they would go on the warpath. One of them | was able to shoot far. He shot upward, and a noise was heard ‖ as the point hit. Then another one shot and | hit the notch of the (first) arrow. Then all of them shot, | but they did not reach down. When Raven put his nose there, | then it reached the ground. When they were going to start, | Wolverene said: "Wait for me. It will take me two days ‖ to put away my things. It will take me two days." He was still | putting away his things when they started. Then Wolverene became angry | because he was left. When they had gone up, he took hold of (the arrows) and | tore them down entirely. They all dropped down. Then the women became angry | at him because they were left alone in the town. They pursued Wolverene, ‖ and he was about to be killed. They pursued Wolverene, and he was out of breath. | He took up his sinews and cut himself to pieces. He changed himself | into a squirrel. He put it under the belt which was | around his waist. Then he went back somewhere, because he could do no more, | being tired. He went around, and some one said: "Here ‖ is Wolverene." He said: "I am not he; I am called | He-who-wants-to-act-differently-from-others-and-who-does-not-care-for-whatever-may-be-done. | I am shooting squirrels."

Now, Muskrat, who had gone up, | started and made a large lake. | He built tents for himself, many tents, although he was only one. ‖ There was a village. Then the people reached the village. They | began to make war. They tore up the tents. When the first one was broken up, | a left-handed man was seen to come out. | They shot (?) him in the stomach. Then, when they tore up another | tent, he came out again in the same clothing that he had worn before. ‖ His tent was broken, and that left-handed man | was shot (?). Then they began to speak, and some one said: "Maybe | he is always the same one." Then it came to be known that he was always the same one; namely, Muskrat. | Some one said: "Stop shooting him—shooting at his stomach." | Then they left him.

Then they started back ‖ to the place where they had come from. There was nothing. (The arrow chain) was broken down. | The manitous did not know how to get down. | The war chief said: "We will wait | at the drinking-place of Thunderbird." They waited for the Thunderbird and | killed him. Then his feathers were taken off. ‖ Then they gave them to every one to be their feathers. | There were two friends, the Bats; and there were | two friends, Golden Eagle and Young Golden Eagle—two of them. Then the good | feathers were laid aside. Some one said: "Don't touch | them, they are for the friends." The Bat friends ‖ nudged each other. They thought they were meant. Then | all the feathers were given out. Then the | two chief friends were given feathers. They went back to | the place where they had come up, and they began to fly down. When the Bat | friends were given feathers, they passed them on. ‖ They thought (the best ones) would be theirs. When (all the feathers) were gone, | they knew they were mistaken. There was nothing for them.

Then | the Bats flew down, spreading out their blankets. | They used them for wings. The Flying Squirrel pulled out | his skin and used it for wings. He used it to fly with. ‖ All the fish threw themselves down. The Sucker was the | only one who was broken to pieces. All tried to restore him, but it could not be done. All the manitous | touched him; and when some one tried to fix him, he put | pieces of his own flesh on. They thought it would cure him, but he was not cured. | There was Sucker's brother's widow. He always wanted her to touch him. ‖ Then she also went to him, and | his brother's widow touched him. Then he | was well again.

Those warriors who were left behind | did not know how to get back. They said: "Being warriors, we shall finally reach the earth (?)." | They were about to start for the place where heaven and earth meet. ‖ They were about to go to war. These were the brothers | Woodpecker. They started back to go down to the place | where they had come down. Then they reached the ground. When they came back, | at Nelson they met the manitous, | and were told: "When you go back, you will see a fish. Don't ‖ touch it, wherever you may stay over night." They were also told: | "Don't stay over night where there are thick trees." Then | they bewitched one another. Woodpecker and his | brothers were going along; and while they were going along, they found a charr drifted ashore. | Woodpecker thought he would kill it. He said to Flicker: "Many things ‖ have been done. Have you a great name, and is it right that you make trouble? (?)" | Flicker was just about to touch the charr when it | went back into the water, and he did not touch it. It happened that the water was rolling in toward the shore, | and without his knowing it he was swallowed | by the Water Monster. Then the other one started and went along. ‖ He came to a place where there were thick woods. It was getting evening, | and he camped there over night. Then, while he was asleep, | a little toad went under his blanket. Woodpecker thought | what he had been told did not mean anything, and he did not mind what was said to him. | Then he went to sleep. The little toad stuck on his body. ‖ It was always like that. At one time the younger brother | Woodpecker died. The Water Monster had killed him. A law had been made | for Woodpecker (?).

He said: "We will go around the mountains." | Then they went hunting. When the food was done, they started to come back | to the lake. They came up and sat down. ‖ Then he saw Nałmu'qtse.[1] Nałmu'qtse was a large | man. He was going about giving names | to the country. He followed this Kutenai River. He saw Woodpecker | and his brothers, and said to them: "O nephews! give me some food." | Woodpecker hated his uncle Nałmu'qtse. ‖ He was angry at him, and took a whetstone, threw it into the fire until | it was red-hot. He took the heart of a Mountain Goat and put | the whetstone into

it. Then he told him to open his mouth. | Then he threw it. Nałmu'qtse knew that he was | angry with him. He nodded his head, and (the whetstone) stood there just alongside of him. ‖ He said: "He'he he'he he'!" He said: | "My brothers are angry with me. I have escaped." | The name of that place was Little Heart.[1] Then he came down the lake and | saw a Water Bird[2] and a Water Ousel. He spoke to them and gave them | food. He said to them: "You will go along each side of the lake. You will say, ‖ 'You are invited, you are invited, you are invited, | you are invited, you are invited.'" They were told: "If you don't come to me, your lake will be dried up." | Then those who went on each side of the lake said so. | Wherever there is a bay here, there they danced. | He said to them: "All the fish shall come ashore to the tent of ‖ Woodpecker to eat (his food)." Then, when he came back, | all the fish came ashore, there at the tent. Woodpecker | was told: "The chief has not come back yet. He will | tell you something." They waited for him, and the fish[3] arrived. | When he arrived, he was given a pipe. Then he, ‖ Woodpecker, and his brothers, smoked. They were all men. | Only one of them was a woman; namely, their younger sister (a bird with yellow breast and gray feathers). | Then the sister herself saw the fish smoking | and moving his eyebrows while he was smoking. | He said: "Where is our grandson?" Then ‖ he moved his eyebrows in this direction. He moved them a little ways. | Then he told them that (the grandson) was on this lake. | He finished telling the news. Then he was told: "Now | I am glad. Now go!" Then the fish went back into the water quickly. | Then he had some food. ‖ The fish is like that. He is red on each side; | that is the meat, the food (that he was given).

Now they made ready to kill | the Water Monster. Woodpecker said: "I'll go into the water; | I'll search for him." Now they saw one person named Long Legs. | He went into the water and said: "I am Long Legs, ‖ I am Long Legs." He was proud of himself. He had not gone | far from the lake shore when he sank down. Next Woodpecker himself went along the lake shore | and went into the water. He searched for him. | Then he saw (the monster). He thought he would kick him dead in the water. He intended to kick him | on the head, but the blow glanced off from the head. ‖ He missed it. Then (the monster) was chased this way along the | other big river. It came back this way by way of Windermere. | It came back to Red Water. It thought it would go along that river, | but it was stabbed by Woodpecker. The monster | escaped again. It was hit on the foot. There was some blood, ‖ and the water turned red. Therefore it is named Red Water. | It came back to Long-Water Bay,[1] and | there it went ashore. It went ashore into a cave under water. There it went in. | Woodpecker gave his war bonnet and his | spear to Flicker, and said to him: "If you see it coming out of the water, ‖ say 'Ahei!'" Woodpecker was ready | to kill the Water Monster. He was told: "You must say this, 'Ahei!' | Then it will be afraid of you, and you will hit it in the right place." Then Woodpecker | stepped into the water. He waited for it. Then | he was told that Flicker was going there. He stood ‖ ready to spear the monster. He said: "Ah! Flicker is waiting to spear it. | He will kill the Water Monster." | Woodpecker had told him differently. He trembled for fear, for | the monster looked fierce. Then he missed it. When | the Water Monster saw him, it said to him, "I shall swallow you." ‖ Then Flicker let go the spear and ran away. |

Then Naɬmú'qtse was told: "Start for | the end of the lake and shut up the water. Don't let it | go through." When he arrived at the end of the lake, | he kicked this mountain[2] and broke a piece off. ‖ Then he made the mud solid with his knees. | Then Woodpecker started in pursuit. Many were pursuing | the monster. Coyote was the fastest one. He caught up with it. | He carried his tomahawk pipe. He caught up with it, and was just about to strike it. | Then the Water Monster looked at him, and said, "I'll swallow you," ‖ and he ran away. Next Fox overtook him and | took the tomahawk pipe. When he caught up to it, | he looked at it, and said: "Ahei! there is no other man like me. I shall be the first | to strike the Water Monster." He hit its head, | killed it, and it was cut to pieces. ‖ Then it was cut open. Then Flicker and Duck | and his wife came out. Duck and | Flicker were white on each side. They washed themselves. Then | Duck and Flicker and Duck's wives, | those who had been swallowed by the Water Monster in their canoe, said ‖ that while they had been in the belly of the Water Monster | they had made a fire with their canoe. They had been told: "Don't | make a big fire; it might melt the fat (of the monster)." Then Flicker | was worn down to his present size. |

Then the ribs on one side of the monster were cut off. They were thrown away ‖ down the river. The one side of the ribs is now a cliff below. | Then the other side was thrown away, there | where it was being cut up. Therefore the cliff is named Standing Rib. | Then its body was cut up and was | scattered about where there are people. ‖

There was a town. One day | two men, brothers, went out hunting. The two brothers were going along. The elder one | saw a bighorn sheep and shot it. He carried it down. Then toward | sunset he became hungry. He thought: "I'll make a fire ‖ and roast a piece of meat. When I have finished eating, I will hang up the meat and dry it." | Then he threw a piece of the bighorn-sheep meat into the fire. When it was cooked, he ate it. | It was without taste. He thought: "I'll cut a piece of my own body and I'll roast it in the fire." | Then he cut a piece off of himself and threw it into the fire. When it was done, | he ate it. It tasted good. He cut off another piece and threw it into the fire and ate it. ‖ After two days he had eaten himself entirely. Only his bones were left. | Then his younger brother went home, and the following morning he thought: "I will go and | look for my elder brother." He started and went along to the place where they had been hunting. | He arrived there and heard a sound. He stood still | and listened. There was a hill. He heard the sound ‖ from that direction. He arrived there and went up. A little ways off | there was a fire. He went there, and he heard his elder brother making that noise. He was | saying: "Oh, I love my brother, and it will take me two days to eat him!" | Then he arrived there. The elder brother saw him and ran after him. | He struck him with his intestines, and threw him down with them and killed him. ‖ Those at home said they ought to look for the brothers. | The elder one's wife started looking for them. The woman | went along. She heard a sound somewhere. She went there, and she saw him from a little ways off | sitting down. He was saying: "Oh, I love | my son! It will take me two days to eat him." The woman went along behind a hill. ‖ Something told her: "Stick sharp stones on your clothing. | He will strike you with his intestines, and the stones will cut them. | Then he will not be able to catch you." Then she stuck | stones on her clothing. She went nearer. He struck her, | and his intestines country. He did not arise when he was going about, | but crawled on hands and feet. It was almost the best way, ‖ for there is water now where he crawled along. Therefore the rivers have that width.[1] | He crawled along, even where there was much water. He saw Woodpecker and | his brothers sitting in a row on the top of a mountain. |

Woodpecker was still angry at Muskrat, who | had lied at the time when the warriors started off, at the time when the warriors went up (to the sky), ‖ and when Wolverene tore their trail, | and they knew that Muskrat had told a lie. When they wished to come down again, | Wolverene had torn the trail, and they could not go down. | They shot the thunderbird, and they were given its feathers and | down. There were none for Woodpecker and his brothers. ‖ Then they got angry. They went to the place | where the sun goes down, and there they came down and returned | to their country. When they saw the people, as they were going home, | they killed all. Then they saw a mountain goat not far from | a lake, and they ate the goat. ‖

They saw below Nałmu'qtse crawling along. | Woodpecker was still angry; and when he saw the old man, | he hated him. He knew that Nałmu'qtse was still giving names | to the country. Then he wished to kill his uncle. He said to him: | "Uncle!" Nałmu'qtse heard his nephew. He said: ‖ "Hai!" He was told: "I'll give you to eat. Maybe you are hungry on account of your | going about and giving names to the land." Nałmu'qtse said: | "Oh, I am glad!" He was told: "Open your mouth." Woodpecker | put a stone into the fire and put | the hot stone into the heart of the mountain goat. Then Nałmu'qtse opened his mouth, ‖ and Woodpecker threw the heart into it. Woodpecker had manitou | power, and Nałmu'qtse was the same way. | When Woodpecker reached him, Nałmu'qtse knew that his nephew was evilly disposed | toward him. He nodded to the heart, and it | fell down on one side. Nałmu'qtse said: "E, ‖ you will be named Little Heart." Even though somebody was angry with him, | he gave names to places, because he was walking about this world | in order to give names. |

(Woodpecker) was told: "Don't sleep where there is a | thick forest." (Nałmu'qtse) turned around, and said also: "Don't touch the ‖ charr while it is rolling in the water." Then Nałmu'qtse crawled along in the water, | and there it was where Flicker was swallowed by the | Water Monster. |

Nałmu'qtse went along. He thought: "I'll stand up for a while. | I'll stretch myself." He stood up and ‖ stretched his back. (I said Nałmu'qtse was large. When | he stood up, his war bonnet touched the sky.) His | war bonnet fell down; and when his hat fell down, |

53. YA.UK^{U}E'$_{I}$KA·M

Well, I'll tell about Chief Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m, | the Kutenai, long ago. |

(a) THE BIRTH OF YA.UK^{U}E'$_{I}$KA·M

Frog was living in a tent. There was her granddaughter, named Young Doe. | Young Doe went picking berries. Frog said to ‖ her granddaughter: "Don't go and drink at the water hole in the ice. | When you come into the house, drink here." For a few days | her granddaughter did so. One day Young Doe was picking berries again. | She came to be thirsty, and thought: "Let me drink | from the water hole." She drank. Then a man put out his hand ‖ to pull her into the water. She thought she would die. She saw, however, there was | a tent where she had been taken into the water. | The man took her and married her. | The name of this man was White Stone. She staid there. | Then her husband went hunting. In the spring of the year she had a child. ‖ Then the child was called Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m. His father and | his mother called him Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m. That man knew that his son would be | a chief, therefore he gave him this name. |

Then White Stone had an elder brother. That man was bad. | He was quick-tempered. He was named Gray Stone. Then among these ‖ brothers, Gray Stone, the one, was always angry; | the other, the younger one, was not angry. He had a strong | mind. Then Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m was like stones striking together (?). | Gray Stone made noise inside. Then when he went around, | Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m was told by his mother: ‖ "Your father's brother, Gray Stone, does not feel good when you are here. toward the door. He was afraid. | Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m was small, two years old. Then he was going to throw something, to throw ‖ sleep into the old woman. Frog was sitting there, and did not sleep. | She became sleepy and lay down. She slept. | Then Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m entered. He began to play. | He knew, for his mother had told him, how she was. He knew the belongings | of his mother. Then he played with them in the evening and went ‖ back to his mother. When he arrived, his mother said to him: "Why do you | come back? You ought to stay with your grandmother." Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m said: | "I was afraid; that old woman looks terrible." | His parents laughed at him. They said to him: "Later you will love her. | All children like that old woman." Frog was asleep. ‖ She arose and saw that the inside of her tent looked strange. | She looked, and she found out a child had been there. She said: | "Oh, my grandchild, my grandchild has arrived, and therefore I slept." |

In the morning Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m started again, and Frog saw | the evidence of a child having been there. "Nobody knows whether ‖ it is my grandson or my granddaughter." Therefore she made a bow and | a little basket. She put them down. She thought: "I was asleep | when he came in. If I should go to sleep again, when | he comes back I'll know what it is." That was the reason why | she made the two kinds of toys. Frog was ‖ sleepy. She lay down and slept. Again | Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m came in. Therefore she went to sleep again. | Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m entered. He looked, and there was the little bow and the little basket. | He ran for the little bow. She had also made two figures of deer (of grass). | Then he took the little bow and went out. He shot ‖ at the figure of the deer. When it was almost evening, | the figure of the deer was torn to pieces. He carried it in again and went back. Frog arose. | She looked at what she had made, and the little basket was hanging there. | The little bow was lying there. It was broken. Then she knew that her grandchild was | a boy. She said: "O grandson, grandson! He must have come while ‖ I was sound asleep." On the following morning she thought: "Even if I do | feel sleepy, I'll not go to sleep." She made a figure of a deer (of grass) and put it down. | She lay down. She thought: "Let me lie down again." There was | Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m. Now, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m was growing up. He thought: | "What shall I do?" Long ago there were no service berries in this world. | There was just one place where there were some. Because it was not long | since Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m was born, therefore he did not know this world. He said: ‖ "Hya! I wish there might be some arrow wood! Then I might make arrows." Long ago | arrows were made of service-berry shoots. There were none. Therefore | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said so. Frog said: "O grandchild, grandchild! | far away there is arrow wood. | Those who go to get arrow wood die there. Grizzly Bear watches the arrow wood. ‖ Whoever goes to get it, is bitten by Grizzly Bear." Then | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m started. He arrived where two Cranes | made a noise when they saw anybody. Then Grizzly Bear knew | that somebody was coming. When the Cranes saw Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m, they wanted | to make noise. He said to them: "Oh, don't tell Grizzly Bear! ‖ When I pass again, then you may tell him." He started again, and saw two | Marmots. They intended to whistle. He said to them: "Don't | talk now! Later on, when I pass again, you may talk." | He started again, and saw two Beavers. They intended to make a noise. | He said to them: "Don't make a noise!" Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m saw ‖ plenty of service berries. He took much arrow wood. | He threw it all over the country. He said: | "By and by there will be many people in this world. It would not be right if service berries were | only in one place in the world." Then there were | service berries in every country. It was he, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m, who did it. ‖

Then he put the arrow wood on his back. He started back, and came to | Beaver. He said to him: "Now tell Grizzly Bear." Then (Beaver) made | a noise. Grizzly Bear heard Beaver. He said: "Yà, yà!—what does it mean? | I hear noise going back." After a little while | the Marmots also made noise, and Grizzly Bear said so again. After a little while ‖ the Cranes made a noise, and Grizzly Bear spoke again. He told his children: | "Go out (to see) what has been done!" His children went out, and | they saw there were no more service-berry bushes. They said: | "There are no more service-berry bushes." Then Grizzly Bear became angry. He sang. | He took his coat. The coat of ‖ Grizzly Bear is a skin. He put it on and became a grizzly bear. | He went out and jumped near his children. The two (children) jumped back. | He said to them: "How do I look?" He was told: "You look terrible." Then Grizzly Bear | went out. He looked at the tracks, and he saw | that it was Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. He had heard that ‖ the youth had grown up and

Stone had become very hot. Grizzly Bear said: | "I'll watch and bite Chief Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m." | Then Grizzly Bear opened his mouth, and Gray Stone | burst from the heat.[1] He flew into the mouth of Grizzly Bear. | Gray Stone went right through him, and came out ‖ at his backside. Then Grizzly Bear fell back. | Gray Stone rolled himself about and said: | "I have soiled my flesh." Thus Grizzly Bear was killed. Then | Grizzly Bear was changed into a grizzly bear. He was not a person | when he started from the tent. Then he changed into a grizzly bear, ‖ and he remained a grizzly bear when Gray Stone had killed him. | He was no longer a man. |

Chief Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m stood there. He thought: "My uncle Gray Stone is skillful. | He killed the grizzly bear. If it had not been for Gray | Stone, Grizzly Bear would have killed me." Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m thought: ‖ "Well, let me see my grandmother Frog. What may she do | if I go back to her tent?" He said: "Well, cut off the head of | the grizzly bear. I'll drag it to my grandmother Frog. What | may she do for me?" Then the head of the grizzly bear and its paws | were cut off. Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m dragged it along. He entered his grandmother's ‖ tent. He said to her: "Grandmother, Grizzly Bear is pursuing me." Frog said: | "O grandson, grandson! what can I do for you? | What am I? Why do you come back to me? | You should go back to your parents. Your uncle | Gray Stone is very skillful. He ought to kill Grizzly Bear." Frog arose. ‖ She sang(?). She took red paint and painted her legs. | She took a sharp flat stone and put it up by the doorway. | She took her hammer and stood ready to strike Grizzly Bear. Frog did not | see the rawhide strap with which Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m was dragging the head. | (The head) was lying in the doorway. When Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m ‖ saw his grandmother ready (to strike), he pulled the strap. | Then the grizzly-bear head dropped down under the door. | Grizzly Bear put his nose into the tent. Then Frog saw | Grizzly Bear put in his head where the flat stone lay. | Almost the whole head of Grizzly Bear came in. Frog thought: ‖ "The head might jump at my grandson," | and she struck the grizzly-bear head. | When Frog was striking it, Ya.ukᵘe′ᵢka·m pulled hard at | the strap and pulled the grizzly-bear head in. Just then Frog | struck it and hit her flat stone. She broke ‖ the flat stone. Then Frog saw that her grandson | was fooling her. She cried because | her grandson had done some damage. Therefore she cried. |

[1] Here the narrator indicated the flying about of the stone by clapping his hands.

Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m staid there. He said: "If there were | feathers, I should feather my arrow." Frog said: "There are ‖ feathers far off. There is a lake, and there are some ducks way out on the lake. | They stay there and do not come ashore. Those who go to get feathers | just pick them up along the shore. | The feathers are there. They come off from the ducks." Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m | started. When he arrived there, he carried ear ornaments. He discovered that his grandmother ‖ had spoken the truth. Way out on the lake were some ducks. | It was a large (body of) water. Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$-ka·m | went to the shore and sat down. He did not know how to get the ducks. | He saw one there swimming not far away; | but many ducks were making a noise with their mouths, playing. ‖ One Duck saw the man | walking along the shore. Then (Ya·uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m) sat down. He was bright red. The Duck had never seen | a man. They always went to get feathers on shore. | Therefore the Duck did not know (what) a man (was). | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said to the one Duck: "Come ashore for a while." ‖ Duck thought: "He might kill me," and did not come ashore. | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said: "Don't be afraid of me, I won't kill | you. I will make you (look) nice. You will be handsome." | Then Duck came ashore. It saw that the youth looked nice. | He said to Duck: "I'll take your feathers. When I have taken them, ‖ I'll pay you for them." Then Duck thought: "This youth | is well dressed. Maybe he will reward me well." | He said: "Well, take them!" Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m | plucked out the feathers of the Duck. | He took them all off. Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m took the ear ornament and stuck it on ‖ where he had plucked off the feathers. He said: "Now | go, swim away!" Then Duck swam away there, | far out to sea. (Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m) said (to Duck): "Well, move your wings!" Then | the Duck stretched out its wings and moved them. | Its feathers looked pretty. Then many ducks saw the man sitting there away off. ‖ That one floating about alone started to swim ashore. | They knew that the man must have called it ashore. | When they saw it coming back, farther out to sea, they saw it spreading its wings. Oh, | they were pretty, ha! When (the Duck) began to swim back, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said to it: | "Go back there to your relatives! They shall come ashore. I'll make them all (look) in the same way ‖ in which I made you." Then, when (the diver[1]) came back | to its relatives after it had been finished by Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m, | it was called Diver. When it arrived back where the many ducks were, | they saw how its feathers were. | It had pretty new ones. Diver said: ‖ "Look at me, how I am!" They said to him: "You look pretty on account of the things that are on | your wings." He was told: "Go on, move your wings!" | Then Diver

He said to the one who brought the meat: | "Give me your bow." He gave it to him. He looked at it. It was almost | good. Then Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m went out. He shot ‖ the Bull Moose, shot it again, and killed it. He said to them: | "Take the meat and the skin. You shall split | this skin. I shall take only one thing. I shall take the sinew." | Then Mouse and his brothers cut it up. | Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m went back, and arrived at his grandmother's (tent). ‖ He staid there. Then he made an arrow. Then it was all finished. |

(f) YA.UK^{U}E'$_{I}$KA·M OBTAINS FLINT

He said: "If I knew where there is some flint, I should get it." | Frog said: "O grandson, grandson! | it is far away where the flint is. The flint is a man. | It is a stone. When a person arrives and intends ‖ to take it, then the stone becomes a man. | Then it can not be taken." Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m thought: "I'll | go after that stone." Then he started, and arrived at | the house, and already the stone had become a man. | When the stone saw him coming, it had changed its form, ‖ and there was another stone there where they get it from, | which is used to hit (the flint). Those who pay | can take the stone. Then it is a stone | from which they get arrow points and knives. For this reason | they pay for it; namely, that ‖ the flint may not transform itself. When they do not pay, it turns into a man | who does not give his flesh. When Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m entered, | the stone had already turned into a man. Flint thought: | "Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m is a chief; he will pay a great deal." | Flint said: "What do you want?" Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said: ‖ "I want flint." Flint said: | "You will pay for it. Then I'll become a stone. | Then you may take me." Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m sat down. | He thought: "I'll fool him." Then he went out. | He went to Diorite,[1] and said to him: "Flint says ‖ you can not break him." Diorite said: "Oh, | Flint lies, I am strong. I break him into big pieces | when I get angry. Why did he say so?" Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went out. | He went back to Flint. He said to him: "Diorite | always says he will break you into big pieces." Flint said: ‖ "Oh, Diorite lies, he can not break me. | When I grease my body, I am strong." Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went out again | and came to Diorite. He said to him: "Flint | says you can not break him. He says you are lying. When he | greases himself, then he is strong." Diorite said: ‖ "Go back and tell him that I'll fight with him." | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went out again and said to Flint: "Diorite says | you shall fight with him." Then Diorite took his knife, | and also Flint. They said: "Well, | let us fight!" They attacked each other and struck each other. ‖ Oh, Flint lost. Big pieces of stone were coming off from him. | Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m took the flint and diorite. | He had much because they were fighting. Then | he took the flint and diorite and scattered them over | this world. He said: "Let flint and ‖ diorite occur all over this world. For a long time people will be | here in this world. 54. COYOTE AND YA.UK^{U}E′$_{I}$KA·M

(a) COYOTE AND THE FAT[1]

Coyote went along with Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said, | he said to Coyote: "Fat is hanging there. | They bite that fat once." Then they got there. | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m bit off a piece. Then he started. Coyote arrived ‖ and bit off once. Then he went on. Then he swallowed. | It tasted good, and he wanted more. He did not tell | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. Coyote turned back. He came back to where | the fat was hanging. Then he ate of it. The fat fell down. | It was steep where the fat was hanging. When it fell, ‖ it began to roll. Then Coyote ran after it. He bit a piece off | and swallowed it. He saw that the fat was about to roll into the water | where it was deep. Then he ran after it and bit off another piece. He put it down with his mouth, | ran after it, and bit off another piece, and he put it down with his mouth. Then | the fat fell into the water and sank. Coyote remained there. ‖ He thought he would go back and eat | what he had bitten off. Then Coyote started back. He arrived | where he had put down the fat with his mouth. There was no fat. It had become | a white stone. Then Coyote stood there. | He wanted to swallow the fat which was in the water. He thought: ‖ "Let me heat stones." Then he did so. When they were red-hot, | he took them with sticks to where the fat was in the water. |

Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m was going along. He looked back, and he saw there was no | Coyote. He thought Coyote was not acting right. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went back. | He came to where the fat had been hanging. There was no ‖ fat. It was steep there. He saw the | tracks of Coyote going down, and also the fat | and the tracks going along with it. Then he started down. Way below he saw | a fire. He saw Coyote, who was there. | He went down. He saw him carrying the stones with sticks ‖ to the place where the fat was in the water. A piece of the fat came up to the top of the water. | Coyote took a mouthful of the fat. | When Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m arrived, Coyote did not see him. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m saw | his friend suffering. He said to him: | "Why did you do that?" Coyote was scared. ‖ He said it tasted good. He was told: "I told you | they take just one bite." Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m took | a pole. He fastened a knife to it. He speared | the fat. Then the fat was broken up. | The fat came to the top of the water. Then Coyote was told: ‖ "Now eat all." Then Coyote took | the fat ashore. |

Then they started to where they were going. They were going along. | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said, he said to Coyote: "A child is hanging in a cradle. | The child is crying. One does not listen to it. ‖ Don't listen to it!" Then they arrived there. Coyote heard | the child crying. Then, when Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m arrived, | he went past. He did not look at the child. When | Coyote arrived, he also did not look at the child, and went past; | but he had not gone past far when he took pity on the child. ‖ He turned back and arrived there. He put his finger into the child's mouth. | The child sucked his fingers and | found them nice. The child did not cry. Then his hand began to go into the mouth, | and he knew that the child was going to swallow him. | He pulled at his arm, but could not pull it out. ‖

Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m knew it. He looked back, and | his friend Coyote was not there. The child was not crying. | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m turned back, and he came to the child | which was swallowing Coyote. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m took | his knife and stabbed the child's head with it.‖ Then the child was dead. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m took | Coyote's arm. There was no flesh on Coyote's arm. Coyote saw | that it was no child, but a giant. | Then the friends went on. One of them had no flesh on his arm. |

The friends were going along. Coyote was told: "The way where we ‖ are going along you will hear birds. Do | not listen to them." Then they went along. Then | they heard the birds. They made a noise. | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went past, and also Coyote. He did not | listen to the birds that made a noise. ‖ Coyote said: "I am not listening to you, but łāko′łsak, ko′łsak, | ko′łsak!" When Coyote said so, the friends, without knowing it, | were already raised from the ground. They were going up. | Then they arrived there where the birds were. They had gone into | their nest. These were two young thunderbirds. Both ‖ friends went in, Coyote and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. Then | they staid there. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said to the children: | "Where is the sun when your parents come back?" One of them said: | "It is almost evening when the one comes back, and it is evening | when the other comes back. They look terrible." It was ‖ on rocks on one side of the mountain, and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said | to his friend: "Listen to me! If you do not | listen to me, we shall die. You know |

they look terrible. When one of them arrives, he will say, | 'I am glad, now my children have something to eat.'" ‖ He knew that Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m was chief. | Therefore he said that he was glad that his children killed him (?). Now it began to rain. | The Thunderbird made a noise. Then they saw the Thunderbird flying home. | Thunderbird said: "I am glad, now | I have something to eat for my children." (I forgot something. ‖ Coyote was told that when the Thunderbird would say he was glad, | he would say, "Who is tired from walking? I shall take the marrow out of his leg." | Coyote was told: "When the Thunderbird says this to us, | get up and say, 'I don't get tired, | I don't get tired; my younger brother always gets tired because ‖ he is shaped badly.'") Then Coyote sat down again. | Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m was told: "Stretch your leg this way, I will pull out | the marrow with my mouth." Then Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m stretched out his leg. Then | Thunderbird put his mouth there, and it was just as if Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m had no more marrow. | Then (Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m) threw his spear and stabbed ‖ the Thunderbird with it in the nape of the neck. He killed the Thunderbird, who | broke his nest while he was falling down. Then | he was there. The two children were told: "When your father comes, | and if he says, 'Why is our nest broken?' | tell him: 'That happened when they came up.'" ‖ The two manitous were sitting down in the place that was broken. It was not | long before it began to rain again, and the Thunderbird made a noise again. | Then the Thunderbird flew back; and this one | spoke in the same way as the other one had spoken. The Thunderbird said: "Who | is tired from walking? I shall pull out the marrow from his leg." Coyote arose ‖ and said this. He said the same as before. He danced and said: | "I don't get tired from walking, I don't get tired from walking; my younger brother always gets tired | because he is badly shaped." Then Coyote sat down again. | Thunderbird said: "Stretch your leg this way, I will pull the marrow out of it." | Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m stretched out his leg ‖ the way he had done before, and his marrow was as it had been before. | He threw his spear at him and killed him. |

Coyote." Coyote sat on the bird's back. | He sat on the back of the other one, and he also flew up. | Then he shouted again, and he flew back down to | the ground. The two friends, Coyote (and Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m) were glad. He said to the (Thunderbird): | "Don't be angry with the people. ‖ You may scare whoever lies about you." That was Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m's prayer. | Then there were no more thunderbirds. That is the reason | why they do not kill any one now. The thunderbirds only make a noise. |

(d) THE ANIMALS MAKE THE SUN

The friends went along. The way the friends Coyote (and Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m) were going along | they heard that the sun was being made. Then ‖ they started. He was to be the sun. Perhaps the one who was to be taken | would be the sun. Therefore the two went on together. | Some one was to be the sun. The one who was good was to be taken. | He was to be the sun. Then they arrived at that town. | They were told: "To-morrow you will start." ‖ They meant Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m. Then night came. Early in the morning Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m started. | They waited for him, and he went up. | The sun was red. Because Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m | always painted his clothing with ochre, | therefore his shadow was bright red. It was not hot. It was good. When ‖ he came back, he was told: "You are good. There is only one thing, everything | is entirely red. Your red paint has done it." | Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m could not do it because he was | bright red. |

Then Coyote was told: "To-morrow you shall go." Then ‖ they slept. Early in the morning Coyote started. Then | he went on. At once it was hot. | At noon it was very hot. Shade was made, but | it was always hot. The children were put into the water of the river, | but the water burned them. The water was entirely hot. Even ‖ cold water was hot. Then the Sun always talked. | When Coyote saw a child crying, | he said: "Put it into cold water;" and when he saw | the people eating, he said: "You will give me something to eat, something must be left for me. | I shall eat in the evening when I return." Then the Sun ‖ told everything that was being done. Then | the chief was angry. Coyote said: "Somebody stole | a woman, also the man and the woman catch each other." Then | it was evening; and when the sun had almost gone down, it remained | always hot. At night Coyote came back. Then he went to ‖ where they were eating. He went there to eat | what was left. He said it should be left for him. |

(e) THE LYNX CHILDREN

The two young Lynxes (Short Faces) arrived. There was the tent of Lynx. | His wife had two children, twins. Lynx started | to look for soup. His wife was to drink it in order to get ‖ milk. He arrived where the salmon were. | Lynx looked for them. One day he got one. | He ate it all. He staid there another night. On the following day he looked again, | and he got one more. He was there a long time, but he kept nothing | because he ate it at once. Then the two children grew up. ‖ One of them said to his mother: "Who is our father?" His mother said: | "Your father went that way." He said to his mother: "What | is he looking for?" His mother said: "He is looking for salmon for you, | but he did not come back." The two children listened, | and went together where somebody was to be the sun. ‖ The children said: "We will go, we shall be the sun." | Then they started. They went. They saw a lake. | There was an old man. He was looking for fish. | They knew it was their father. He was poor. They said to him: | "What are you here for?" Lynx said, he said to them: ‖ "Long ago I had two children. Then I started | to look for soup, which my wife was to drink to get milk | for my children. I can not kill them." He was told by the youths: | "Well, say that again." Lynx said: "I | raise the water with you." Then the two youths saw the water rising. ‖ Lynx said: "Let the water go down with you." And | the water went down. Then the two youths saw | many salmon. They took sticks and | killed the salmon. They saw their father | going after them. He went after one to kill it, and they laughed at him. ‖ Lynx looked at the pile of salmon. He was told: | "Now you try!" Then he knew it. He ran after them. | He was glad. He knew they were his children. He was told: "We are going | where they are playing sun. You | go back to your wife." ‖

they were not perspiring any more. | When they were perspiring, they swam in the water, and they stopped perspiring. | The water was always cool. The Sun did not talk. Then, | when he went down, it was not warm. Then ‖ he went down, and it was not hot. After some time | he went down. Some time passed, and it became dark. | Then the youth came back. The chief said: | "The Sun is good. He shall be the Sun." The other one was told: | "You shall go at night." He was to be ‖ the Moon. Then it was dark. Then the other | young Lynx started. He went up, and | the Moon shone brightly. Almost everything could be seen | by the Moon. They could almost recognize things at a distance. | Then the Moon was good, and ‖ he also was taken. He was to be the Moon. |

Early the next day Coyote started. | He was angry at the Sun, because the chief had rejected him. | He arrived at the place where the Sun rises. He staid there, | aiming at the Sun. Then, ‖ when he saw the Sun coming up, he was angry. Then (the Sun) | was angry with him, and made his arrow burn. (Coyote) saw that | his arrow was burning. Then he threw away his arrow and his | bow. Then he ran, after he had thrown away | his bow and his arrow. Then the ground began to burn, and ‖ the fire pursued him. He saw that | the fire had almost caught up with him. He saw there was a trail. | Then he lay down quickly, and his blanket was burned over, but | he could not burn, and the fire went by him. | Therefore the trails do not burn. ‖ Then the two young Lynxes were Sun and Moon. |

It is all finished. |

55. The People Try to Kill Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m

Now I will talk more about Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m, how he | was killed and came to life again. |

There was a village, and there was the tent of Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. | At one time the people became angry at him. He was now ‖ a full-grown man, and he knew that he would be killed. He thought: | "Don't let me be afraid. Don't let me be angry at my people, only | at those bad things that I have killed." The people were afraid of him, | and did not know what to do with him. Then they killed him | and threw him into the river. The people were glad ‖ because they had killed Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. Then they all broke camp. | Crane was told: "You shall drag a young tree. | You shall cover our tracks." Then they started. It was | winter time, and they made tracks on the snow.

A few days after they had broken camp | in winter, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m was down below. The people did not know ‖ that Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m's mother had gone | down into the water, and that Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m was born there | and had come from the water. Now, when they had thrown Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m | into the water in winter, then the fish ate him | because he was dead. Therefore the fish did so. ‖ They ate up his body. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m knew at once that the fish | were eating of his feet, and he kicked them. He said: | "Why are you eating me?" The fish said to him: "We are | not angry at you. Why do you kick us? | We are restoring you." Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m knew himself.[1] ‖ The fishes said to him: "Go ashore! You shall go. | The people went in that direction. | Don't think that it is a long time since they broke camp. | Crane dragged a young tree along to cover their tracks. They thought you would not know which way they went." | Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went ashore to the village site. He looked at it ‖ and saw which way they had gone. He started. After about | three or four days he saw a village site. He saw that there was | some fire left at the village site. He knew that they had started from there early in the morning. | He started and went along. He heard Crane | singing. He reached him, and said to him: "What are you doing ‖ with that young tree?" Crane said: "Several days ago | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m was killed and was thrown into the water. We are afraid he may | come back to life, and he will go the way we are going and will kill everybody. | I have been told to drag along this young tree, so that, if he should come back to life, | he may not recognize the trail." Then (Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m) knocked ‖ Crane down. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m went on, and reached | Crane's wife. Then he knocked her down. He started, and saw | somebody going along. He reached that person, and saw that it was his sister-in-law. | She went along crying. She said: "My brother-in-law Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m used to take me along this way. | The people were afraid of him, ‖ and the other day they killed him. Now I am poor. I am hungry, | for the people are not afraid of him. My husband's brother is no more." | She carried her child on her back. Her child's name was Duck.[2] | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m poked the child with a stick. The child looked at him | and saw him; and Duck said to his mother: ‖ "Uncle Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m is here." Then the mother of Duck turned around and looked. | There was a tree, and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m had gone behind it | when his sister-in-law looked at him. There was nothing there. The woman thought | her child had told a lie. She struck him. She said to him: "Oh, | don't you know how I feel because my brother-in-law has been killed? ‖ The people make us suffer." | She was crying while she was naming Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m; | and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m

did the same thing to the child; and the woman did the same again, she struck her child. Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said: "Why do you | do that to the child? You hurt him." The mother of Duck turned round quickly, ‖ and it was true what her son had said. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m had arrived | and had come back to life. Then the woman said: | "I am glad that you arrived. We are poor. | When your brother kills game, they take it away from him. When I go along | and put up my tent, it is taken away from me; ‖ and when I go to another place and make my tent and finish it, | it is taken away again. Then it is dark and I have no tent. | When the hunters come back and bring much deer meat, | your brother alone has not any, for they take away all | the deer he kills. Then in the evening we are hungry. When the chief defecates, ‖ they call Duck, and he must rub him | with his head." Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said: "Now | go on! When you get there, make your tent, | and if any one wants to take the place that you have arranged, strike him; | and put flint on the head of Duck." ‖ He said to him: "When the chief calls you, and when he tells you | to rub him with your head, then hit him with your head." | Then Duck and his mother started. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m started | and went along where the snow was trodden down. He saw his younger brother. | He said to him: "Don't you kill any game?" He said: "I have killed some, ‖ but it was taken away from me; and I went hunting again, but it is like that always. | If I kill game, it is taken away from me. Even if it is much, it is all taken away from me. | Then in the evening, when I get home, I and my wife and child are hungry. | I am poor." Then Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said to his brother: | "Go on; look for deer! and ‖ if you kill it and some one tries to take it away from you, go after him | and strike him, and say: 'Don't take it. If you try | to take it, I'll shoot you.'" Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m said: | "I shall not shoot deer. Later on in the morning | I'll shoot some." Then the man started and killed ‖ a deer. Somebody went up to him and intended to take it. He went after him | and struck him with a stick. He said to him: "If | you try to take what I kill, I'll kill you. | You have killed my elder brother; now I'll get angry with you." | Then they were afraid of what he had done. When Duck and his mother arrived, ‖ she cleaned a place for their tent; and when she had finished, | she got firewood. Then they wanted to take it away from her, | but she went after them and struck them with her ax. | (In former times the people had for their axes | stone hammers and antler wedges, which they used for splitting trees.) ‖ The people were afraid, for she had not done before as she did now; therefore they were afraid of her. | It was almost evening when her husband arrived. went out. | He called Duck and said to him: "Duck, ‖ I am cold." Duck went out and hit | the chief with his head. He said: "Stop, | stop! It hurts me. Something must be on your head." | Duck did not mind it. Then the chief fell down. | Duck had killed him. Thus three were killed by Duck and his uncle ‖ —Crane and his wife were killed, | and the chief was killed. They went there and looked, and there was | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. They knew he had arrived. They talked to one another, | and they said to one another: "Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m has arrived. He has come back to life. | That is the reason why Duck and his parents have done so, for they were angry." Then‖ they were more afraid of Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. He was a great chief | in the town. |

Now I have finished telling what | Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m did long ago. |

56. Coyote and Dog

(a) Coyote misses the deer

Coyote lived in a tent. His wife was Dog. It was | winter time. Dog and her children with her went out | for fuel. There was a stump. She chopped it down. For a long time | a deer used to have a hole there in the stump that Dog chopped down. ‖ The deer was hit when it fell. There was its hole. It was broken. | The deer jumped out quickly. There was snow on the ground, and Dog followed the deer. | She caught up with it and caught it by the tail. She said to her children: | "Go and get your parent. He shall shoot it." | The two children started to run. One was named ‖ Misqoło′wum; the other one was named Q!ota′ptsek!. Misqoło′wum | was a boy; Q!ota′ptsek! was a girl. They arrived | at their tent and spoke to their father. They said: "Mother says you should come | and take the deer." Coyote ran out quickly. | He split a little tree[1] and he broke in two a bush.[2] ‖ He went in again and pulled off quickly his hair band. | He went there. He spilled rose hips, which were all the food that they had. | He ate them. Then he made a bow, and he quickly made two arrows | out of the bush.[2] Then he started. He got there, and his wife stood there | holding the tail. He had snowshoes on his feet. There was much snow where ‖ his wife was holding the deer. First he tramped down the snow in front of her, and | said to her: "Now let go!" Then Dog | let go of the deer. The deer was running in the deep snow. Coyote shot. | Just then (the deer) broke through the snow and fell. The arrow went over

it. Then he had one more arrow, | and he shot again. Just then (the deer) stood right on the snow, and the arrow went under it. ‖ Coyote had no more arrows. Then the deer | left, and it escaped from Coyote. There stood | Dog. She was hungry. Coyote pulled off the bowstring. | He struck the deer with his bow stave. | He again used the bowstring as his hair band. Then the deer ran along. ‖ He was without a bow with which to do | anything. |

He said to Dog: "Take the children along." | What should his wife and his children go to get? | Dog and her children were tired. She had an ax ‖ and a hammer, with which she chopped the wood. | It was left there. She went back to her house. When she came back, she looked for food, | and there were no more rose hips. She said to her children: "How does it happen that all our food is gone?" | She was told: "Our parent did it." Then | they moved camp. They were hungry because they had nothing to eat, the deer having been saved ‖ and the rose hips also having been eaten. Then they had | nothing to eat. |

(b) COYOTE ROASTS SHREWS

They started, going away. She carried her parflèche. Q!ota'-ptsek! | was on top of it. Then Coyote started, and | went the way in which the deer tracks went. Coyote went along. Then ‖ his snowshoes were heavy. He looked, and saw that there were many | shrews. Therefore his snowshoes were heavy. | He took a stick. He shook his snowshoes. There were a great many. | When he went on on his snowshoes, there were many more, and he shook them again. | There was a great pile. There was a stump. He threw it down, and ‖ it broke. He started a fire. Then he roasted the shrews. There was a pile of them, | and he added more to them. Then he ate. |

Dog was going along. She walked through soft snow. | Q!ota'ptsek! said, because her mother carried her she could see well, | she said to her elder brother: "There our father is eating near a fire." ‖ (I made a mistake. It was Q!ota'ptsek! who | was going along, and it was Misqoło'wum who was being carried by his mother.) He said | to his sister: "Our parent is eating by the fire." | Dog was going along. The child thought it was | the deer that his father pursued, for the stump looked red. Therefore he said so. ‖ He thought the ground was bloody. They went near. | The two children talked, being happy. When they came near, | Dog looked that way. She saw that her children had told the truth. | The ground was bloody. Now they were almost there. | Dog was glad, for she was hungry. She had nothing to eat. ‖ The children did not say any more. When they arrived, she looked again, and she saw that it was not | meat

what she thought was bloody, but it was a stump. | She stopped and almost fainted from hunger. It was so because she was hungry. | She saw that it was a pile of shrews. | Coyote looked at her. Then Coyote rubbed [it on] his hair. ‖ She was told: "Why are you standing about there? You ought to have put down | the child. Eat with them those that are spread out there. They will be | for you and the children. This will be mine." Dog took what she carried | and threw it down. She took it walking about. | She put it on her back. She said to him: "There is another disappointment. I was‖ hungry." |

Then she started. She left Misqoło'wum crying. | Then father and son, Misqoło'wum, were left behind. | Q!ota'ptsek! and his mother left him. Misqoło'wum was a boy, | therefore he was given to Coyote. ‖ Q!ota'ptsek! was a girl, therefore | she was taken by her mother. Then Misqoło'wum could not help crying. | He knew that he was left by his mother. Coyote took his son | and said to him "Don't cry! As your mother is going along there, | if she does not find anything to eat, she will come back." She had nothing ‖ to eat, therefore he said so. What should she have to eat? Then | he and his son ate shrews. They finished eating together. He put the boy on his back | and started. He went along. | quickly. He got there. ‖ His son had disappeared. He heard him making noise in the water. | He went there. His legs stuck out. He pulled at them, and took him out. | Then he knocked down the young Beavers. He looked for | the many Beavers, but only the bloody ground was left. | The two young Beavers were all he got. ‖

He made a hole in the ground. Then he made a fire and put the meat into it. | When it was cooked, he took it out. | He put the fat there for his son because it was soft. | He himself, Coyote, was going to eat the meat. | Then they ate. He looked again at his son, and he wished to eat ‖ what his son was eating, who was eating fat. He said to his son: | "Let us change!" He put the meat there and took back (the fat). | Then he ate. He made his son cry. After they had eaten, | Coyote and his son moved camp. |

(d) DEATH OF COYOTE'S SON

He went along. Coyote slipped and fell. ‖ He slid down a long distance until something stopped him. He looked at his son. He laughed at him. | (Coyote) thought: "Let me make my son glad. I'll | slide down on the snow for a little while." Then he slid down. | His son did not laugh aloud. He just smiled. Then (Coyote) thought | he would go back. He thought he would put him again on his back. He touched him ‖ and he saw him. He was frozen to death. | He cried all the time. He said: "There is | nothing that should prevent him from being glad (?)" Then | he threw his things away because his son was dead. He said: "Ah! | This is what people shall do when their relatives die. ‖ Then the dead will not be put into bad condition." After | Coyote had thrown his things away, he started. He went fast. There was nothing | to keep him back. |

(e) COYOTE TRIES TO STEAL THE SUN

He went along, and he came to a town. He entered a tent there. | He sat down. He saw a woman sitting ‖ with her back toward the fire. He saw a child sitting there | which had a big belly. Coyote thought: "The mother is good, | but the child is bad." The child said: "Mother, | this manitou thinks his mother is good, but her child | is bad." He thought: "The child is bad; ‖ it knows my mind." The child said: "Mother, | the manitou thinks this child is bad; it knows my mind." | Coyote thought: "I'll burst his belly by kicking him." | The child said: "The manitou thinks he is bad. | I will burst his belly by kicking him." The woman did not speak. Coyote knew ‖ that it was the tent of a chief. There was another | tent, which was not large. A woman came in | where Coyote was. Coyote looked, and it was his wife. | She said to him: "Why did you say what the child said? | This is your grandson. Where is the child that went with you?" ‖ Coyote fell down crying. He said: | "He froze to death." His wife said: | "My tent is near by. Let us start." Then it was | as he had told his dead son. He told him: "Your mother is going; | but if she has no one to share with her what she eats, she will turn back." Then Dog had no one ‖ to share with her what she ate. Then she turned back. Then Coyote took her back. | He entered Dog's tent. Then | she ate. His wife said to him: "They have | started deer driving." In the evening they will come back. Don't go in. | In the morning they will do it again. Then you may go in. ‖ If you go in in the evening, they will not look at you. | The chief always does that way. He is the Sun." | At night the deer drivers came back. Then all went to | the chief's tent. They piled up the deer. | Then they talked, and they boiled the meat. All the men ‖ went to the tent. Then (the meat) was being boiled. | All the children went there, carrying water where the meat was being boiled. | Coyote always went there. He disobeyed his wife. | He went with the children who were bringing water. | There at the head of the tent he threw down his blanket. They brought in water. ‖ His blanket was taken and was thrown back to the door. | When Coyote took water into the tent, he saw his blanket. The child | near the door always spilled water on it | and cleaned his feet on it. When the meat was done, | it was eaten, but nothing was given to Coyote. ‖ They were passing the food by the place where he was sitting. He stretched his hand out, | but he was told: "It is not for you; it is for the next one." | Another one who was sitting there took it. He was told: "It is not for you; | it is for him, for that child." Then all the meat was gone, | and he did not receive anything to eat. Then all went out, and there was much ‖ food left over. Coyote had nothing left over, because | he was not given anything. Then all went out. I am starving." His wife laughed at him. | She said to him: "You are always like that. ‖ You always disobey me. I told you not | to go in. A man who comes to this town is not given anything to eat. | At a later time, another day, when they do so again, then he may go in. | Then he is given enough to eat. Meat has been brought in | for us to eat. I have boiled it. It is there. ‖ Eat." Then Coyote began to eat. Then | he was satiated and slept. Early Coyote awoke. | He heard a noise. People were saying: "Hu, hu, | hu!" Coyote said when he heard it (the same as) what they said. | He said: "Hu, hu, hu! let me kill two bucks ‖ and red (?) an old grizzly bear with seven young ones." | They heard what Coyote was saying. It was frightful | what he said. "Two bucks and seven | grizzly bears are too heavy. Those will be nine. The people of that town don't carry meat for one another." | Then they started, and Coyote ‖ started, too. They were going along. The chief sat down. Then | behind where the chief was sitting a row of men started. | Coyote got there. He went past the place where | the chief was sitting. Farther ahead he sat down. The people thought: | "Coyote is doing wrong. Only those who are skillful ‖ may sit at the head. Why does Coyote do so?" | Then they all arrived. Sun said: "Go on | to the end of this mountain. Those who go quickly shall do it." | Coyote was meant. Because he had done so, therefore they said it. ‖ Then the chief arose, and Coyote also ‖ arose. Then the chief started. | He started a fire. He carried pitchwood and he started a fire. | They looked at Coyote. He did not carry pitchwood. | They thought Sun would be the only one who would light a fire. | Then Coyote put flicker feathers on his moccasins. ‖ He ran. They looked at him; | and wherever he stepped, a fire started. | The flicker did so. Then Coyote scared them. | Then they looked at Chief Sun. He had not gone far | before Coyote was way over there. Then the deer drivers started ‖ and went along. Coyote was seen coming back already. | He went around in a circle. | The chief had not gone far when Coyote went the same way again. Then a deer was shot | where the fire was, in the circle of fire. Coyote went along, | and saw two bucks. He killed both of them. He went along, ‖ and he saw seven grizzly bears—an old one and young ones. He killed them all | and started back. The men had nothing, and Coyote saw them |

running by. | He had a pile of (game) what he killed. He did not know what to do with it. He said to them: "Evidently you have no game. | You ought to carry some meat home for me." He was told: "We do not ‖ carry meat for one another." Then there was nobody left, and he did not know what to do with it, | with the nine animals. At once he called his manitous. He told those whom he had called: | "Tell me what to do with my game." | They said to him: "You think that they, those who went by, killed nothing. | They blow on it and it becomes small. ‖ Then they put it into their belts." Then Coyote | blew on it, and (the game) became small. Then he put on | the seven bears and the two bucks. He ran back quickly. | They thought Coyote would not come home before night, because he had much game. | They went along, but Coyote was able to run fast. ‖ They were not home yet before he passed them. He got home. He pulled off | what he carried on his belt. He kicked it into the tent, and | it was all big again, and the nine animals were piled up there. | Then Coyote scared them again. |

In the evening they assembled again in the chief's ‖ tent and ate again. Coyote did not go in. They heard | Coyote. There were no other men in the town. | Somewhere Coyote made a noise where the women were. Coyote was afraid; | for when he had gone there the day before, he was not given anything to eat. Coyote entered | his wife's tent, and she said to him: "Why don't you go there ‖ where they are assembled to eat?" He said: "Oh, yesterday I went there, | and they made fun of me." He went to the place where they were assembled. | He went in and staid there. Then they were smoking. | After a long time, in the evening, they went out again. |

Where he was sitting, Coyote saw a skin-drying ‖ frame (?) belonging to his father-in-law. It was pretty. He thought: | "I'll steal it." Then Coyote said: "I can not go out; | I'll sleep here in this house." Then | the Sun was asleep. His father-in-law knew | what he was thinking about, that he was going to steal it. The Sun did not speak. Then, ‖ after a while, in the evening Coyote saw that his father-in-law was asleep. | He arose and took the drying frame and put it under his blanket. | He went out again, started, and went along. | He thought he was far away, and he lay down and went to sleep. | Being tired, Coyote slept there. He woke up and heard‖ people talking. He arose, and he saw that it was | the tent of the Sun. He had gone far, but this happened because he | had taken the drying frame. He said: "Ah! | I long for this drying frame." He hung it up. Then | Coyote went out. In the evening he came in again. They were assembled there. ‖ Then all went out again.

Coyote said: | "I'll sleep here again." He lay down. Then he knew that Sun was asleep. | It was not long before it was night. Then he took the | drying frame. He went out and started. He thought: | "Let me go far away." Then he started. He went along. ‖ He ran. Then in the morning he thought | that he was far away. He lay down. He was tired. Then at once he fell asleep. | He continued to sleep. Then he was awakened by the noise of talking. | He arose, and there he was where he had started from. He took the | drying frame. He said: "What is he trying to do with me?" and hung it up. ‖ His father-in-law, Sun, said to him: "Why are you | doing that? Do you want to go out of this my tent? | If you start here from the inside of my tent, when you lie down there, and if you | think this will be your clothing, then take it and go. | Don't stop at night. Keep on walking ‖ a whole day and a whole night, until morning. | Do not lie down the whole day and the whole night. | Don't stop anywhere until the next night. | Then walk through that night until the morning. Just at noon | you may sit down, if you think that you will sleep. Then it will be good. ‖ You will be out of my tent. Then I shall not take it back." |

Now I have told you all. |

57. Coyote and Grizzly Bear

Coyote went along. There was a hill. He went up, and saw | Grizzly Bear eating there. Coyote thought: "I'll play with him." | He said to him: "Grizzly Bear, Short Tail!" | He hid behind (the hill). Grizzly Bear heard Coyote talking, calling him bad names. ‖ Grizzly Bear thought: "You are sure to say that again." | Grizzly Bear did not look. After a while Coyote looked again | at Grizzly Bear. He said to him: "Grizzly Bear, Left-handed One!" Then | Grizzly Bear knew that Coyote was on the hill calling him. | He pretended to eat again. He was looking without letting Coyote see it. ‖ It was not long before Coyote looked over the hill at Grizzly Bear. | He said to him: "Grizzly Bear, Small Eyes!" Coyote hid again. | Then Grizzly Bear ran. He pursued Coyote. | It was not long before he looked over the hill again to say something | to Grizzly Bear. Coyote said: "Grizzly Bear"—— He stopped quickly in his speech. ‖ Coyote saw that Grizzly Bear was already coming right up to him. | Then Coyote began to run away. | He was pursued by Grizzly Bear. Coyote said: "Things that want to catch each other | do not run fast together." Then Coyote left him behind. | Coyote was going along. He turned in a circle and got up to Grizzly Bear from behind. ‖ Grizzly Bear was going along in the tracks of Coyote. Coyote heard him | panting. He was getting near him. | He thought he would catch up with him on the right side. Then Coyote jumped along his side. | Then he jumped around on the left side of Grizzly Bear. | Coyote went past. Grizzly Bear was going along, and ‖ Coyote did the same again. Grizzly Bear thought: "Now I'll catch | Coyote. I'll bite him." Then Coyote jumped along on the other side. | Then Grizzly Bear turned to the right side quickly | to catch him, but again he could not catch him. Grizzly Bear went along | a short distance, and saw Coyote. He was going along tired. ‖ He overtook him. Then Coyote was looking from one side to the other. | His tongue was lolling. There was a big stone. Coyote thought: "Now | Grizzly Bear will bite me." He chased him around that stone. | Then Grizzly Bear was about to catch him, and | Coyote was out of breath. Coyote fell down there. He lay there ‖ for a time, and thought: "Why doesn't Grizzly Bear bite me?" | Then he felt something on his hands. He looked at it, and saw | that he had his hands in the horns of a buffalo bull. He looked at the Grizzly Bear. | He was standing by his feet. (Coyote) stood up quickly | and ran after him. He spoke to him in the way a bull bellows, and Coyote said: ‖ "Fff!" Then Coyote knew that (Grizzly Bear) was afraid of him. | He pursued him. The way Grizzly Bear had done, that way | Coyote did to him. He also did the same. | Grizzly Bear looked from side to side over his shoulders. There was a river. He started to swim. Coyote put out | one of his hands with the horn where Grizzly Bear was swimming ahead. ‖ He hit him with it. He hit his backside, and he put out the other one | and with it also he hit his backside. | Grizzly Bear swam across there. Coyote sat down. When Grizzly Bear was across, | he looked back. Coyote was sitting down. Coyote said: | "Grizzly Bear, you were going to bite me. ‖ It should be once that that Grizzly Bear bit Coyote." Grizzly Bear did not speak. He was afraid. | It is true, Coyote was never bitten by Grizzly Bear, and | he was helped by his friend Buffalo Bull. Enough. |

It is finished. |

58. Coyote and Fox

Well, I'll tell you about the friends, Coyote and | Fox—what they did long ago. |

Fox | went out. He staid out the whole night. ‖ When it was almost morning, he came back into the tent. Then Coyote arose and | looked at his friend. He was sleeping with his son. | They did so a long time for several months. |

Then Coyote said: "I can tell by his eyes that my son has | manitou power. Now let him go and get the toy." He had heard ‖ that some one had a good toy. Therefore | he said so to his friend Fox. Coyote had given to his son | his own manitou power, and his manitou power was Moonlight-just-touching-the-Ground. | Fox gave his to his son. (It was) Darkness-of-Night. |

Then they started. They went along. After they had gone along for several days, ‖ they came to a town. They arrived there, and they staid at a distance. | The following afternoon they heard | the people talking. They said: "Now | play with your toy." Then they saw | the people coming out—all the men, ‖ women, and children. They all went there a little distance from their tents. | They brought it out. Then they carried it into the camp. | Then they began to shout. They saw how | they began to roll it about. They heard (saw) that the thing they were rolling about had a nice sound. | Then they went for it. They caught up with it and kicked it. ‖ It made a good sound. They ran for it. Only youths who were very fast could catch up with it. | It was pretty and bright. | Some time in the evening they stopped. They took it back | to the farthest tent. At night before it was very dark | Young Coyote said: "Now let us go ‖ and let us take it!" His friend said to him: "No, | they are not yet asleep, they will see us." It was not long before | Young Coyote said: "Now let us go! Let us get it!" | The friend said again: "I said no, the people are not asleep yet." | Then they staid there. After some time ‖ Young Fox knew that it was quiet. All | were asleep. Young Coyote was told: "Now let us go!" | Then it was seen that Young Coyote was asleep. | This happened because he returned early when he was looking for manitou power. Therefore | he slept soundly. He was told: "Don't sleep! Let us go there!" ‖ Then all the people were asleep. Then | they started. They got there to the farthest tent. They entered; and they saw | that, although it was dark, it was easily seen, because the toy looked bright. | They saw two old people asleep in the doorway. | Each held a hammer. ‖ They were to knock down with the hammer whoever came to steal it. | They went in secretly. (The one) went to the place where it was hanging, | took hold of it, and cut the string with which it was hung up. The other one | held the door open.

He fell down crying, | and said: "Hiya', my little son, my little son!" Then Young Fox arrived. | He entered the tent, and he said: "I do not know what has happened, | but I heard that he was taken. | He was seen when they lost sight of me. They said among themselves: 'Don't ‖ kill him! Since you have lost sight of your toy, he shall | become your toy.' Then I went back." |

Then Coyote and his friends lived in the tent. Coyote often said: | "Let us make war on them!" After some time | his friends said to him: "Now let us make war on them! ‖ Probably the people are no longer uneasy." Then the two friends started. | Young Fox was left alone. Because he had the toy, | he was not lonesome. Then the friends reached the town. | They did not go near. The two stopped. | When the sun was going down, they heard talking there in the town. ‖ It was said: "Now go out to play!" It was not | long before they came out. Everything that | used to be done with the hoop when they were going to play with it was done now. | Then his son was taken out. They were all around him. | They saw that his hair was all cut. ‖ He used to have long hair, but now he was changed. Then they kicked him hard. | He started to run, and they pursued him. When they caught up with him, he was kicked again. | Then Coyote pitied him. He said: | "Let us go nearer! Let us take him back!" Fox said: | "Wait, I'll do something!" He made a sign with his head. ‖ Then all of a sudden Young Coyote ran fast. They could not overtake him. | Fox again made a sign with his head, and Young Coyote started again. | They could not catch up with him. He made a turn. | Fox made a quick sign with his head. Then Young Coyote ran their way. | Then all laughed because they could not overtake ‖

Young Coyote. Even the fastest runners could not catch up with him. | Therefore they laughed about it. Young Coyote came along. | They could not catch up with him at all. Then he came to | where the parents were. Fox and his friend arose. | Then it was known that he had taken back his son. They told one another:‖ "Don't look at Coyote and his friend! They are bad. | They might kill us." Then the friends started back. Hiya! they all | cried, because they had no toy in that town. | Coyote and his friend went on. They arrived at home, and | they were glad. ‖

(b) COYOTE GAMBLES WITH SALMON

Then the friends lived in their tent. They had the toy. | The Salmon heard that the friends | Coyote and Fox had the hoop. He started to gamble with them. | He thought he would win the hoop. Salmon was a good | gambler, therefore they started to gamble. Long ago ‖ it was known that Coyote was a good gambler, but he did not keep it up. | Therefore they tried their luck with him; but Fox never gambled. | They thought he was a bad gambler. Then Salmon arrived, | traveling by canoe. They were young men, and one (woman) their sister | went with them. When they arrived, (Salmon) said to Coyote and his friend: "Let us ‖ play!" Coyote said: "What shall we play?" | He was told: "The hiding game (lehal)." Coyote said: | "Well, let us gamble!" Then they made a fire outside, | and they began to gamble. Coyote said: "Don't | let him gamble! Your son and my son shall be partners." Then ‖ they played. It was not long before Coyote lost the game; and | he played again, and Coyote lost. Then | he lost everything. Young Fox and his uncle had lost | the hoop. That is what they wanted to get. Coyote sat down, | and said to Young Fox: "Go to your father ‖ and tell him to give me the thing striped crosswise." Young Fox went. | He said to his father: "Uncle | says you shall give him the thing striped crosswise." Fox thought: "What | does he mean? He did not give me anything. Why should he say that?" He said | to his son: "Go to him and ask him what he means." ‖ He went back, and Coyote was told: "My father says he doesn't know | what you mean." Coyote said: "Oh, how should | he not know it? Go to him and tell him not | to keep it from me because he likes it." The child went back and came to his father. | He said to him: "He says you should not keep it back because you like it, but give it to him, ‖ even if you should like it very much. He wants to bet with it." Then Fox knew (what it was). | Then he gave it to

ing they started. Fox was to paddle, ‖ Young Coyote was to spear (the fish), and the boy was to carry the torch. | Coyote was to remain (in the tent). Coyote was told: | "Don't sleep. Look at the | fire. If you should fall asleep, they will kill you." Then they paddled away. | Fox paddled. Young Coyote was the one to spear ‖ the salmon, and the boy was to hold the torch. | Coyote remained (in the tent) for some time. | Coyote looked out. Coyote was told: | "If you should see a small fire, then come out. Then | we are about to kill one another. For that reason the fire will be thus." ‖ It was not long before he looked out again. Then he saw that the fire | in the canoe was small. Then he knew that they were about to kill | one another. There on each side of the doorway stood an old person. | They were holding a hammer each, ready to strike with it | if any one should want to go there. Then they would strike from each side. When he saw the light in the canoe getting smaller, ‖ he intended to go out. It was not long before | the boy came running in, and said: | "The manitous have killed us!" Coyote thought: | "I shall certainly die. That hammer is terrible. Although only an old woman | is holding it, nevertheless the hammer is made of stone, and she will ‖ kill me with it." Coyote jumped there. He thought: | "I'll fool them!" When that old woman saw that he | was about to go out, then the old people lifted their hammers | to hit him. They both stood with legs apart, ready to strike Coyote. | They were about to knock him down. Then Coyote jumped there. ‖ He stopped quickly. The old people thought | he would jump through between them, and they struck; | but since Coyote stopped quickly, the old people | struck each other right on their heads. They | hit each other and killed each other. Then ‖ Coyote started to go to the place where they had landed. He went there | and got there. Then Fox and Young Coyote paddled ashore. | They were just telling each other: "Certainly the old woman has knocked down | Coyote, therefore he has not come to the shore." | Then Coyote talked, and said: "I am here. The old people have not killed me. ‖ I have made trouble for them." Then he laughed aloud. | He laughed thus: "So, so, so!" Fox knew now | that he had killed the old people, and that he laughed for this reason. He said to him: | "Hurry up! Come aboard! Those who | make war on us are coming." ‖

He was going to attack | Fox and his friends. He thought he would kill them, because he had been beaten ‖ when he had gone to play with them. (I have been all the time making a mistake. | It was Young Coyote who paddled, and Fox | who speared the salmon.) Then they paddled along. | They saw a salmon. Fox knew it was | the youth who had come out the day before. He knew ‖ that he had turned into a salmon. When Fox was ready to throw his spear, | the boy put the torch to the other side. He did this so | that Fox should not hit the salmon, | for the one to be speared was his elder brother. Fox knew what | the boy was doing. He thought: "I'll fool him!" ‖ The fish was coming along on one side, but he pointed the other way. | He said to the youth: "Salmon is coming there." | He fooled him in regard to the side whence it was coming. | The youth turned the torch, and Fox speared him. | When the youth saw that Fox had fooled him, ‖ he said to him: "Don't hit it in the belly; | hit its tail!" The youth thought | the salmon would kill Fox if he should hit its tail, | because then he would upset the canoe. When Fox was told: | "Don't hit its belly," he would not listen, but he hit it ‖ in the belly. The salmon at once turned sideways. | The boy saw that his brother was killed. Then | he stepped on one side of the canoe, fell into the water, | and became a salmon. | Then he went back to his tent and arrived there. Then ‖ he said: "They have killed us." He thought the one remaining might also be killed, | as two had been killed. Then three had been killed.[1] | Then Fox and his friends went on paddling. | The youth who had been killed wore ear ornaments. They cut off his head | and put it into the canoe. He also had a long braid. ‖ (In olden times the people used to do this. When they made war and some one killed | a chief, they cut off his head and took it back to their country.) | Then in the morning Coyote and his son were told: "Don't | look back!" They paddled on. At sunrise | many people from a large camp ‖ came to make war on Fox. Coyote thought: | "They are already paddling after us." He looked back | and said: "A great many are making war on us." | Fox told him: "Why don't you obey me and do | what I tell you? Don't look back!" Then ‖ Coyote and his friends stopped. No matter how hard they tried, | they could not move their canoe. Then the warriors arrived. | (Fox) took the head of the youth. | He lifted it up and said to them: "Is this what you want?" He put it into the water. | It sank. Again they paddled, and their canoe moved right away. ‖ They were saved. Then the crowd stopped | on the water when the head of the youth sank. | Fox went on. They did not look back again. |

(f) TURTLE RESCUES THE SALMON HEAD

Then the one who was the father of the youth said: "Who | will get this head of my son? I have one more child, ‖ a daughter. He shall marry her." Then all the people | dived. They went into the water, but could not get it. Just at | noon Turtle—a young man called | Turtle—said: "I'll dive. You shall paddle back to the shore to your tents. | To-morrow, just at noon, I'll come out of the water; | then paddle back here." Then they went back. ‖ On the following day, just at noon, they said to one another: | "Turtle was to come up at this time. Go back to him." Then | they all paddled back and waited for him. Just at noon | he emerged, carrying the head of the youth. | Then he took the girl. For several days she was ‖ his wife. For one or two days she did not talk. Then | he teased her to make her talk, but she wouldn't talk with him. Then | he tickled her, and she laughed. Her mouth had a bad smell. | He left her. |

Now, I have told you about the Salmon. |

59. COYOTE AND THE DUCKS[1]

Well, I'll tell you about Coyote and his children |—what they did, a long time ago, to the Ducks. |

Coyote was going along, carrying his son. He went down to a lake. | It is named Where-they-fight-with-Broken-Pieces-of-Wood in-the-Lake. ‖ Coyote knew that far away there were many | Ducks. He was hungry for them, but had no way of getting at them. He thought: | "I'll fool the Ducks." He said to his son: "Go on; | shout, 'O my father's brothers-in-law!'" Then the child | said what his father had told him. Then Coyote also ‖ cried. He shouted: "O my brothers-in-law! O my brothers-in-law!" Then | one Duck was swimming farther away on the water. He said | to his children: "Wait; listen [to] what the manitous | are saying!" There were many Ducks. They listened | to what the manitous were crying.

Some one said: "Go ashore ‖ and ask him something." Then one of them went ashore. | He said to him: "Why do you say that?" Coyote said: | "We wanted you. You are playing nicely. | We are not able to go on the water." The Duck started, and said: | "They are wishing for us. They want to have our way of playing." Then ‖ one of them said: "Go ashore. Take them | and play with them." Then the Ducks went ashore. They made it so that | Coyote and his son should not sink, but they did not give them | their feathers. Coyote and his son were told: "Now | let us go together!" Then they went out together—Coyote, his son, and the Ducks. ‖ Then they played with the Ducks. While they were at play, all the Ducks | flew along to another lake. They flew there. | Coyote went ashore overland. When he came to the water, he swam, | but the Ducks flew again to the other lake. | All at once Coyote laid down a rule. He said to them: ‖ "It is bad for you to fly away. Don't do it any more. | Swim there through the middle of the water. | Arrange yourselves in a line right across, and all of you dive together." Then | the Ducks said to one another: "It is good, what the manitou says. | Let us do it!" Then the Ducks did so. ‖ At night Coyote went ashore. He stepped on shore. | Then Coyote made something to stretch across | the brook. Then the Ducks came diving along, and did not do anything. | The first one he tied, the next one that came diving along | he let go, and the last one that dived coming along he tied again. He said ‖ to the Ducks: "When you start diving, close your eyes. | Don't look!" Coyote was clever. | (He thought) they might see his trap. They | did so for several days. Then Coyote had much food. | The Ducks just knew that they ceased to be many. They said among themselves: ‖ "We are getting few in number." One Duck said: | "The wind is blowing from the place where Coyote's tent is. | It gives a smell of burnt fat. Now go and look into his | tent." One Duck was called Great Diver.[1] | He dived and came to Coyote's tent. He went ashore, and saw ‖ many dried ducks. Then he knew that it was | Coyote. He went back; and when he came back, he said: "It is | Coyote. He is killing all of us." Then the Ducks cried. | The Ducks said among themselves: "He will do the same to us to-morrow. | Look out when you dive! You will see ‖ whether there is anything in the stream." Then | on the following day the Ducks started diving to another lake. | The first ones all looked, and it was not long before they saw | something right across the wäter. They dived and went back. Coyote said: | "Oh, you have a (good) mind! I was going to kill you all." || The Ducks did not do it any more, but flew again. |

There was the tent of Lynx. He went out. The wind was blowing this way, | and he smelled the burning fat. He started, following the smell, | and arrived at the lake. He saw that Coyote had much to eat. | Then he made him sleep; and both slept, ||—Coyote and his son. Lynx took the Ducks. | He took Coyote by his tail and pulled it. Then he had a long tail; | and he also took his son. He took his face and pulled it | so that he had a long face. Then he started back. Coyote's son woke up, | and he saw (his father) sleeping. He saw that he had a long face || and a long tail. Then the son laughed at him | because he was that way. He woke him up. He looked at his son, | and he saw that he was different from what he had been; | and he looked at the Ducks, and there was no food. They staid there. | He said to his son: "I'll go that way." Coyote started || and saw a tent. He knew it was the tent of Lynx. | He knew that he had stolen the food. He made him sleep, | and he took back the Ducks. He took hold of his tail | and pushed it in, and he did the same to his son. Just a little piece of the tail remained sticking out. | He took his face and pushed it in, || and he had a short face. Then he went back. Lynx and his son awoke. | They saw how they were, and that there was no food. | Therefore Coyote has a long nose and a long tail. | Lynx did it. And therefore Lynx | has a short nose and a short tail. Coyote did it. ||

Now I have told you about Coyote, what he did to | the ducks long ago. |

60. Coyote Kills Panther and Liberates the Salmon

Well, I'll tell you a story how Panther was killed by Coyote. |

(a) coyote kills panther

Coyote had a tent. He was married to Dog. In the evening | Dog said: "To-morrow you shall go to your uncle. | His tent is there. His name is Panther. He is not hungry, but || he is very stingy." On the following morning Coyote arose. | He said: "Give me my clothes." Dog gave | Coyote his clothing. Then he started, and arrived | where the tent of Panther was. He entered. Oh, there was much meat. | His wife was scraping fat off a skin. His children were cleaning guts. || Panther was putting feathers on his arrows. They did not look at him. He sat down, and | thought:

"Maybe they did not see me." He went out again. He went back coughing. | He went in again. They did not look at him, | and he sat down. They did not give him anything to eat, and he was hungry when he saw the meat. | He was very hungry. He went out and went home without anything to eat. ‖ He arrived at his tent. |

In the evening he said: "To-morrow we will move. | My food is there. I did not bring it." Dog thought: | "He was stingy, therefore he did so." On the following morning they moved their camp. | When they got there, Coyote said to his wife: "Oh, go quickly ‖ and get meat, that you may eat!" Dog left | for that tent. She entered, but they did not look at her. She sat down. | She said: "I came for the food that you gave to Coyote." | They did not look at her. After a long time she went out. She did not get anything to eat. | She was hungry when she saw the meat. She was poor. She went back ‖ and said: "They didn't give me anything." |

Coyote said: "Try again. It may be given to you. It is | hanging ready made by the doorway." Dog went there again. | She entered, and they did not look at her. She looked up. | She saw it hanging here. It was all tied up. ‖ She said: "Is this it?" Then she took it. | Panther looked around, and saw that she was taking it down. | A stone was lying there. He took it; and when Dog put her arm up, | he struck her with the stone. He struck her hard right on the breast. | Panther said: "Oh, you bad-looking one! ‖ This is not for you. I am hunting for my children." | Then Dog ran out quickly, howling. |

When she came back, Coyote heard his wife. He uttered his war cry | and ran out quickly. He split a young tree | to make a bow, and made a small bow for his son. ‖ He made a hammer for his wife, and for his daughter | a small hammer. He said to them: "Let us go now! | I'll go against my fellow man;—you go against | your fellow woman.—You shall go against | your boy companion,—and you shall go against your girl ‖ companion." Then they started. They reached there, and he said | to his wife: "Open the door for me." | Then Dog opened the door for her husband, and he shot into the tent of | Panther. He shot in again. Then Coyote attacked Panther. | He took him and held him. When he knew that ‖ he was dead, he put him down. He looked, and just then (the female Panther) was taking | the hammer from his wife. She was about to strike her with it. | Then he attacked her and took it from that woman. He took it from her and | struck her down. He looked, and just then his son was about to shoot | with his bow. He skinned them. | Then Coyote put feathers on his arrow. Dog cleaned | the fat off the skin, and the children cleaned the guts. When it was dark, Coyote ‖ did the same. He said: "Oh, it's no use to try to do what you ought to do!" | Again he called the Game. Then, | when it came in, he shot. He kept on shooting all. | He shot, he shot, he shot, until his arrows were spent | and there was no more game. Then he slept. On the following morning ‖ he went out. There were only two of them. The big number (which he had shot) were not there. |

In the evening he heard a sound on the mountains. | Those whom he had shot were making a noise. It was the noise of their suffering. | Then in the evening the Game Animals said to one another: "That is not Panther. Why does he do that to us? | Go and look and see who it is." Little Flathorn started. ‖ When he arrived, he went where the wind was blowing. | He smelled a stench. He went there, and saw | Panther and his children piled up. He saw two girls picking berries. Coyote went ashore | and transformed himself into a baby. He went there. | A small child fell from his body, and a girl saw him. ‖ The girl said: "There is a child. | It is nice. Let us run for it, and the one who gets there first shall have it for her child!" | Then the friends ran for it. One was named Night Hawk, | the other was named Snipe.[1] Night Hawk reached there first | and took the child. She said: "We will both own it." ‖ Then she carried the child back. She was glad | to have the child. She was going to raise the boy; | and when he was big, he was to hunt. Then they got home and | staid there. In the morning | she did not pick berries, and also the following day | she did not pick berries. She was prevented by her child. ‖ It was heavy. She could not carry him on her back, and | he could not stay alone. Therefore she could not pick berries. | Coyote saw what the one was doing. She put her hands behind | the tent and knocked down salmon. Then she ate with him. | In the evening the other one put her hand back behind the tent. She knocked at it, ‖ and she took out a fawn. He ate with her. | That was a nice way. For many days the two girls | did not go to pick berries on account of that child. | When it was dark, he staid with the one; | and when it was dark again, he staid with the other one. (The girls) said to each other: ‖ "There are not many berries left for us to eat. Let us | see whether the boy can put out a fire if our home should be on fire." | The one then started a fire, and said | to the child: "Now put out the fire." The child | took a stick and put out the fire. Then the two girls said: ‖ "He is clever. He may stay here. | Let us go and pick berries." Then they started to pick berries. Coyote looked | there at the back of the tent, and he saw a lake | there which was filled with salmon. He went to the other side and looked | behind the tent, and he saw that it was full of fawns. There was a town. It was winter time. A man || named Coyote went into the tent of an old woman, who gave him | food. The old woman was named Squirrel. Squirrel said: | "There is no more food, and it is a long time | before spring will come. What shall I do? There is no more food." Coyote said: | "Well, cry. Then if the people come in and ask you, || 'Why do you cry?' don't answer. When they have all spoken to you, | I shall say to you, 'Do you say | that your food will be gone long before spring comes?' Then you will say, | 'Yes!'" Then Coyote went out. |

Squirrel thought that what he had said was good. || Then she cried. She cried aloud. The people in the town said: | "What is the old woman saying?" They went there, and questioned her. She did not speak. She was just crying aloud. | Then all had questioned her, but the old woman did not speak. Coyote went there. | He said to the old woman: "Do you say ‖ that you will have no more food for a long time?" Then the old woman cried no more. She said: | "Yes!" The people said: "What shall we do to make spring come?" |

There was another town, and there they kept | the seasons. After twelve months had passed, these | people would untie the springtime and the summer time and ‖ the fall of the year. Then they would tie up again the winter. | Therefore they said: "What shall we do with them?" They said among themselves: | "Let us go and steal it!" |

Then they started. Now, those up in the sky counted that the winter would last six | months, and that six months more would pass ‖ before spring came. They arrived at that town, and said: "Whoever | can walk secretly shall go there." There was a boy. | It was known that he could walk secretly. He was told: "You shall steal it." Then | he started. He almost came to the tent. He worked | his manitou power. After he had done so, his manitou spoke to him, and told him ‖ what he was to do when he entered, and where it was hanging. He took some gum. | He entered the tent; and when he arrived, they said: | "Whoever can throw farthest shall take it, after it has been thrown out. | Then he shall throw it away; and the one who is strongest shall stay on | the prairie on the hillside. It will be thrown there; and when he catches it, ‖ he shall tear it at once." |

There was one very strong man. His manitou was | Grizzly Bear. He was told: "You shall tear it." Then | the youth went in. He saw an old woman standing there. | She said to him: "It is midwinter." Then he said to her: ‖ "Where is the springtime?" He was told: "It is hanging there." | He said to her: "Where is the summer?" and she told him. | He was holding the gum. He held it in his hand close to the fire. | The old woman thought that he was warming his hands, for it was cold. | She did not know that he was heating the gum. After some time ‖ it melted. Then he attacked the old woman and stuck | (the gum) on her mouth. Then he went to get the thing in which she had said | the springtime was kept. He pulled it off and carried it out. Then the old woman | ran out quickly. She intended to speak, but could not speak. | (The gum) was stuck on her mouth. 62. Coyote Juggles with His Eyes

Well, I'll tell you what Coyote did with | eyes long ago. | Coyote went along. He saw a man | running along and stopping. Coyote went there. He saw ‖ the man running along and stopping again. He saw | that he was looking up. He went on and arrived there. | The man did not see him. He saw that he stopped again and that he was taking out | his eyes to throw them up. | Then he ran to the place where the eyes were going. The man stopped ‖ and looked up. His eyes came back down, and | he had his eyes again. |

Coyote thought: "Well, I'll take his eyes." | Then he went behind him. (The man) did not see him. He stopped again. | He took them out and threw them up. He started to run. ‖ Coyote also ran after them and caught the eyes. | Then the man looked up, but his eyes did not come down again. | He was without eyes. He went on. The one without eyes was named Snipe. | Now Snipe had no eyes. | He went on. Coyote went ahead there and started. ‖ He stretched out his fingers and just put them into Snipe's orbits. | Snipe almost fell down. Then he went on, | and Coyote did the same again, and he almost put his fingers again | into his orbits. Snipe thought: "It is just as though | somebody was doing this. If it should happen again, ‖ even if it hurts, I shall not mind it. I shall just stretch my hands out." | Coyote did so again. Even though it hurt him, | Snipe just stretched out his hands. He felt that there was a man, | and he took hold of him. When Coyote knew that he was caught, he said: "Oh, | don't do anything to me! I will give you your eyes." ‖ Snipe would not listen. Coyote was caught. | His eyes were taken out, and

He took it and stuck it on. | Then Coyote had his eyes back. He started. He saw the place from which Snipe | had come. He went along. It was hot, and the gum melted. | It fell down, and Coyote was again without eyes. He went along. Then | he was poor again. He knew there was a creek there. He thought: ‖ "The foam will be good." He felt for it. He found it and | stuck it on, and Coyote had eyes again. He started and went along. | The foam was soft. It burst, and Coyote was again without eyes. | He went along and heard a child speaking. | He said: "Sister!" He also heard some one calling. "What is it?" ‖ said that child. "Here is a big berry patch." | Coyote thought: "There must be huckleberries." He felt for them with his hands. | He knew there were huckleberries. He picked off a big one | and put it in his eyes. Then Coyote had eyes again. He had huckleberries for his eyes. | He thought: "Now I have eyes again." He went to where ‖ the child was calling for his sister. The child thought | that his sister was coming. He did not look. When Coyote arrived, | he took hold of the child, took out his eyes, and so | he had eyes again. Then he went there where there were many huckleberries. | He said: "Sister, here is a big berry patch." Then he ‖ sat down. The girl went there where | her younger brother was sitting. She picked berries. Coyote arose and | went there. He took hold of the girl and took out her eyes. |

Then he started and came to the town. There at one end | was the tent of an old woman. He entered and ate. He said to her: ‖ "What are they doing in this town?" He was told: | "Coyote's eyes were brought here. They are using them to obtain good luck. | After a little while my granddaughters will come. They will carry me." | He said to her: "Do you sing?" The old woman said: | "I am old. Only young men and women dance." ‖ Then he killed the old woman, took off her skin, | and threw away her body. He went into her skin | and sat down. After a short time her granddaughters, | two girls, came. When they arrived, they said: "Grandmother, | we came to get you. They are dancing again. We will take you over there." ‖ Then they took Coyote on the back. He was carried along. | While he was being carried there, he said to the girls: "I will sing, | I will dance." |

When the two girls arrived, they said: | "The old woman also wants to dance." Snipe said: ‖ "Well, she also shall dance." Then they danced. | Coyote knew what was done. | The old woman[1] was told: "Now you sing!" Then, | while the dancing was going on, they sang— |

"Try to get good luck out of Coyote's, Coyote's eyes!" ‖

The old woman sang that which was said. She also | said so. She was not an old woman; she was Coyote. There was no | light where they were dancing. The two girls were told: | "Let the old woman stand up. Lead her. She is poor." | Then the two girls made their grandmother stand up. ‖ They danced. They tried hard, because the old woman was singing. | They were glad. They danced for a long time. | Then the old woman said: "Let go what you sing about." | They carried the eyes of Coyote. Then Coyote carried | his eyes. They were dancing about. ‖ Then it was noticed that (the voice) of the old woman was going down. | She was almost out of breath. Almost they could hear her no more. | Then she was heard singing by the doorway. Then she was not heard any more. | They stopped, and did not dance any more. They said: | "Bring a light! Look for the old woman! She may have died of fatigue." ‖ Light was made, and they looked for the old woman. Then they saw the skin lying there. | The old woman was gone. | Only her skin remained. They heard Coyote some distance away. He laughed, | and they said: "It was Coyote, it was not the old woman, | who danced. Coyote killed her. It was only ‖ her skin." |

Now I have told you what Coyote did to | his eyes. |

63. Coyote and Deer

I'll tell you how Coyote made the | Deer. |

There was a town. Long ago the Deer used to bite the people. | They never went out hunting. Only the men who were skillful ‖ went hunting. Those who were unskillful were bitten by the Deer. | There was that town. They were hungry because the Deer was bad. | Coyote thought: "Let me go hunting!" He was told: | "Don't go hunting! The Deer might bite you." Coyote said: "Oh, | I'll work my manitou power. The Deer shall not bite me." ‖ Coyote started.

hunting. I will change the Deer, and it will not bite you; | but the Deer is wild." |

Now I have told what Coyote did long ago | to the Deer. |

64. Coyote and Tree Chief[1]

Well, I will tell you about Tree Chief. |

(a) Coyote becomes Tree Chief's friend

There was Coyote. He heard about a youth. | There was a youth. He thought: "I'll go, | and the youth shall be my friend, because it is said ‖ that he is clever." The name of this youth was Tree Chief. | Coyote started. He went along. He met | a mule. Coyote took him and rode him. Because his legs were lean, | he took moss and stuffed his legs. Then | he had big calves. Tree Chief's tent was on a river. ‖ Coyote came riding along on the mule | opposite (the tent). When Tree Chief's mother saw him, the old woman said: | "Oh, I wish the passer-by would be my son's friend!" | Coyote heard her talking. | He went past. He left his mule and came ‖ to the old woman. He entered, and said to her: "What did you say | when I passed there on the other side?" The old woman saw that | he was a youth. She was pleased with him. She said | to Coyote: "I said this: 'I wish you would be my son's friend.'" | She did not know that it was Coyote. Therefore ‖ she took him to be her son's friend. She knew that | her son was to be a chief. There was Coyote | in his friend's tent. |

(b) Coyote tries to kill Tree Chief

After several days he said to his friend: "Let us go to the town!" | He knew that it was true that ‖ the youth was going to do something. He had heard there in the town | while he was there [he was told] that the chief would give | his daughter to that youth. Therefore he thought | he would make him his friend. He wanted to kill him and take the | chief's daughter for himself. They went along a trail. ‖ The youth did not want to leave his mother's tent. He would never go | to the big town. When Coyote had become his friend, | he took him along. Coyote saw a pit. It was | a trap of Wolf. Coyote thought: "Here | I shall kill my friend." Then they arrived there.

Coyote was talking all the time. || He pointed at everything, so that his friend should | not look at the place where he was to step. | Then they had almost arrived at the pit. The pit was | hardly visible because it was a trap. If anything goes along there, | it falls into it; everything—deer, grizzly bear, || everything—dies there in the pit. The friends went there. | They arrived; and while Coyote was pointing at different things, | he pushed his friend. He threw him into the pit. | Coyote looked, and said: "Hya, friend! I shall have no | way of getting you out, for the pit is deep." He just said so on purpose. || He said to him: "Throw up your clothing, | then I'll get you up." Coyote pulled | his friend slightly. He could not get him up with his tail. His blanket | was his tail. Therefore he told him that he could not do any more, | but he was telling him a lie. He did not pull. Then Tree Chief || threw up his war bonnet. He threw up everything. | Then he was without clothing. Coyote said: "Spit up your spittle." | Then Tree Chief had no more spittle. | It became sea shells. | A sparrow hawk was sitting on his head. When || he spat, his spittle changed into shells, and | the sparrow hawk ate them. When | Coyote had taken everything, he left. He had | a shield. He had a tomahawk. He had a war bonnet. He had the sparrow hawk. | His clothing was fringed. ||

He arrived at the town. He came out on a prairie, | and shouted. The people said: "Oh, Tree Chief has arrived!" | He was coming along. He came nearer, and arrived at | the town. He was told: "There is the tent of the chief!" They thought | that he was coming to marry the chief's || daughter, according to what the chief had said. He entered, and the place was ready prepared for him, | because he was a chief. His wife | was glad when he came. The girl did not know | that he was Coyote. He had staid at this town already. | When he came back, she did not know that he was (not) her husband. || She was glad. Coyote sat down. He had the sparrow hawk. | When he spat, the sparrow hawk would fly down | to eat the shells. Then it flew back | to his head. When his sisters-in-law knew that | his spittle was thus, they took it, and || the bird would not eat any more. It was not long before the sparrow hawk was starving. | Then Coyote let the sparrow hawk starve, and he had no saliva. | Now, the chief had made a mistake. | The name of the chief was Golden Eagle. |

(c) WOLF RESCUES TREE CHIEF

An old man named Wolf lived there. He was an expert ‖ hunter. Therefore he was named Wolf. In the morning Wolf | started for his trap. He got there, and it was broken. | He thought that there must be something in his trap. | He looked down into the pit and saw a small child sitting there. | He said to him: "You soiled this place for me." The child caused him to think: ‖ "Don't kill me. Go back to your wife, | then come back with her." Wolf started back, and arrived at his tent. | He said to his wife: "Let us go! There is | a child in my trap. We will take him out." Then | the couple went. They arrived, and the old woman looked ‖ for the child. She thought his eyes looked like those of Tree Chief. | The child thought: "Bet who | will get me first. He shall be my grandparent." Then | the old woman said: "Let us bet! Go over there | and start to dig, and I'll go here and ‖ I will also begin to dig. Whoever first gets down to him | shall take him. If you take him first, you may kill him. | If I get him first, he shall be | my grandson." Wolf said: "Well." Wolf thought: | "The child is bad; I will kill him." Then ‖ the old woman and her husband raced digging. Oh, | the man was digging fast! The woman was not digging fast. | She nodded her head. Then the old woman began to dig fast, | and her husband was not fast. The old woman just went through | to the pit. She felt of the child ‖ and pulled him out. She pulled him away. Then the old man also | pushed his hand through, but there was no child. He said: "Ya, | I missed it." Then both went out. The old woman looked | at the child. She thought: "Long ago I saw Tree Chief. | His eyes were like those of this ‖ child." Then Wolf went back to his tent. He fitted up | his trap. When the old woman brought back the child, | she washed him. She was glad to have a grandson. |

(d) TREE CHIEF PROVIDES FOOD FOR HIS GRANDPARENTS

Then the child was almost grown up. He said to his grandmother: | "Grandmother, is there no sinew?" She said to him: "O grandson! ‖ there is none here." The old man said to the child: "Where | should he get it from?" The old woman looked for it and found | a small piece. She gave it to her grandchild, and the child made a netted ring. | He held it outside on the point of a stick. He brought it in, and it was loaded with birds.[1] | He took them off and held it out again. He took it in, and again ‖ it was loaded with birds. He said to his grandmother: "Grandmother!" | The old woman looked, and there was a pile of birds. | She was told: "Prepare them. Let us eat." The old woman was glad. |

[1] A bird smaller than a robin, yellow at the tips of the feathers, with a single feather on top of its head.

In the morning he said to his grandmother: "Is there no leg skin | of a yearling buffalo calf?" The old woman said: "There isn't any." The old man said: ‖ "Old woman, do you bring it, that there may be some!" | The old woman looked for it. She saw some. She said to him: | "Here it is. It is a little piece." The child said: | "Give it, anyhow." The child made the netted ring. He took it out. | He opened the door a little farther. He went there. ‖ He said to his grandmother: "Cover your head with your blanket." Then he began to roll | the netted ring to the door. He said to the ring: | "Surprise them a little; the old man does not like me." | Then the netted ring rolled along there. The boy said: | "Go away, go away, go away, grandmother! The game will hook you." ‖ There was noise of running, but the old woman and the | old man would not get up. When he threw back his blanket, he saw the game | jumping into the tent. It was about to hook them. Then the | boy threw his lance and killed it. He went there. | He said to her: "Grandmother, cut it up." The old woman arose, ‖ and saw a yearling. She was glad. | Then she skinned it. He said to his grandmother: "Don't | spill the guts. Put them behind in the tent, and also the hair." | She put the coagulated blood inside. He said to her: "Grandmother, put it also behind in the tent." | Then the old woman cut it up and dried the meat. ‖ In the evening they slept. Early next morning the boy arose, | and he said: "Grandmother, I'll eat pemmican." | The old woman said: "There is no pemmican." The | child said: "You put it away. Look!" The old woman went there. | She looked at the guts. They had become pemmican. ‖ His grandmother took a piece, and also the old man, | and they all ate pemmican. In the morning the boy said: | "Grandmother, is there no edge piece of the skin of a buffalo cow?" She said: | "There is none." The old man said: "There is some; give it to the child." | She looked and found it. She said to her grandson: "There is a ‖ small piece." He said to his grandmother: "Anyway, give it to me." | She gave it to him. He made a larger netted ring, | the same as before, and he made it in the same way as the day before, when he killed | the yearling. That was his blanket. On the same day the boy | killed a cow and made a blanket for his grandmother. ‖

Across the river from where the tent was there was the town | where Coyote was married. The youth said to | his grandmother: "Grandmother, give me pemmican; I'll draw water." | His grandmother gave him pemmican. | The youth knew already that at the Golden Eagle went out, | took a feather of his body, and threw it up. ‖ There was a tree. Where he threw it, (the feather) became an eagle. | He always used to make eagles, and therefore his name was | Golden Eagle. He spoke, and said: "Here on the tree | a golden eagle is sitting. Let all the children, youths, | big men, and old men, shoot at it! Whoever kills it shall ‖ marry my daughter, the one who remains." Then they all | took their bows. The people of that town went out. | It was a big town. There were many boys, youths, | men, and old men, and all shot at it. Golden Eagle said: | "Every one shall have one shot." Then they all shot. ‖ Coyote shot once. He shot, shot. Then | they laughed at him. They all shot, but no one | hit it. Tree Chief knew that they were shooting | at the golden eagle. He was not told about it because he was small. They thought | he would not be able to do it. He just discovered through his manitou power what was happening. ‖ He made a small bow and a small arrow. He started. He went there. | He arrived, and all the people were outside. | They saw the boy coming, shooting away while he was coming along. | Then just from the edge where they were he shot. | Only a few saw the boy. Coyote was still shooting, ‖ shooting. Coyote just shot again. When | the child shot, they knew that he had hit | the golden eagle. It fell down. Coyote saw it fall down. | He ran after it. When it reached the ground, he took hold of it. He | saw that it was not his arrow. Then he took out his arrow and exchanged it (for Tree Chief's arrow). ‖ He began to run. He had (the bird) on his arrow. He said: | "Father-in-law, father-in-law!" He shouted. He said to his father-in-law: | "I killed the golden eagle." One man said to Coyote: | "Try to be sensible. Whatever may have happened, this is not it. | Look at it! It is a prairie chicken you are carrying. There, that ‖ boy has it on his arrow. He shot it." Coyote looked at what he was carrying. | It was a prairie chicken. Then they all laughed at what Coyote had done. | He thought he would take Eagle's other | daughter, because he had fooled Golden Eagle before. He thought he | ought to marry both his daughters. Then all went into ‖ the tent. They said: "The boy | is too small to have a wife." But Golden Eagle thought: | "Even if the boy is small, I'll take him to be | the husband of my daughter." |

At night, when the people slept, Tree Chief's ‖ grandmother came. She carried the golden eagle. | His grandmother said to him: "Who killed it?" He said: "I did." | She said to him: "What did you kill it with?" He said to her: "With | my bow here." His bow was small. ‖ The old woman thought: "Now my grandson may leave me, | because Eagle Chief was not without high rank. | Maybe he did not do it." |

In the evening he went to get water, and again he saw the girl. | He said to her: "To-morrow at noon I shall come." The girl knew | that he had shot the golden eagle. ‖ It was he who had given her pemmican. Then she started again. | On the following day he said to his grandmother: "I shall give you | the golden eagle that I brought yesterday. This is what I won | by playing. I won a woman. I shall go there." | The old woman said: "Whose daughter is she?" The youth said: ‖ "She is Golden Eagle's daughter." The old woman said: | "If he were not chief, I should not give you up." | The old woman cried. Her grandson said to her: "Don't | cry! I shall not leave you." The old woman said: | "Do you want to carry meat along?" The boy said: ‖ "To-morrow there will be much meat in that town. | I shall make it." The old woman said: "It is well. | Your wife will come for meat. The eagle will eat | it." |

In the evening the boy started. ‖ He went behind the tents. He made himself look the way he used to be | when he was with his mother. His clothing was fringed. | He had a shield and he had a tomahawk. | He had a little hammer and he had a war bonnet, and | on his head was a sparrow hawk. His saliva was ‖ shells. He had everything that he used to have | when he was with his mother. He started | for the town, and he was a large youth. | When he came out of the prairie, he shouted, and the people in the town heard it. | They said: "Well, Tree Chief arrives." ‖ They looked at him, and they saw him coming. Then | they went out. He arrived. He was told: "There is the | chief's tent." On the day before, | when he shot the eagle, he was not recognized. Only the girl and | Golden Eagle knew that he was the one who had ‖ shot the golden eagle on the previous day. Then the girl | shook his bed. She prepared the seat | where her husband was to sit. Then he went there. He entered. | His place was prepared. He sat down. | The girl had prepared the place for Sparrow Hawk to sit down. ‖ Coyote was sitting there. Then there were two | friends who had each a sparrow hawk. After some time he spat, | and his saliva turned into shells. | The Sparrow Hawk screeched, flew down, and ate | the shells. Then Coyote was angry. He was ashamed. ‖

(f) TREE CHIEF PROVIDES FOOD FOR THE PEOPLE

At night, when Tree Chief slept, he knew | that the people in the town were starving. In the morning he said | to his wife: "Tell your father to look at the fortune-telling place." | Then she started. In the morning the woman said to her father: | "He says you shall look at your fortune-telling place." Then ‖ Golden Eagle looked at his fortune-telling place. He saw many | tracks of buffalo cows. He went out and shouted. Then | the youths said: "Make the buffalo fence strong." Then | the buffalo fence was made strong. Tree Chief went along. | There was a large prairie. He began to pile up the manure of ‖ buffaloes, much of the same kind. After he had piled it up, | he shouted at it. He said to it: "Hu, hu, hu, ya!" Then | all the buffalo dung arose and became buffalo cows. | Then he rounded them up. Then he started. Just as soon as he arrived | at the buffalo fence, he saw many buffaloes coming. ‖ The people told one another: "The buffaloes are coming. Be careful! Don't | let them disperse!" The buffaloes arrived. They did not disperse, and they all | went over the precipice. They were piled up. Many buffaloes filled up | the buffalo drive. Then all the people took them. | They said: "Take everything. Take even ‖ the skin." Then they were all taken up the hillside. | Tree Chief came up the hill. | He sat down, and all were taken. Chief Golden Eagle | had taken the fat of the buffaloes. He saw his son-in-law, | who did not go down. He remained sitting on top. Then all the ‖ fat buffaloes had been taken. (The chief) said to his daughter: "Tree Chief is tired. | Therefore he did not come down. Here is a fat cow. | Take it. It also has good hair. That shall be your blanket." | When Tree Chief came back, one buffalo cow came along behind the others. | It was old, thin, and full of sores. It also ‖ slid down from above. It stopped up there. It was so old that it was not good to be eaten, | therefore it was not looked at. Tree Chief knew | what his father-in-law had said when he took | one fat cow. Then he went down. He went to | the lean buffalo, the sore one. He let it slide down. ‖ His wife came, and he said to her: "Why did you take that | buffalo? There are many people. They ought to take what slides down. | Let us go and skin it!" She went and | skinned it. Then Coyote laughed | at them because they skinned one sore one. Coyote spoke, ‖ and said to him: "Why do you do that? That kind is not eaten. | Leave this cow lying there. Eagle has taken | a fat one with good hair on it for a blanket for your wife." | They did not look at Coyote, (and did not listen to) what he said. Golden Eagle thought: | "He wants it, therefore he did not speak." But || Coyote laughed at them. Then Tree Chief | skinned it. |

Tree Chief gave his arrow to his wife. | He said to her: "Don't touch it! Don't touch the dogs and children with it!" Then | he skinned it. The chief looked (to see) who had most || fat when they scraped off all the fat. He went to his son-in-law. | He was skinning the old cow. Then he saw that it was | the fattest buffalo. |

Coyote saw that his friend had given his arrow | to his wife, and he also gave his arrow to his wife. He said to her: || "Keep it. Don't let it touch anything." | The wife of Tree Chief stood there. The woman forgot | what she had been told by her husband. When her hungry dog | saw the meat, it tried to eat the blood. | The woman did not know that she touched it with the arrow that she was holding;|| (but when she did so, the dog) fell down and died. Tree Chief said to his wife: | "I told you not to touch it. | Touch it again with your arrow." The woman touched the dog | with the arrow, and it came to life again. |

Coyote saw what had happened. He passed by || a dog, struck it, and killed it. He told his wife: | "Why did you do that? I told you not to touch it | with the arrow. Touch it again with it." The woman | touched it again, but it still lay there. It did not come to life again. |

Tree Chief said to his wife: "Go there and || touch the dog with my arrow! Whoever owns a dog likes it." | The woman went there and touched | the dog with the arrow. It came to life again. Then Coyote was laughed | at by the crowd. |

Tree Chief said to his wife after she had skinned (the buffalo):|| "Carry the meat there into our tent!" | It was bloody, and the woman did not know what to do. Tree Chief said to his wife: | "Carry it in your blanket!" | The woman carried it in her blanket. The woman thought | she would spill the guts. He said to her: "Don't || spill them! Carry them in with the stomach." Then | the woman carried the stomach, and did not spill | the guts. |

Night came. Her blanket was bloody. Then the woman thought | she would wash her blanket. Her husband said to her: "Don't || wash it! Just put it aside; and also the stomach | and the guts, put them aside too, also the skin; | put the coagulated blood into it and put it aside." Then | the woman did as her husband told her. |

Coyote saw what his friend and his sister-in-law were doing, ‖ and he told his wife to do the same. She carried it | in her blanket. When evening came, Coyote's wife did the same | as Tree Chief's wife was | doing. |

Early in the morning Tree Chief and his wife arose. ‖ Then they ate. He said to his wife: | "Where is the pemmican? I'll eat." She said to him: "Is there any | pemmican?" He laughed, and said to her: "You brought it in. | There it is." His wife said to him: "Is that pemmican? | Those were guts." He said to her: "Bring it out and look at it." ‖ Then the woman pulled it out slowly. It was heavy. | She looked at it, and it had turned into pemmican. There were no more | buffalo guts. Then it was eaten. He said to her: "Pull out your blanket." | She said to him: "Is there one? There was one, but it was all bloody." | He said to her: "Pull it out and look at it." The woman took ‖ the bloody blanket. It was no more that way. | It had become a new one with beautiful stripes. He said to his wife: | "Look also at the other things we put aside." The woman looked | at the skin which she had put aside. It had become | a tanned skin with a painting in the middle, although it had been full of sores ‖ with bad hair, for it had been an old | buffalo cow. Its fur was very good. |

After Coyote had watched what his friend was doing, | he did the same, but nothing happened. | His wife's blanket remained stiff, and the skin that she had put aside ‖ remained rawhide, and the stomach which she had put aside | remained as before. It was buffalo dung. His wife cried, | because he had given her trouble. Tree Chief said to his sister-in-law: | "Don't cry! Put them back again." Then the| woman, the wife of Coyote, put back again her ‖ own blanket, the rawhide, and the guts, | but Golden Eagle did just the same as Tree Chief. | He did the same to him. At night Coyote said to his wife: "Oh, | tell your father to look at his fortune-telling place." Coyote started. | Now, Coyote was going to play. Early in the morning ‖ Golden Eagle looked at his fortune-telling place. There were no tracks. He came in again. | Coyote went along. There was some manure. | He piled it up; and after piling it up, he yelled | at the buffaloes; but the buffalo manure did not move. He tried to drive the buffaloes, | but he could not move them. He ran back. ‖ He went along, and came to the town. He went up a hill, | and he said: "The buffaloes have dispersed." He shouted | his words. He said: "The bridegroom is staying with his wife!" | He meant Tree Chief by these words. (They | used to call bridegrooms those who had not been married long.) ‖ Then the people of the town went down when Coyote had said this. | They laughed at him, because the day before many buffaloes had been killed; | but now they did not move. The people prepared the meat | and the skins. Then Coyote entered his tent, | and Tree Chief lay there. Coyote said also ‖ what Tree Chief had said before, when he spoke on the hill. | Tree Chief arose. He said to Coyote: | "What did you say? Say it again. Don't you know what you did | when you pushed me into the trap of Wolf?" | Then Tree Chief took a firebrand. ‖ He wanted to kill Coyote. He might have killed him. Therefore | he took up the firebrand. Then Coyote was struck. | He was struck while he was running out. He was told: "We shall never meet again. | If you want to die, come back to me." |

That is the end of the story of Tree Chief. ‖ He would have been the greatest one | if he had not fought with Coyote. |

(g) THE END OF THE WORLD

Now I'll finish the story of Tree | Chief's fight with Coyote. |

When Coyote and his friend fought, ‖ Coyote was beaten away westward. | Coyote was being beaten. come back. You, Coyote, will also | arise, and you shall come back. In the middle of the world ‖ we shall meet. Then we shall shake hands." |

This is the very last of the story of what | the friends Tree Chief and Coyote did | long ago, and what they will do at the end of the world. |

65. Raven

Well, I'll tell you about Raven. |

(a) the origin of death

There was a town. The chief spoke, and said: | "Everybody shall die twice." Everybody wished for what the chief said; | but Raven did not want it because he eats ‖ eyes. Since he was chief, his word was taken. |

After some days the chief spoke, and said: "Let us kill | Raven's children!" They said: "Shoot at a grass figure, | and the girls shall get fuel. Then you shall shoot | Raven's son, and you shall chop a tree down and make it fall on ‖ his daughter." Now they shot at the grass figure, and Raven's son was shot. | The girls chopped down a tree; and when the tree was about | to fall, Raven's daughter was thrown under it. | They talked, and said: "Raven's son has been shot," | and they said: "A tree fell ‖ on Raven's daughter." Raven said: "Now they shall die twice." | He was told: "You are a chief, and already | you have spoken." |

(b) why the ant has a thin waist

Then, when they were talking, Ant tightened his belt | in order to bury the dead. He almost ‖ cut himself in two, and was small after that. |

(c) raven hides the game

Then Raven could not succeed. He had had two children. Then | Raven was angry. He hid himself and hid all | the buffaloes. (Both) were lost, | Raven and the game. All went on, but he was lost. ‖ It was not known where Raven had gone. It was known | that he had done it. For a long time they were hungry. After a long time | they all became thin. |

Raven thought: "Let me go to the town to see if | they are starving." Then he started. He transformed himself into a raven. He flew ‖ away and flew back to the town. He flew about above the town. | He saw that there was nothing moving. He knew that they must be hungry. | Away he flew. |

They said: "What shall we do with Raven that we may catch him?" | They said: "Don't go out to-morrow. Beaver ‖ shall be the only one to go out, for he is wise. He will know | what to do." Then the next day they did not move. | He went out. He went some distance, lay down, | and lay on his back hungry. His stomach was empty, and he lay there | just like dead. ‖

Raven staid there. He thought again: "I'll go back to | the town." He transformed himself into a raven. He flew away | and flew to the town. He saw Beaver lying | a little ways off. He thought: "Oh, Beaver is wise, | but he doesn't know where the buffaloes are." Since he had become ‖ a raven, he thought: "Let me eat Beaver's eyes." | He flew down. He sat down on Beaver's belly. | Because he thought he was dead, he was not afraid. | Beaver took him. Then Beaver said: "I caught Raven." |

All ran out to get Raven. ‖ He almost got away from Beaver, because Beaver was hungry and weak. | Raven was fat and strong. Then the people arrived. | Raven was caught and taken to the chief's | tent. They all went in. The tent was ballasted. | It was a big tent, and they were all around it. ‖ Coyote climbed up to the top of the tent. | Coyote was looking in through the smoke hole. Then they spoke. | They said to Raven: "Now, tell us, what did you do with | the game? The poor children are hungry. You have hidden it." | Raven did not speak. He wept. ‖ He cried, because he was to die. They were not to kill him, because he was a chief, | because it was a town. He wore around his neck the eyes of buffaloes. | They took off his neckwear and ate it. They told him: | "Quick, speak!" Raven did not speak. He looked up, | and saw Coyote there in the smoke hole. ‖ He knew that Coyote was a coward. He thought: "Now | I'll be saved." Raven said: "Which way | shall I put my head?" He shouted. He saw Coyote, who was scared. | He thought: "Now I shall not die." They said to him: "Quick, | speak!" He shouted louder, and said: "Which way ‖ shall I put my head?" Then Coyote flew up, and | Raven jumped out. He flew out. | He was saved. Coyote was scolded. |

Raven flew straight up, and was lost to sight. | Magpie had clear eyes. He said: "Qo, qo, qo!" ‖ Coyote became angry. He took dirt and threw there he shook the claws | and sang, saying: "Qwa, qwa, Jack Rabbit! | Qwa, qwa, Jack Rabbit! Bring the game!" |

The two old women saw the game going by. | They said to each other: "The game is passing along." The one shook || the bladder. It made no noise. It had burst. | The other one went to get the claws. They were not there. She looked for | the dog. She thought she would send it in pursuit to get them back. | It was not there. Then she knew that he was singing, and that he was the one. She said: | "Why did you take that little dog? He has done it. He has stolen || our game. I knew by his eyes that he was Jack Rabbit. | Therefore I put him into the water, and you brought him in." |

Then the two old women took hammers, and they went | to the trail of the game in the snow. They stood on each side, ready to strike with their hammers. | They thought they would strike Jack || Rabbit. |

One scabby bull was left behind. The youth came back, | and saw the two women ready to strike him. | Then he ran after the scabby bull. He transformed himself into a | jack rabbit. He held on with his teeth to the bull's testicles, and was || hanging down between his legs. One of the old women struck it | and flattened out one leg (of the scabby bull). The other old woman struck him | on the other leg and made it flat. Then | all the parflèches in the tent began to roll out; and | because the fat and marrow began to roll, the other old woman ran after it. || She caught it, and it dragged her along. | The other one ran after it, and the fat and marrow were rolling this way. Hawk when the Water Monster spoke to her. She was afraid that he would | kill her. Then she thought thus, she was told: "I'll eat ‖ huckleberries." Then she gave them to him. In the evening | she started back. She loved her husband, Chicken Hawk. | There were no huckleberries which Chicken Hawk was to eat. Even though she had picked until the evening, | she had done badly. Then she went back to her tent, | and arrived when it was very dark. When she arrived, Chicken Hawk ‖ was already there. She gave it to him. She was afraid. She said to him: "I did not | get many huckleberries. I felt ill. I did not pick berries. | I have been lying down all day." When Grouse was going back, | she saw the bird grouse, who was | her manitou. Therefore she was called Grouse. She knocked it down. ‖ She took it, and at night she took a piece of it into her mouth. | She said: "I have a headache; I will not eat." | She lay down. She groaned. After a little while | she got up again. She vomited. She vomited yellow water. | That was the bird that she had swallowed. ‖ She was not sick at all. She did so because she was afraid of | her husband, whom she deceived. |

In the morning Chicken Hawk went out hunting. Grouse said: "Even | though I am not feeling well, I'll go to pick berries. | Yesterday I did badly picking huckleberries." Grouse left, and ‖ she did the same with the Water Monster. She did also the same, and | picked berries for Chicken Hawk. When she arrived at the house, she groaned still more. | Early the next day Grouse said: | "Although I am sick, I'll go and pick berries. | If I should happen to die, you would not eat any more of the fruit that I pick." ‖ Then Grouse started again. |

Chicken Hawk felt uneasy. He thought: "Maybe | my wife is not sick. I'll go there | where she is picking berries." Chicken Hawk started. He came to | the place where his wife was. She was singing. He thought ‖ he knew that she was not sick. He stood there. When it was almost | evening, Grouse started for the lake. | She said: "I'll give something to eat to my husband the Water Monster." | Chicken Hawk looked on, (and saw) his wife going and singing. | She went to the shore. He saw the Water Monster coming out of the water. ‖ Grouse went there. She carried the huckleberries. | When the Water Monster came ashore, he opened his mouth, and she emptied | the huckleberries into his mouth. Then Grouse sat down. | The Water Monster was coming ashore. Then Grouse shouted, | and she and the Water Monster laughed and made noise. ‖ When it was almost evening, the Water Monster went back into the water. | Then Grouse started for home. She sang. She said: | "It is getting evening, and I have done badly picking | huckleberries for my husband Chicken Hawk." |

Then Chicken Hawk was angry. He went back. Chicken Hawk thought: ‖"I'll kill the Water Monster. He is bad. He kills people. | He wants to kill me doing this to my wife." Then | he went back. He arrived at home. After a while, | when it was dark, he heard his wife groaning on the trail. | He knew that she was not sick. Grouse came in. ‖ Her head was tied up. She gave huckleberries to her husband, | and said to him: "I was still more sick, | and the berries are bad." Chicken Hawk did not eat the huckleberries. | He put them back, and said to his wife: "I'll not eat them. | The leaves and twigs are bad. If you want ‖ me to eat them, wash them. Then I'll eat them." Grouse lay down. | She said: "I will not wash them. I am very ill. | I will lie down." Then, after she had slept, in the morning | Grouse said: "I'll pick berries again. There are many | huckleberries. I like to do it." ‖

Chicken Hawk said: "Take care!" Chicken Hawk did not say | anything else. Then it was said that Grouse | and the Water Monster should die. Grouse started. Chicken Hawk took | his two arrows, and he worked his manitou power over his arrows. | The Water Monster is skillful. Therefore Chicken Hawk worked his manitou power ‖ over his arrow, to shoot the Water Monster with it. Then he started. | When he arrived where she was, he heard Grouse singing along. | Then he went there. The Water Monster also came ashore. | Then they met on shore. He arrived there. They did not see him | when he came there. The Water Monster had already eaten the huckleberries ‖ which Grouse had picked. Chicken Hawk arrived. He said to him: "O friend!" | The Water Monster looked at him, and at once he shot at him. The Water Monster said: | "I'll swallow him." Chicken Hawk was not afraid of him. The Water Monster was hit. | Then he went towards the water. Grouse went to | Chicken Hawk, and said to him: "My husband Chicken Hawk, I love you." ‖ Chicken Hawk said: "I will not take pity on you. | You brought me into trouble." Grouse was shot and | was killed. There where Grouse lay a bird flew up. | Chicken Hawk said: "You shall be grouse. | You shall be eaten." ‖

Then Chicken Hawk started. When the Water Monster sank down | in the water in the middle of the lake, he lay down, | for he was wounded in the belly. After a while he died. He drank | the whole lake. He drank all the rivers and all | the creeks and little lakes. There was no more water. ‖ For several days the people looked for water, but everything was dry. | They were about to die; it happened on account of thirst. | Chicken Hawk did it. He said: "I'll try to get back the water. | If I am clever, we shall drink again, but | it is dangerous. The Water Monster may make war on me in another way." ‖ Chicken Hawk sang, then he went along to the place where | the Water Monster lay. Chicken Hawk pulled his arrow | out of the wound of the Water Monster. Then the water came flowing out, and | the people drank. They were all saved. Then | the people of the town went back to the shore. ‖

Now, it was seen that the water was rising. They went farther away from the shore. | The water reached up there. They went still farther away from the shore, and again the water reached there. | They climbed the mountains. The water rose, | rose, rose. They went to the top of a mountain. | It was still rising, and it seemed that in a little time all the land would be gone. ‖ Then Chicken Hawk sang in the same way. The chicken hawk was | his manitou; that is, the bird chicken hawk. Therefore he was called Chicken Hawk. | He opened his sacred bundle (which contained) the tail of the bird chicken hawk. | He placed it upright, and said to the people: "Watch this | tail. If the water passes the three stripes of the tail, ‖ then the world will come to an end. We shall all be drowned. | The Water Monster will kill us all. If I am clever, | the water will go down, and we shall be saved." Then they watched | the tail that Chicken Hawk had put up. Chicken Hawk sang. | Then the water reached the first stripe. ‖ The water also passed the second stripe. Chicken Hawk was singing, | and the water also reached the third stripe. Then it was seen | that the water ceased to rise. They said to Chicken Hawk that it had ceased to rise. He said: | "Watch it!" Chicken Hawk was singing. He was told: | "The water is going down again." Then he said: "Now we shall not die." He sang. ‖ Then the water went down. Then they all went down. | They came down to the foot of the mountain. Then the water | reached back to its own place, and everybody was glad. |

Now I have told you what Chicken Hawk and the Water Monster | did in olden times. |

There was a town, and a man was named Wolf. He was married | to a woman in another camp. Her name was Doe. ‖ When his wife made moccasins for him, they were bad. When she made moccasins for her elder brothers, | they were good. Wolf was angry. He left his wife. | He went back to his town. When he arrived, he said: "Let us start for | my wife's town. Let us fight them!" Then | they started. When they arrived, his brother-in-law knew it. He had manitou ‖ power. Therefore he knew that they were angry at him. |

The two-year-old Buck sang. He said to his wife: | "The Wolves are mad at us." He dug a hole, | and let his wife and his son go in. Then | the many warriors arrived where the young Buck was sitting. ‖ Because he was working his manitou power, he had become a deer, | and he became what his name was. He went up a mountain. | He went up there to the top. Wolf | killed all the people. He looked for his brother-in-law. Where those who had been killed were piled up, | he did not see his brother-in-law. He knew that he had manitou power. ‖ He thought: "I shall not be able to kill him." He went | to his seat and sang. Then he became a wolf. | He looked; and because he was working his manitou power, he saw | the tracks of his brother-in-law. Then he went that way. | He looked, and saw him on top of a mountain. ‖ His brother-in-law was standing there, facing this way. Wolf went up. Then the one | who had become a young buck saw him. Wolf started to go up to him. | He just began to go up; and when Wolf arrived, there was another high mountain. | He went down, and went up toward the top. | When Wolf was going down, at the place where his brother-in-law had been standing, there were his tracks. ‖ He saw another high mountain on the other side, and he was standing on top. | Again Wolf went up. The Buck saw | the Wolf starting, and went down to a river. | He thought: "I'll go to my father's mother, Fish."[1] Fish's | tent was on the other side of the river. When Wolf stepped ‖ down to the place where his brother-in-law had been standing, he was not there. | He saw his tracks going down. He followed them. Wolf thought: | "Fish is bad. Maybe he will not give him to me. If I | do not catch him, and if he enters his grandfather's tent, I shall not be able to get him." | He started. When the Buck arrived and went in, Fish was sitting inside. ‖ Fish was told by his grandson: "Put me somewhere. | Wolf is pursuing me." Fish did not look at him. Buck spoke again. | Fish did not look at him. | He said while he was smoking: "Sak, sak, sak, sak, sak!" | (Buck) said again: "Hurry up! The Wolf is close by. He is coming along." ‖ Fish said: "What you say is bad. He is | your brother-in-law. You loved each other. Why is he angry at you?" | Buck said: "Hurry up! Wolf has almost arrived. | He'll bite me." Fish said: "Is he a wolf?" | Buck said: "Yes, he has become a wolf." ‖ Fish said: "Can you transform yourself into a deer?" | Buck said: "He is just outside. I became | a man again when I came in." mittens, which were mittens of deer (skin). ‖ He threw them on Buck, and said: "Don't | move!" Buck thought: "I thought he | would do something for me, therefore I came in." There was just one mitten | which Fish threw on him. Buck was big, | and his legs stuck out. Then he saw Wolf come in. ‖

Buck thought he would be seen by Wolf, | and did not turn his eyes from those of Wolf, who did not see him. Now Wolf | retransformed himself into a man. When he was about to enter the tent | of Fish, he said to him: "Didn't you see Buck?" | He did not look at him. He did the same as he had done with Buck. ‖ He did the same. (Wolf) was coaxing him. After a while Fish spoke, | and said to him: "Your talk is bad. He is your brother-in-law. | You loved each other. Why are you angry at him?" Fish said: | "Did Buck transform himself into game?" Wolf said: | "Yes, he transformed himself." Fish said: "Why should he ‖ come into my tent if he is a deer? If he should come | into my tent, he would become a man. Go out. Maybe | he went into the water. Game does that." Then Wolf went out. | Fish made a figure of grass. He hurriedly threw it out of the smoke hole. | The figure became a deer, which stood there on the other side of the water. ‖ When Wolf went out, he saw | Buck standing in the water on the other side. Wolf went in again, | and said to Fish: "Give me a canoe. I | see a deer on the other side." Fish said: "You | said you became a Wolf, and Buck became ‖ a deer. Later on, when a wolf runs after a deer and it goes into the water | of a river, then a wolf also will swim across." | Wolf said: "Is that so?" Wolf went out. |

He transformed himself into a wolf. He became one. Then he swam across. | Fish had told a lie. It was not a deer standing in the water; ‖ it was grass that he had made into a deer. It was not a deer | that was standing in the water; it was grass. When Wolf had gone out again, | Buck arose, and said to Fish: | "Take me across, so that I may kill him, for he killed all my relatives." | Then Fish arose, took his blanket, ‖ and put it on him. He took his belt and took his hat. He took | his mittens. Buck said: "Hurry up! | He is about to swim across." Fish said: "He is still here." | Then he went out and launched his canoe. | He did not hurry. The Wolf had almost gotten across. ‖ Then Fish and Buck went aboard. | Fish took his paddle, put it into the water, and pushed with it. He almost | caught up with Wolf. Then he put the paddle in on the other side. He paddled, | and caught up with Wolf. Then Buck was about to shoot | Wolf, who did not see him. He touched his canoe, ‖ and it made a little noise. Wolf heard the canoe. | He looked at it, and Buck was standing in the water, | about to shoot him. Wolf said to him: "O brother-in-law! I love you. | Don't kill me!" Buck said: | "I shall not take pity on you, for you have killed all my relatives." ‖ The Wolf was shot and killed. Fish said: | "Go back to your wife. Your son is poor." |

Now I have told all that happened in olden times. |

68. Skunk

Well, I'll tell you what happened, what the brothers | Skunk and Fisher did long ago. |

Skunk and his brother lived in a tent. Fisher was his younger brother. | There also was the tent of Frog and her granddaughters, Chipmunk and ‖ Big Chipmunk. |

Chipmunk was hungry for meat, and said: "Haom, | haom!" Her grandmother said to her: "O granddaughter, granddaughter! | what do you mean?" Chipmunk said: "I am hungry." | Her grandmother said to her: "Take whatever you hunger for." ‖ Chipmunk said: "I am hungry for meat." | Her grandmother said to her: "Take a little piece of dried meat. Eat it." | Chipmunk did not take it. She was told: "Do you want fresh meat?" | She replied: "Yes." Then her grandmother, Frog, said to her: "Go to | Fisher. He shall be your husband. Don't look at ‖ Skunk. He is bad. Only Fisher shall be your husband. | Fisher never is hungry. He is a skillful hunter." |

Then the sisters Chipmunk and Big Chipmunk started. | Their grandmother said to them: "When you get there, stay at a distance. After a while, | in the evening you will see Fisher coming back. You urge me very much. Our grandmother said after a while, in the evening, ‖ when Fisher comes home, then we should go there." | Then they started. When they arrived, they entered, and saw | Skunk alone, nobody else. Skunk gave them meat. | Then they ate. He said: | "Your grandmother wants me to marry you." Skunk prepared a place in the rear of the tent. ‖ He said to them: "Stay here." Then the sisters | went to the rear of the tent and staid there. Skunk was | pounding dried meat all the time. |

Then Fisher came home. He said to his elder brother: "Go | and get some water. I want to drink." He threw his drinking horn to him. ‖ Fisher's water was far away. Skunk thought: | "Fisher might take the girls." Then he arose. | Skunk took dried meat and threw it backward to | the sisters. Skunk said: "Divide-de-de-de it." | When he was almost going out, he said: "Don't move-ve-ve-ve!" ‖ Then Skunk started. He thought: | "Fisher's water is far away. I shall go to my water." Then he arrived there | and dipped it up. Skunk started to run. He thought: "I | want to get back quickly. He might take those girls." | He came back and gave the water to his younger brother. Fisher took it, ‖ and knew that it was Skunk's water. Therefore he threw it back. | Skunk was told: "This is not my water, | it is your water." He was given another horn, | and was told: "Draw some of my water." Skunk started. | He just dipped up the water and came back. He came back quickly, ‖ and spilled it while running. Now there remain many little lakes, the result of | what Skunk spilled while walking. Then he came home and gave | the water to his brother. |

After Fisher had drunk, he said to Skunk: "Go and get my game." | Fisher had known while he was away that the two girls had arrived, ‖ and that they wanted him, and that Skunk had already taken them. Therefore | he was angry at his elder brother. Fisher took entrails. | He painted the entrails of the game red. These entrails | are called "rectum." Then Skunk was told to bring in | the meat. He was given the painted entrails. He was told: ‖ "Go quickly, because the sun is getting low." Then only Fisher remained. | After some time Skunk shot his fluid again. Then Fisher became tired ‖ and also fell down. He killed Fisher's wives and | Fisher. |

Skunk staid there. He took the sisters, and he restored them to life. | Then they became his wives. |

Skunk said: "Where shall we go now? Fisher is bad. ‖ If he should come to life, he will kill us all." Big Chipmunk said: | "Let us go to my tent!" When Skunk had killed them all, | he became a man again, and the sisters became women. | They were no more a real big chipmunk and a chipmunk. | Then Big Chipmunk started for her tent. They entered. ‖ It was too small. Skunk said: "Come out!" Big Chipmunk came out. | Then Skunk shot his fluid, and the stone broke. | Then it was a large place. They entered. At night | they lay down. Skunk lay in the middle, | and his wives were on each side. After some time, when it was dark, ‖ his wives did not sleep. He said to them: "Let us sleep! | I am tired." They did not listen to him, but they tickled him. | They did this so that he should not go to sleep. Then Skunk became very sleepy. | He said to them: "It's enough. Let us play later on." | They tickled him again. Then Skunk slept; and even though they tickled him, ‖ he did not wake up. The sisters saw | that Skunk was really dead asleep; and they said to each other: | "Now let us go to Fisher!" They arose. | They took Skunk. The helo was on a mountain, | and they turned Skunk the other way. His head was ‖ toward the door, and his legs lay toward the mountains. | Then the sisters went out again. They sang. | They worked their manitou power, and the size of Big Chipmunk's hole | was almost the size of Skunk. The stones squeezed him all over. Then | Big Chipmunk and her sister went back to where Fisher lay. ‖

When they got there, they restored him to life; and when Fisher arose, | he saw his wives. He said to them: "Where is | Skunk?" They said to him: "He is in a hole in the mountain." | He said to them: "Let us go to a far-away country. | Skunk is bad. No matter how strong the stones ‖ you made, he will break them, he will come out again." Then | Fisher and his wives started and left the country. |

Skunk was asleep. He woke up, and knew | that his wives hurt him. He said: "Move away a little! | You hurt me!" They did not move; and ‖ he said again: "Move away a little!" He pushed them, | and he noticed that (what he touched) was hard. Then he moved, | and everything was tight on his body. He was in a hole in the rock. It was all | around him on each side of his body and on top of his body. | He could not move. Then he cried. ‖ He thought: "I must die." He knew that he even | used to break rocks. Then he sent out his fluid. He went on sending out his fluid, | sending out his fluid, sending out his fluid. After he had sent out his fluid for some time, | he could move a leg. He went on sending out his fluid, and | he could move all around. For a long time he sent out his fluid, and then the space was large. ‖ He could not see the daylight. He thought: "Let me | lie the other way," and he turned the other way. Then he sent out his fluid again. | After some time he saw a little hole. The rocks opened. | He said: "Oh, it looks like a star!" | He sent his fluid again. Then the hole was larger. Now ‖ he was tired sending out his fluid. He thought: "Now let me see | how large the hole is." He took out his musk bag and put it on the end of | his bow. He stuck it out. |

Raven was going along at this time. He saw what Skunk was doing. | He stood there outside; and when Skunk put out his musk bag ‖ here in front of Raven, he passed it in front of him. | He did not look at it. After some time Skunk took his musk bag in again. | He smelled of it, and said: "It might smell like the eye of Raven. | Maybe he is coming this way. He is one who is always going about." (Raven) had not looked at it, | because he knew that (Skunk) would smell of it. Therefore ‖ he had not looked at it. (Skunk) put it out again. Skunk sang, | and said: |

Raven transformed himself into a raven. He became a real raven. | He took hold of Skunk's musk bag with his bill. Then he flew away, ‖ because he had become a real raven, therefore he could fly. | Skunk noticed the flapping of the wings of Raven, and said: | "Oh!" He pulled in his bow quickly. His musk bag was gone. | Then he cried, and said: "(?) . . . chief, | chief!" for his power ‖ had been taken away from him; therefore he cried. He said (to himself): | "You always make too much noise about your ears. Now, listen whether | the sky will make noise!" Then Skunk listened. | He noticed that Raven went right up. | Then it came down making a noise. Then the noise stopped. ‖ He said: "There, farther along, I walk about. Here, on this side, | went down the noise from the sky." Skunk was lying there. He took | his knife and cut off his leg. He pushed it out. | Because the hole was small, he could not get out. Therefore he did so. He cut off | his leg. He pushed it out. He also cut off the other one and ‖ pushed it out. He cut off his arm and put it out, too. | Now there was one arm left. He cut it off, and it rolled out. Then | all his limbs were gone. He sang, and said: |

Then his back rolled out. Then he rolled out. | He rolled himself on his one arm. He took | the other one and stuck it on. He took his leg, and he | stuck on both of them. Then Skunk arose. Then | Skunk stood up. He was bad. He had no entrails. ‖ Then he went and took leaves and put them in. Then he was almost good. |

He started to the place where Raven had flown, there across the mountains.[1] | He went along. He went across the mountains, and he went along the prairie. | Far away he came to a town. When Raven had arrived, | he had transformed himself into a man. Then he said: ‖ "I have brought with me Skunk's musk bag." Then they were all | glad. He was told by Grizzly Bear: | "You should go on." He arose. Skunk went out, and where | he stood up, there was meat. A child said: | "There lies some meat." Raven said: "Don't | eat it. He dropped it from his mouth. Children must not eat it. I'll ‖ eat it myself." Skunk entered Grizzly Bear's tent and | was given food. Here again he could not eat much. When he stopped, | he went out; and there was meat again where he stood up, | and Grizzly Bear himself ate it. It was what Skunk had eaten. | Because he had no belly, when he ate, ‖ it went right through him. |

Then, when it was about evening, Raven went out. | He said: "Come out and play! | You have a toy." Then they all went out. Then | they brought out the pup. A little distance away they put it down. ‖ Then they kicked it. It ran, and they ran after it. | When they caught up with it, they kicked it. Then Skunk had pity | on his musk bag. When it saw him, it almost | ran up to him. Then he nodded his head the other way. Skunk thought: | "I am thirsty. It might hurt me. Later on, to-morrow, ‖ I'll take it back." At night they stopped playing. Then | skunk went to the river. He jumped in and soaked himself. | In the morning and all day he soaked himself. When the sun was going down, | they played again. He thought: "I'll take back | my musk bag." They went on playing. Then Skunk ‖ sat down a little ways off. He thought: | "It might hurt me." They chased it toward him, and it went there. | Then it turned back and came back. Then he nodded his head to it, | and it came running this way. It came, and they could not catch up with it. Then | Skunk turned himself toward it, and his musk bag went to him. ‖ It got into him again and threw him down. Skunk got up. | They said to one another: "Don't look at him, for it is Skunk. | He himself took back his musk bag." Their toy was gone. |

Now I have told what Skunk and his brother did. |

69. Frog and Antelope[1]

Well, I'll tell you how, long ago, | Frog won over Antelope. |
There was a town. It was named Fish Hawk Nest.[2] | Antelope was chief. Antelope runs fast. Even ‖ the best runners were beaten by Antelope. He was a manitou, and won over everybody. | There was a town of Frogs. Then Chief | Frog thought: "I'll cheat Antelope." He said to | his tribe: "Let us play with Antelope!" They said to him: | "What shall we do with Antelope? He runs fast." He said to them: ‖ "We shall go, all of us. We shall play with him." Then | he told his people what to do. All the Frogs said: | "Well, your thoughts are good." That chief said: | "I'll go alone. Later on, if | he agrees, to-morrow we shall go." The Frog said: ‖ "It is well." Then he started. When he arrived at Antelope's (tent), | Antelope said to Frog: "Why do you come to my tent?" | Frog said: "I come here to see if you are not afraid to run a race with me." | Antelope laughed. He thought: | "Even if he runs fast, I can easily do (leave behind) what Frog says." Frog was told: ‖ "If you agree, my property shall be your property. | You may give it to me." Frog said: "Go; | I am glad. I'll take your property." Then they laughed at him | because he could not do (leave) what Antelope said. Frog said: | "To-morrow just at noon I'll come, ‖ accompanied by my tribe." Then Frog started. When he came home, | he said to his tribe: "Now we will cheat Antelope | and his children." On the following morning the Frogs started, all of them. | There were many. The women went along with the men Frogs. When they almost | came to the town, the chief Frog said: ‖ "Before any one comes out, go and lie down | on the trail they go. Just at that distance jump! | You shall be that far apart." Then the Frogs went | to the starting place, and all of them lay down | on the way they were to run.‖ They lay down up to the point where the track turned. When this was all done, others went | to the town. They said: "The Frogs | have come to play with us." Then all of them went out. | They went to the starting place. Then | the Frogs bet their property. All their clothing was blue. ‖ Then they bet with them. They staked much, | because they thought the Frogs would be beaten. They thought | they themselves would win. Thus they spoke among themselves. Then Antelope stood up. | He laughed at his enemy. Frog was lying there. Then he looked | at Antelope. They said: "Now start!" Then Frog ‖ jumped up. Antelope laughed. | His enemy looked funny to him. (Antelope) did not run fast | when Frog gave his first jump. Then another Frog lay there and | jumped up, and all the Frogs did so. Then | Antelope did not go very fast. He had not gone far when he was left behind. ‖ Then Antelope ran more quickly. He was left far behind. | He ran fast; but even when he ran fast, the Frogs | were ahead of him. Then he arrived at the turning place; | and when he got there, the Frogs lay down in the opposite direction. Then | Antelope turned back, but the Frogs were always ahead of him. ‖ Then Antelope tried hard. He knew | that he would be beaten. Antelope was not yet near the starting point | when Frog arrived. Then all laughed; but | the people were sick at heart, because Frog had won. Frog was looked at. | He was not out of breath, because he had just given one jump ‖ and then had not moved any more. He just jumped back from there. | Therefore he was not out of breath, but Antelope was puffing. | He lay on his back, and said: | "You beat me, Frog." Then Frog took what he had won. | He went back, and those who lay down did not move.‖ In the evening they went back, and it was heard by all that | Frog had beaten Antelope. |

Now I have told how Frog beat | Antelope in olden times. |

70. The Star Husband

Well, I'll tell a story of how a girl was married | to a star. |

The people of olden times lived in a tent. Two girls went out. | When they were about to go to sleep, one of them looked up. She saw ‖ many stars. She saw a small one, and said: | "That is a nice little star [hanging] there. I'll marry him." Then | the two girls laughed when she said so. They went in again. | After they had slept, early in the morning she woke up. There was talking, | and she knew that those were not the voices of her parents. She arose, and she saw ‖ that she did not know the people. She was sitting down next to an old man. | She knew that she was married to him. She saw many other | young men. She thought: "When there are many | youths, why don't they marry me? My husband is old." | He said to her: "Here I am! The other ‖ night you said to me, 'You little nice one! Marry me.' | Now I have taken you." She looked

Well, I'll tell you about Little Sun. |

There was a town, Chicken Hawk Nest. The chief said: "I'll | go out to fight. Who among the young men can run fast?" | Little Sun said: "I'll start." It was already ‖ noontime, but he did not start. They thought he would start. | When the sun was nearly setting, they began to play ball. | When they had finished, Little Sun went there. They thought he would | not get there, for it was far. The place where he was to go was called | Kqawakmituk ([?] River). There was a town at Kqawakmituk. ‖ When the sun was setting, they played football. The game was going on, | and Little Sun was seen going along dragging his blanket. | They thought: "He must have started from Fish Hawk Nest." | He did not look as though he were strong. He was small. They did not know that he was a fast runner. | They said to him: "There is the tent of the chief." The name of this chief was ‖ Not-sitting-down-Long. He went in. Then they all went in | to hear the news. The chief from whom | Little Sun came was called Crazy Old Woman. |

Then they filled the pipe for Chief Not-sitting-down-Long. | The Chief, said: "Now speak! Why did you come?" || Little Sun said: "The chief made a request | that some one should go on the warpath. Nobody wanted to come, but I came." | The chief was seated. He said: "After how many days | shall the warriors start?" Little Sun said: | "He spoke this morning, and said, 'For three days || work on arrow wood and bow staves. Put feathers on your arrows. | Then, when everything is done, on the fourth day they shall start.'" | They said to Little Sun: "When did you start?" | He said: "This evening." Then it was known that he was a runner. | They said to him: "It shall be so. In three days they || also shall start. They will all be ready. | On the fourth day they will not go far and stop. | On the fifth day they will meet on Low Hills." |

It was dark, and Little Sun staid over night. He staid there in the morning. | At noon Little Sun was not ready to go. || At sunset he started back, dragging his blanket. | They began to peel their arrow-wood. In the town Fish Hawk Nest | they played ball in the evening. Just when they had finished their game, | Little Sun was seen. He came dragging his blanket. | He entered the tent of the chief. They assembled, || and they were going to listen to what the chief would say. He said: | "Yesterday after I started, I reached there just after the game was over." | He was asked: "How high was the sun when you got there?" He said: | "I just said so." He was told: "They were playing ball | when you started." He said: "Why, at the place to which I went || they had just finished their game when I arrived." Then it was known | that he was a runner. He was told: "What did the chief say?" | He said: "He will do just as you said. | Four days from to-day | you will meet at Low Hills. The chief will not go, || but his son will go. Now I have told the news." | And all said: "Yes." |

Then they made arrows and bows. After four days | they went on the warpath. They stopped over night. | The people of Kqawakmituk started also. They did not go far, and staid over night. || In the morning they went to Low Hills, and just at noon | they met. Many started—a crowd—and they went along. | Scouts went ahead. They did not see | anything. They went on. Now they were hungry. |

There were two friends. One was called Pipe Lighter. Some time before this, || Pipe Lighter had told his friend what he would do His friend had forgotten. | Then the friend of Pipe Lighter became hungry. At once | he remembered what he had been told. They were going along, and | the friend of Pipe Lighter thought: "Well, let me try!" There was a tree, | and there was a burl on it. Pipe Lighter was addressed: ‖ "Pipe Lighter!" He said: "What is it?" He was told: "A bear." | He said: "Where is it?" He was told: "Farther on, on a tree." | They said to one another: "Hold on!" They whispered, | because the bear was wild. Therefore they whispered, | so as not to scare it away. They looked at what they referred to. ‖ It was a burl. Then Pipe Lighter took out his arrow. | He went there softly. Then they said to one another: "Behold, he will make a mistake!" | Then they looked at it, and they laughed at him. | They did not make any noise when they laughed at him. Pipe Lighter went there | and looked around to see it. Then he aimed at it. ‖ The people were laughing. He shot. There was a noise of an arrow striking wood, | but already he had another arrow ready to shoot. Then they laughed aloud, | because he was shooting at wood. | He shot again, and hit something soft. His arrow stuck out, | and there was the noise of a bear. It was seen that the wood was moving. ‖ The bear started to run up the tree. It stopped; | and while they were looking at it for a little while, it fell down. | It was killed. Then Pipe Lighter and his friend scared the people. | They began to eat the bear. |

After they had eaten it, they went on. They went along. ‖ Nothing was seen yet, and they were again hungry. Now, | there were two other friends. The one knew | what his friend had told him. There was a brook, and they went to the water. | His friend said to him: "What did you say?" (I do not know | the names of the friends.) The friend said: "Friend!" ‖ He said: "What?" He was told: "There is a charr." | He said: "Wait, wait! There are many." They said to each other: | "Wait! There are charrs." Then the friends were looked at. | The one put on what he was going to use as a spear. | He did not look. He was not looking there at ‖ the water. Then he went along softly. Then it was seen | that he was about to spear wood. Now they laughed | and whispered. Then he threw his spear, and it struck something soft. | It moved and became a charr. | It was taken out of the water. It was eaten. It was small. They were not satiated, ‖ because there were many. |

They started again. They wanted to see what was happening. They arrived, | and did not see anything. Then in the evening they went on. | At night those who were the last talked, and said: | "Wait! It smells like people." ‖ It was very dark. Then they smelled the people. They went there, | and started a fire. Then they saw tracks of people. | Wolf Hat said: "Let us start, here | where I am going. You go along." It was very dark. Then | Wolf Hat started. He went along. Wolf Hat smelled || the people. They went along. Then | in the morning the wide trail of the warriors was seen. | There also were warriors. They were going to fight against the Kutenai. | They followed the trail, going along. |

The friends went ahead to see what was going on. One was named || Lamb Hat, the other was named Raven Hat. | They went to a valley and went on. After they reached the other side, | one of them said: "Go, friend! I can not do much with you, | friend." He saw that down below there was a town. | They were about to put up a tent. One man pointed right toward them. || Then Lamb Hat and Raven Hat stopped. | They stood there. When the one person pointed their way, | many looked at them. | Lamb Hat was standing there. He said to his friend: "You might be in some difficulty." | His friend said to him also: "You might be in some difficulty." || Then the one standing ahead was looked at. | He jumped around, and a lamb started up the mountain. | Lamb Hat had become a lamb. | Then the one standing behind stood there. Then a bird flew that way. | A small magpie flew that way to the head of the one standing there. || It stopped there and flew away again. | Then Raven Hat had turned into a stump. | The people all laughed, because that man had made a mistake | when he said that people had appeared on the one side. | They said to him: "We shot the parents of the lamb. || Therefore it is there. The other one is a stump. | You see, a bird flew to it." | Then they laughed. The one who had seen it thought: | "They were persons. When the lamb goes behind there, | it will become a man; and when the bird flies away, || it will also become a man again." |

Then the friends Lamb Hat and Raven Hat | saw each other. They said: "Indeed, I did something." The other one | said: "Indeed, I also did something." They talked together. | "Indeed, let us watch for a while!" Then they looked secretly || at their enemies. After a while they saw | that they were beginning again to make their tents ready. They said to each other: "Let us | start back!" Then they started and went along. |

saw us. We tried unsuccessfully | to do something." Then they started. Now it was night. | They went along, and they arrived at the town of their enemies. | It was a bad place. There were rough bowlders around there. They could not | go down. The same one, Lamb Hat, said: ‖ "Come here, the way I am going!" They went that way, and started. | Lamb Hat said: "When I am going to step, | come this way also." Then they started, going down. They did not make any noise on the stones. | Even though there were small stones, they did not make any noise stepping on them. Then | they all went down to the place where there was good grass, and ‖ they surrounded the place where the enemy was encamped. Then | they watched for them. They stood there. Early in the morning | they threw up something. They saw it clearly, | and they said: "Now fight them!" Then | they blew whistles and fought the ‖ enemy. |

Crazy Old Woman's son was the youngest one. He had not seen | any fighting. He thought: "I'll go with Chief | Not-sitting-down-Long. Whatever he does, I'll do." | Then Not-sitting-down-Long began to pursue them, and the ‖ youth named Rattling Claws did not turn his eyes from | the chief, Not-sitting-down-Long. Then he heard | that the town was being destroyed. They said: | "Ha, he! There is nobody like me [no man]. I hold Chief Harelip with my knife. | His clothing is fringed on one side." The two friends, ‖ Not-sitting-down-Long and Rattling Claws, went along. The friends were already | way in the town. They did not look at the tents. | They went to the middle. There was a tent there in the middle. | Not-sitting-down-Long jumped quickly to the head of the tent and stabbed him there. | He said: "Ha, he! There is nobody like me. manitou power, | and I should go right up this precipice." | Then Wolverene Hat was asked: "What would you do?" He said: ‖ "I should work my manitou power, and I should go back | the same way we came through." |

It was not long before one of them looked, and he saw | that already they were pursued by enemies. The way they came | was a narrow ledge (good place). Then the enemies came. They said to each other: ‖ "We are attacked." Both stood up quickly. | One climbed up the precipice. | The other one, when the attacking party came, went back. | When the enemies saw them stand up | at the place where the two stood, a lamb was seen going up, ‖ and a wolverene also came from there. | The wolverene had in its mouth the brisket. They were not looked at. The | wolverene went past the place where the crowd was. | They thought it was a wolverene, and they also thought | it was a lamb, and then they were not looked at. When ‖ they arrived at the place where the fire was, they looked about for them. | They looked all over. There was nothing. They said to one another: "Maybe | that wolverene that went past us was he, and maybe | the lamb that went by was he." Then the lamb went out of sight. It | went around and went down. Then it became a man again. The other one ‖ went along the bottom, below the precipice, and also became | a person again. Then there was no lamb, and the other one | was no longer a wolverene. Then they met again. | They spoke the truth when they said they would work their manitou power. Then they started. |

Now, the enemies of the friends were Kuyo'kwe. ‖ Then the Kuyo'kwe looked for the tracks of the friends; and they saw | that the lamb had become a person, and that the | wolverene—what they thought was a wolverene—was the other one. | They looked carefully for the tracks. They knew that when | the lamb and the wolverene had gone out of sight, both had become ‖ men again. They looked for their tracks and followed them. | Then they met again. The two went back. They were pursued | along their trail. |

The friends went back. They saw a lake. They went out to the water. | They saw a man on the shore of the lake. They went there. They knew ‖ it was Pine Cone. Pine Cone was an old man. He was hunting | muskrats. When they arrived, they said to him: "Run away! They come | in pursuit of us." Pine Cone said: "You tell a lie, Lamb | Hat." He was told: "We tell the truth. are the Kuyo'kwe. | They are many." Then Pine Cone was left, and they went on. ‖ He looked and saw them. The enemies looked terrible. | Then he started to run. The Kuyo'kwe arrived. | The Kuyo'kwe saw that he was an old man, | and they said to one another: "Don't kill him, for he is old!" |

The Kuyo'kwe went along. Pine Cone took off his blanket ‖ and tied it with rushes.[1] He tied his blanket over them. He thought | the Kuyo'kwe would think it was he. They saw that it was only | his blanket. They did not look at it. The grass was standing there with the blanket on. | When he was overtaken, he took his pointed arrow | and shot the Kuyo'kwe. Then the Kuyo'kwe cried | because Pine Cone had killed one of them. Then they started back | to their own country. ‖

When Lamb Hat and his friend came back to the town, | they said: "A great number of Kuyo'kwe are pursuing us. | Maybe they have killed Pine Cone." They were waiting for | the Kuyo'kwe to come. They talked among themselves: "Now let us go! | Maybe the Kuyo'kwe do not come because they are fighting with Pine Cone." ‖ Then they went the way the two friends had come. | They arrived at the lake. They went out to it, | and they saw Pine Cone lying there and one Kuyo'kwe lying there. | Then it was known that Pine Cone had killed him. | The Kuyo'kwe had gone back when Pine Cone had killed one of them. ‖ That lake where Pine Cone was lying is now | called Pine Cone.[2] |

Now I have told about Pine Cone. |

73. The Kuyo'kwe

Now, I'll tell how an old woman killed all the | Kuyo'kwe. |

They were camping about. One day they camped at | Smoky Place, as it is called. On the following day they moved on. ‖ Only one old woman remained on the village site. She was pounding (bones). | Therefore she did not go. On the following day she was going to leave | in the direction where the others had gone. Then at night she boiled | the bones. She was going to take the fat along. She thought: "I'll | boil all of them to-night. Early to-morrow morning I ‖ shall start." |

Then the Kuyo'kwe followed the tracks of the people. It was winter | and good traveling. The Kuyo'kwe arrived at Smoky Place. When they arrived | at the village site, they saw a fire burning. They came there, and | the warriors looked into the tent. They saw ‖ one old woman. They said to one another: "Let us go in. | We are cold. Let us stay here over night in her tent. | It is cold." They entered. They sat down. The old woman saw | the Kuyo'kwe enter. She saw that there were many | warriors. She was afraid. They took off their clothes, ‖ their moccasins, their leggings, and their shirts, and dried them. The old woman arose. | She went out and brought in fuel. She put it on the fire. | Then there was a great fire. The Kuyo'kwe said: | "The old woman is good. She knows that we are cold, and she makes a fire for us." | The old woman went there. She untied a parflèche and took out lard. ‖ She took two sticks and put | the fat on the fire. Then the fire blazed up. Then it melted. | The Kuyo'kwe laughed, and said: "That is a good | old woman. She knows we are cold. She makes a fire for us. She sees | that we are hungry, and she prepares food for us." Then ‖ the old woman saw that the fat was really melted. | She just stirred it. All the Kuyo'kwe were without clothing. | They were drying it. The old woman moved it about, and then all the grease caught fire. | The Kuyo'kwe jumped back. Therefore | the Kuyo'kwe knew where she went. She had taken the fire. ‖ There was a cliff, and she threw the torch down and jumped aside. | She lay down. Then the Kuyo'kwe | followed the old woman. Now the fastest runner had almost overtaken her. | He did not see that she had taken off the torch quickly, | and that she had just thrown it over the cliff. They thought it was still ‖ the old woman. When the fire was falling, he just | jumped down. He did not know that there was a cliff. Then the | many Kuyo'kwe jumped down. | All went down over the high bank. Then they were all | killed. The old woman got up again. She heard the Kuyo'kwe ‖ below groaning. She went back to her tent. | There was nobody there. She had killed them all. |

She thought: "My son is not a chief. I'll go to him. | He shall come." Then she started. She traveled the way they had gone. | Then she arrived, and entered the tent of her son. ‖ She said to him: "Go on; go to my tent. I killed all the Kuyo'kwe. | Some of them are not dead. Kill them. Much is their property. | Take some good clothing. You are not a chief. | Then you will be a chief." Then the youth started. | After a while the old woman told about what had happened. ‖ Then all started. When they got there, the youth had already killed | all those who were not dead. He had killed them and | taken their property. Then the youth became | a chief. |

Now, I have told how the old woman killed all the ‖ Kuyo'kwe. |

74. The Great Epidemic

Well, I'll tell a story of what happened long ago. |

The people were living there, and at once they had an epidemic. They died. | All died. Then they went about. They told one another the news. | Among all the Kutenai there was sickness. They arrived at one town, ‖ and told the news to one another. It was everywhere the same. | At one town they did not see anybody. They were all dead. | Only one person was left. One day the one that was left was cured. | He was a man. He was alone. He thought: "Well, | let me go around this world to see if there is any place where there is any one. If there is no one left, ‖ I won't see it again. There is nobody. Nobody ever comes on a visit." Then | he started in his canoe. He went about in it. He started in his canoe, and | came to the last camp of the Kutenai. When he arrived by the water where the people used to be, | there was nobody; and when he went about, he saw only dead ones, | no signs (of a living person). He knew that nobody was left. ‖ There were no signs (of life). After the one who was alive had left, not having seen anything, | he went along in his canoe. He arrived where there had been a town. He went out, | and there were only dead ones. There was nobody in the town. | He started to go back. Then he came to the last place where Kutenai lived. He went | to the town, and dead bodies were all piled up ‖ inside the tents. He always went about, and he knew | that all the people were gone. He was crying as he went along. | He thought: "I am the only one left in this country, for the dogs | also are dead." When he came to the farthest village, | he went about, and he saw some footprints of people. ‖ They had a tent. There were no dead bodies. Farther away there | was the village site. He knew there must be two or three (alive). | He even saw footprints—large ones and smaller ones. | He did not know if there were three. He knew some one was saved. He went on in his canoe, | and thought: "I'll paddle that way. Those who lived here used to go that way. ‖ If it is a man, he might have moved." | Then he started in his canoe. He went along in his canoe, and saw above there | two black bears eating berries. He thought: "I'll go | and shoot them. If I shoot them, I'll eat them. I'll dry them. Then I'll | see if any one is left. After I have dried the meat, ‖ I'll look for them. I have seen footprints of people. They might be hungry men | or women. They shall eat." Then he started, and went there | where the bears were. He arrived, and saw | that they were not bears, but women. He saw one older one, | and the other one a girl. He thought: ‖ "I am glad to see people. Let me take that woman | to be my wife." Then he went and took hold of | the girl. The girl spoke, and said to her mother: "Mother, | I see a man." Her mother looked. The woman saw | that her daughter was telling the truth. She saw a man ‖ taking her daughter. Then the woman and | the girl and the youth cried, because they saw that all | the Kutenai were dead. When they saw each other, | they all cried together. 75. The Giant

There was a town. All the youths were eaten by a giant. | Then an old woman and her husband cried, for their children were dead. | Every day the giant went to that town at night. | There, at the far end, was a tent. He went there, | and he saw an old man and an old woman. He thought: ‖ "I'll sleep, and in the morning I'll eat the old man and | the old woman." Then he slept. Early in the morning the old couple cried. | While crying, the old woman arose. She was about to start a fire, | when she saw some one sleeping. She looked at him. It was | the giant. She told her husband: "Look at the giant sleeping ‖ in our tent!" The husband arose, took | his knife, and cut off the giant's head. He shouted. | The people said: "Why are the old couple glad? | They were crying." They went there, and the giant was lying there. They had killed him. |

Now I have told what the old couple did ‖ long ago. |

76. The Giant[1]

Well, I'll tell you what happened to a newly married man | among the people of olden times who became a giant. |

There was a town. There was a newly married youth. He went hunting. | The newly married youth was a skillful ‖ hunter. (I do not know his name.) He killed | a mountain sheep. He skinned it. After skinning it, he felt hungry. | He thought: "I will dry some of it, so that it may be light. | I will carry it to-morrow. It is far, and it would be heavy if I should not dry it." | Then he made a place to dry it. He began to cut up ‖ the meat, and hung it up. He was about to hang almost all | on his drying frame. There were two thin pieces of meat | lying there. He did not know where they fell off from. | He was hungry. He thought: "I'll eat it." He put the meat on the fire; | and when it was done, he ate. It tasted good. ‖ What he had killed did not taste that way. He thought: "What may it be, that it tastes so good?" | He looked at it for some time, but he did not see where it had come from. | Then he sat down. When it was dark, he felt a pain here. | He looked, and he saw that his own flesh was missing. | He looked at it, and he saw that a knife had done it. Then ‖ he knew that it was his own flesh that tasted good. | He thought: "Well, I'll cut off another piece of my flesh." | He cut it off, put it on the fire, and when it was done he ate it Then he saw | that it tasted good. He wanted some more. He began to cook | his flesh on the fire, and, although he had eaten, he wanted some more. ‖ Then there was no more flesh on his legs. It was late at night, | and he was still eating his flesh. Then in the morning he was still eating. | He wanted more. He could not stop eating. It was | evening again, and he had eaten all his flesh. | He had gnawed it off, and only bones remained. ‖ He ate his own eyes, and only the orbits remained. | He even ate his own tongue. He ate his whole body. Only | his intestines remained lying there. His intestines remained, and his throat. | It was that way; he did not eat his intestines and his stomach. | Only his bones remained; and he did not eat his brains and his marrow, ‖ but there was no more flesh on his skull. He was sitting down. | Then he would not look any more at the mountain sheep. | Three days passed, and he did not return to his town. Then | one of his elder brothers went to look for him. He followed his tracks. | He went along, and saw where his younger brother had killed ‖ the mountain sheep. He could see his tracks below. He went along. | There was a creek. He saw a fire. | His younger brother was there. He was not dead. He thought: "Maybe his leg is broken, | and therefore he does not go home." He went there and spoke to him. He said: "Oh, I love | my elder brother! I'll keep myself alive for two days with him." (The elder brother) saw him sitting there. ‖ He looked strange. Only his bones remained. He said to him: | "What did you do, that you look like this?" He was told: "I am no more | a human being. I have become a giant. Don't come near me! | I love you." Then (the elder brother) went there. He was taken hold of. He thought: | "There are only bones. He is not strong." The giant took hold of him and killed him ‖ and ate him. On the following day his next younger brother | said: "I'll go. If I do not come back, I shall have died." | Then the youth started. He also arrived, | and he also was killed. On the following day the remaining one | started. The boy said: "I also ‖ may die. I love my elder brothers. They are all dead now, | so I will die, too." The youth went on. | He was small. He saw a manitou. He was told: | "Go there! Your eldest brother who went out first is there. He ate all | your elder brothers. He became a giant." Then the youth was told plainly ‖ by the manitou that (his elder brother) | had been changed into a giant, and how he had killed the two who went there. | He was told what to do. Then he started. He arrived, | and saw his elder brother. He looked terrible. He was pitiable. | He said: "My younger brother, I love you. ‖ I have become a giant. I'll eat you." Then (the boy) did | what the manitou had told him, and he could not kill him. | (The boy) went back. He saw that (the giant) followed him. The boy arrived | at the town. He said: "A giant pursues me. | My brother has become a giant. He ‖ ate my elder brothers who went there.

III. ABSTRACTS AND COMPARATIVE NOTES

The folk tales of the Kutenai show intimate relations to the tales of the tribes of the plateaus, as well as to those of the plains east of the mountains. A considerable number of tales are common to the Kutenai and the neighboring Salish tribes, particularly the Okanagon. There are also a considerable number of identical tales found among the Kutenai and the Blackfeet.

It seems that the series of Transformer tales centering around Naɬmu'qtse and Ya.ukᵘe'¡ka·m are peculiar to the Kutenai, although the tale of the origin of arrows is also known to the Okanagon. These tales are quite distinct from the Transformer tales of the Shuswap and Thompson Indians, and also from the tales of Old One as found among the Blackfoot. In 1891 I was told that when human beings were first created, they arose before they were quite finished, and danced until they fell down dead. Then human beings were created who became the ancestors of the Indians.

So far as the incomplete material allows us to judge, one of the most characteristic traits of Kutenai folk tales is the systematic development of animal society. Frog is the old grandmother of Muskrat, the Chipmunks, and Doe. Her brother, Owl, is hostile to her grandchildren. The fish K!'k!o·m is the grandfather of Doe, but his relationship to Frog is not stated. The Chipmunks are the wives of Fisher. Chicken Hawk's wife is Grouse. Coyote's wife is Dog. Their children are Misqoło'wum and Q!ota'ptsek!. Coyotes' brothers are Moose and Kingfisher. The only animal that is married to various people is Doe, but it is not certain whether the same Doe is meant every time. She is the wife of White Stone. Their child is Ya.ukᵘe'¡ka·m. Ya.ukᵘe'¡ka·m's brother is the father of Duck. The Doe is also married to Wolf, and at another place to Lynx. Lynx and Doe have two sons, who are Sun and Moon. The other animals do not seem to be related to this group, but live in the same village, and are either friends or enemies.

It is one of the characteristic traits of Kutenai and Okanagon mythology that the tales are welded together into connected groups. This tendency is not as marked as it is among the Navaho and probably also the Ute tribes, but it sets off the Kutenai tales clearly from the disconnected tales of the Shuswap and Thompson Indians.

In our series one group of tales centers around the creation of the sun. The first part of the story relates to the origin of the brothers who finally become sun and moon. Rabbit finds his sister Doe, whom he hides in the tent of his grandmother Frog. Lynx marries the Doe, and their children are two boys. The couple are deserted; and when the boys grow up, they come to the place where the sun is being made (see p. 285).

The second part of the story begins with the origin of Ya.ukᵘe′¡kam, who also goes to the place where the sun is being made and tries his powers. The story of his origin is briefly as follows: Frog's granddaughter, Doe, is taken into the water by White Stone, whom she marries. Their son is Ya.ukᵘe′¡kam, who in a number of exploits obtains for the use of mankind arrow wood, the arrow straightener, sinew, flint, and the bow stave (see p. 290). Then he goes with Coyote to the place where the sun is being made. They pass a number of dangers—the fat, the giant, and the thunderbirds (see p. 285).

When the various parties meet, one after another tries to act as the Sun, and finally the sons of the Lynx are accepted.

We have no other incidents that are clearly connected with this tale, but I suspect strongly that the tale of the deluge produced by the Chicken Hawk may connect in a similar way with the story of the Sun (see p. 304).

On account of Ya.ukᵘe′¡ka·m's great powers, the people are afraid of him and drown him. The fish resuscitate him; and he follows the people, finds his brother's wife and her son, and tells them to resist those who maltreat them. He kills the chief, and the people are even more afraid of him (see p. 291). This passage recalls the story of Coyote's son (see MAFLS 11:120). Finally Ya.ukᵘe′¡ka·m goes to the east end of the world (see p. 291).

The second cycle, apparently independent of the former one, is that of the war against the sky.

Naɬmu′qtse crawls about in the country, and his tracks form the rivers (see p. 288). During this period Muskrat kills his sister-in-law and escapes to the sky. The animals make a chain of arrows and climb up, but Wolverene tears the chain. The animals fight with Muskrat. When they find the arrow chain broken, they kill the thunderbird, and with its feathers they fly down. The Bat and the Flying Squirrel, who receive no feathers, sail down. The Sucker jumps down and breaks its bones. The Woodpecker family are not given feathers. They climb down the sky, and reach the earth in the west, passing through the horizon (see p. 288). They meet Naɬmu′qtse and try to kill him by throwing into his mouth a red-hot stone wrapped in a goat heart. Naɬmu′qtse causes it to fall aside. He warns the woodpeckers not to sleep in wooded places and not to touch a charr floating in the water (see pp. 288, 289). The Woodpeckers disobey; and when they sleep in a wooded place, a toad sticks to the body of one of them. When Flicker touches a charr, he and his wife Duck are swallowed by a water monster. In order to find out where Flicker is, Woodpecker sends out birds to invite the fish to his tent. They come led by their grandfather (a fish with thick head). They smoke, and the fish indicates by signs that Flicker is in the lake. The Woodpeckers try in vain to kill the water monster, which escapes along the Columbia River. At Red Water, near Windermere, it is wounded: therefore the water is red there. It escapes into a cave. Naɬmu'qtse is told to stop up the outlet of the river, and he makes the portage separating Columbia Lakes from Kootenai River by molding the soil with his knees. Fox kills the monster. They cut it up, and Flicker and his wife Duck come out. The flesh of the monster is thrown about to serve as food for the people (see p. 289).

Then Naɬmu'qtse arises, his head touches the sky, his hat falls down, and he himself falls over and dies.

In the Okanagon tales the making of the bow and arrow, which forms a large part of the Ya.uk^{u}e'$_{i}$ka·m tradition, is connected with the war on the sky. The most connected form of the tale has been recorded by Albert S. Gatschet (Globus, vol. 52, p. 137). The animals make war against the sky in order to obtain the fire. They are unable to reach the sky with their arrows. The Wren decides to make a bow and arrow. First he kills an elk (here is introduced the story of Chickadee and Elk, p. 304). The Wolf tries to steal the elk, and Wren throws red-hot stones wrapped in fat into his mouth. He uses the rib of the elk for making his bow. He obtains the feathers for his arrow by allowing the eagle to carry him into his nest. He obtains flint by causing the owners of flint to fight. Then he goes to the place where the animals shoot the arrows up to the sky. He meets Coyote. (Here is introduced a story of the small animal that is able to shoot trees. See Blackfoot, de Josselin de Jong VKAWA 14:73; Uhlenbeck VKAWA 13:182; Pend d'Oreilles, Teit MAFLS 11:114.)

The Wren kills Coyote, and Fox resuscitates him. Coyote meets the Wren a second time. They gamble, and he wins Wren's clothing. He goes on, and meets young Grouse, whom he kills. The old Grouse then scares him so that he falls down a precipice (see p. 293). Wren recovers his arrows, makes the arrow chain, and the animals climb up. When Grizzly Bear climbs up, the chain breaks, owing to his weight. Then Eagle, Beaver, and Turtle are sent to obtain the fire. (See Lillooet, JAFL 25:299, where other references are given.)

The Turtle falls down from the sky and kills a person. Then follows the story of the Turtle who asks to be thrown into the water (see p. 305). The story closes with the return of the animals.

1. THE SUN (4 versions: Nos. 33, 48, 54, and VAEU 23:161). First Version.—Coyote 49 asks Chicken Hawk to accompany him to the place where the Sun is being made. Coyote wants to try first to act as the Sun. Chicken Hawk tells him that on their way they will pass grease, and that in passing he may take one bite. Coyote disobeys, takes more than one bite, and the grease falls down and rolls down a precipice with Coyote. They reach the place where the Sun is being made. Coyote walks along the sky, but is found unsatisfactory. Chicken Hawk follows, and is found to be a good Sun.[1] Coyote is envious and tries to shoot him.[2] His bow and arrows catch fire, and the earth begins to burn. He lies down on a trail, which does not burn, and he is saved.[3]

Second Version.—The animals try who is to be the Sun. When Raven acts as the 67
Sun, it is dark. When Chicken Hawk tries, the sky is yellow. When Coyote tries, it is hot. He tells everything he sees. When he returns, they tell him that he is too hot and too talkative. A woman has two children, who arrive, and try in their turn. When the first one goes along the sky, it is comfortable; and when the sun sets, it is 69 cool. He is selected as Sun. The younger brother is selected to act as the Moon.[1] Coyote is envious and shoots the Sun at sunrise.[2] His arrow catches fire, the earth begins to burn, and he saves himself by lying down on a trail. For this reason trails do not burn.[3]

Third Version.—Coyote and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m are traveling along. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m 111 tells Coyote that they will pass a piece of fat, and that he may take one bite. After they pass, Coyote turns back in order to have another bite, and the fat rolls down. He runs after it. The fat falls into the water and sinks. When he goes back on his tracks, all the fat has been transformed into white stone. In order to get the fat that has fallen into the water, he heats stones, intending to boil it. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m misses Coyote, and finds that the fat is gone. He follows down to the water, and sees Coyote engaged in heating stones. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m makes a spear and spears the fat, which 113 breaks up and floats.—They go on, and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m tells Coyote not to pay any attention if he should hear a child crying. After they pass the child, Coyote turns back and puts his finger into the child's mouth. The child sucks the finger and pulls in Coyote's arm. When Ya.uk^{u}′$_{i}$ka·m notices that the child is silent, he turns back and kills the child with his knife. All the flesh on Coyote's arm has been sucked off. The child was a giant.—They go on, and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m tells Coyote not to listen if he should hear birds crying. Coyote disobeys, and finds himself in the nest of the thunderbirds together with Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m asks the young thunderbirds when the old birds come back. They reply that they come back in the evening

115 in the form of a thundercloud. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m tells Coyote that the thunderbird will ask whether he is tired, and that he is to reply that his younger brother Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m is tired. When this happens, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m is told by the old thunderbird to stretch out his leg, because the bird wants to suck out the marrow. At this moment Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m kills the thunderbird with his spear. The same is repeated when the old male thunderbird comes back. When the old birds are dead, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m sits on the back of one of the young thunderbirds, which flies up, and then carries him
117 down, while Coyote is shouting. Then Coyote sits on the back of the other thunderbird; and when he shouts, the bird takes him down. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m ordains that thunderbirds may only scare people who lie about them.[1] Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m and Coyote reach the place where the Sun is being made. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m is tried; but the day is red because his clothing is painted with ochre. Coyote is tried, but when he acts as the Sun, it is too hot; and he tells what the people are doing, and asks them to leave 119 some food for him. The two sons of the Lynx arrive. They have been brought up by their mother, who had been deserted by Lynx. He had gone to catch salmon for making soup for his wife. The young Lynxes meet him, and he tells them that he is unable to catch salmon. The boys show him how to catch salmon. When the Lynx children arrive at the place where the animals try to make the Sun, one of them goes 121 up and is found a satisfactory sun.[2] Then they send the other one up as the Moon. Coyote is envious and shoots at the rising sun,[3] which sets his arrow on fire. The fire pursues him. He lies down on a trail and covers himself with a blanket. The fire passes over him without hurting him. Therefore trails do not burn.[4]

Fourth Version[1] (VAEU 23).—Hare's wife (a small red bird) has deserted him and (162)
lives with a red hawk. Hare finds tracks of elks (not moose, as given in the original), and goes home to make snowshoes. The animals start in pursuit of the elks. When Hare goes to get wood for his snowshoes, he meets Doe. He wishes to marry her. She refuses him. He goes home and tells his grandmother Frog what has happened. She informs him that the Doe is his sister. Hare takes her home, and she lives in the tent. Her presence is unknown to the other people. Hare goes out to pursue the elks. His grandmother tells him to put mittens on his feet in place of his snowshoes. When going out, he meets Raven and other hunters, who are returning empty handed. They maltreat him, but he goes on. He meets Woodpecker, a diver, and Wolf. He passes the game hunters, and meets Hawk and his wife, who pelt him with snow. Only Weasel, Fox, and young Wolf are ahead of him. On the following day he meets them. They return, because they are unable to overtake the elks.

Hare puts on his mittens and soon overtakes the elks. With one arrow he kills (163)
one-half of them, and with the second the rest. He butchers them and shakes the fat, which becomes small in size. He fills the stomachs with blood, piles them up, and tells them to burst if any one should carry them. He carries the fat home, shakes it, and it assumes its former size. He feeds his child, and throws some fat into the fire in order to inform his brother Duck, who comes and is given food. He sends his brother to tell the people that they may go to bring in the meat. He wishes that Hawk should select the stomachs. Bear demands the ribs; Wolf, the legs; Raven, the eyes. Hawk loads the stomachs on the back of his wife. Hare follows them, steps on her snowshoes, so that she falls. The blood runs over her, and she freezes to death. The skins are carried into Frog's tent. When within a few days they are ready tanned, the people grow suspicious, and find the tracks of Doe. Lynx finds the place where the girl stopped, tears out four hairs, which he puts on the ground. The hairs impregnate her when she urinates. Doe gives birth to a child. The people hear it crying, and discover the Doe. In order to discover the unknown father of the child, Frog orders the men to take up the child.[2] Coyote, Raven, and others take it, but the child continues to cry. Lynx comes back from hunting. He buries his clothing and strike-a-light under stones. When the people see Lynx coming, the child quiets down; and (164)
when he takes it up, it does not cry any more. They maltreat Lynx, extinguish the fires, and desert him, Doe, and their child.[3]

Lynx is a good hunter. After some time Doe has a second son. The people are starving. Lynx's grandmother, Magpie, comes to look after her grandson. He feeds her. In summer Lynx goes to fish salmon. He makes a fish weir. When the boys are grown up, their mother sends them to the place where the sun is being made. She tells them that they will pass their father's fishing-place. The boys start and reach the place where the sun is being made. Raven is the sun; it is dark and cold. Coyote acts as sun; it is very hot, and he tells the people to keep food for him. Because he runs home quickly the day is short. He tells everything he has seen in the daytime. The sons of Lynx are tried, and one is made the sun, the other the moon.[4] Coyote is (165) envious, and shoots the sun at sunrise. His arrows catch fire, fall down, and set fire to the grass.[5]

73 2. THE WAR ON THE SKY [1] AND NAŁMU'QTSE (3 versions: Nos. 50, 52, and VAEU 23:165). First Version.—Muskrat wants to marry his brother's widow. She refuses him, and he kills her with an arrow which differs in style from the tribal arrows.[2] The people try to find out who killed her, and call in Frog, Muskrat's grandmother. Although she knows what has happened, she declines to tell, and answers by signs. The people think that the Sky people have killed the woman, and decide to make 75 war on the Sky. They shoot arrows up to the Sky and make a chain.[3] Since it is not quite long enough, Raven puts his beak at the lower end. Then it reaches the ground. When the animals are ready to go up, Wolverene asks them to wait for two days because he has to put away his things. When he comes back, he finds the animals have gone. He becomes angry and tears down the chain of arrows. The remaining people pursue Wolverene, who, when almost overtaken, cuts up himself and becomes a squirrel, which he puts under his own belt. When somebody thinks he recognizes him, he says that he is hunting squirrels.—Muskrat has made a large lake in the sky and put up many tents around it. When the people attack the village, a left-handed man comes out. This happens in every tent, and the people recognize that there is only one person, Muskrat. They go back; and when they come to the place where the arrow chain had been, it is gone. They go to the drinking-place of Thunderbird, kill him, and distribute his feathers. While these are being distributed, two bats expect to be given the best feathers, but finally nothing is left for them.
77 They spread out their blankets and sail down. Flying Squirrel pulls out his skin and sails down. The Sucker throws himself down and is broken to pieces. When his brother's widow touches him, he is cured.—The warriors Flicker, the Woodpeckers and their sister (a bird with yellow breast and gray feathers), have been left in the sky. They walk to the place where heaven and earth meet. At Nelson they meet supernatural beings, who tell them never to touch a fish and not to stay over night in the woods. They find a charr which has drifted ashore. Flicker tries to kill it, but is swallowed by it and taken into the lake.[4] They camp in the woods, and a toad crawls under Woodpecker's blanket and sticks to his body. The others go on and meet Nałmu'qtse, who was crawling along Kootenai River naming the country. He asks the Woodpeckers, his nephews, for some food. They put a red-hot stone into the 79 heart of a mountain goat, and try to throw it into his mouth.[5] They miss, and the place is called Little Heart. Woodpecker sends two water birds to invite in all the Fish, telling them that the lake will be dried up if they should not come. The birds dance at every bay, inviting the Fish. The chief of the Fish, K!'k!om', is the last to arrive. He is given a pipe; and Woodpecker, his brothers, and the Fish smoke. The Fish inquires for his grandson; that is, the Flicker that had been swallowed by the water monster; and he moves his eyebrows, showing that Flicker is in the lake. As a reward he is given meat, which may now be seen as a red spot on each side of the body. The Woodpeckers make ready to kill the water monster. The first who tries to attack him is Long Legs, who, however, is swallowed. Woodpecker tries next. He intends to kick the monster, but the blow glances off. The monster is chased along Kootenai River and comes back by way of Windermere to Red Water.
81 Woodpecker hits it on the foot. Its blood makes the water red. At Long-Water Bay the monster hides in a cave under water. Flicker takes Woodpecker's war bonnet and spear and tries to chase the monster out of the water. When the monster appears, Flicker is afraid, and drops the spear.. Nałmu'qtse is asked to dam up the end of the lake and to prevent the escape of the monster. He breaks off a piece of the mountain and solidifies it with his knees, making the portage between Columbia River and Kootenai River. Woodpecker continues the pursuit; but when the monster looks at him, he becomes afraid and is unable to kill it. The Fox finally takes a tomahawk, kills the monster, and cuts it up. Flicker and Duck come out. They have become white in the stomach of the monster. While in its stomach, they made a fire with their canoe. The monster had asked them not to make too large a fire, because it might melt its fat. The Flicker had been worn down to its present size.

They cut off the ribs of the monster and throw them down the river, where they become a cliff. The body is cut up and scattered about. It becomes the food of the 83 people. They forget the Kutenai, and only a little blood is left, which they scatter over the country. For this reason the Kutenai are few.[1]

Second Version.—Nałmu'qtse is called the grandfather of the Kutenai. He is a man 85 of giant size, and never stands up. He knows that he is about to die, and travels over the country, giving names to places. Wherever he crawls, a river flows.[2] He meets 87
the Woodpecker brothers and their sister sitting on a mountain. They have come down from the sky after the animals have made war on Muskrat (as told before). They are angry because they have not been given any feathers to fly down. Woodpecker tries to kill the people; and when he meets his uncle Nałmu'qtse, he tries to kill him too. He throws a heart containing a red-hot stone at him, pretending that it is food.[3] Nałmu'qtse nods, and it falls down, and the place is called Little Heart. Nałmu'qtse warns Woodpecker, telling him not to touch a charr and not to sleep in dense woods. The Woodpeckers disobey, and Flicker is swallowed by a water monster.[4] Nałmu'qtse crawls along and decides to stand up. When he rises, his war bonnet touches the sky. It falls, and he also falls, saying that the place will be called Ear. 89

Third Version (VAEU 23).—The father of Muskrat [5] has two wives. After his death (165)
Muskrat wants to marry his second wife, who refuses him. He shoots her with an arrow of unknown design. He lies down, pretending to be sick. The people find the dead woman, and inquire for the owner of the arrow. Muskrat smells of it, and says it came from the sky. They make war against the sky. Coyote shoots up an arrow without reaching it. Other animals try in vain. Finally two Hawks shoot. Their first arrow strikes the sky after flying one day and one night. They make a chain of arrows,[6] which Raven completes by putting his beak in the nock of the last arrow. Wolverene asks the other animals to wait, because he wants to look after his traps. They leave before he returns; therefore he is angry and tears down the arrows, which are transformed into a mountain (Mount Baker, near Cranbrook, B. C.). Muskrat has climbed up into the sky, where he makes tents along the shore of a lake. The houses are dirty. He shoots from the houses, passing under ground from one to the

She disobeys,[1] and is pulled down by a man named White Stone, who lives in the water, and marries her. Their son is Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m.—White Stone's brother, Gray Stone, dislikes Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m, who is sent by his mother to visit 91 his great-grandmother Frog. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m goes; and when he sees the old Frog Woman, he is afraid.[2] He makes her sleep and plays in the tent. He goes back to his mother, who wants him to stay with his great-grandmother. When Frog wakes, she notices that somebody has been there. She makes a small bow and a small basket, and hangs them up. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m gets back, makes her sleep again, and plays with the bow, which he breaks. When the Frog wakes, she says that her grandchild must have been a boy, because he had been playing with a bow. Next time the Frog captures him.
93 When Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m is growing up, he asks the Frog Woman for arrow wood and service-berry wood.[3] She warns him, but he sets out to obtain the wood from the Grizzly Bear, who owns it. Cranes, Marmots, and Beavers are Grizzly Bear's watchmen, appointed to warn him of the arrival of strangers. The youth bribes them to be quiet until he returns. He takes the service-berry bushes and makes his escape.
95 The animals make a noise; Grizzly Bear assumes his animal form, and pursues Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. The animals make excuses, but the Bear threatens to kill them after having overtaken Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m, who causes a hill to rise behind him, which detains Grizzly Bear. Thus arrow wood is obtained. He goes to his mother's tent, and Gray Stone promises to kill Grizzly Bear. Gray Stone rubs himself with grease and becomes a stone, which is heated by the fire. He orders Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m to stand next to the doorway. Grizzly Bear, when trying to bite him, closes his eyes; Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m steps aside, and the Bear bites the post. Meanwhile Gray Stone becomes so hot, that the 97 stone almost bursts. Just when the Bear opens his mouth, the fragments of the stone fly about; Gray Stone goes right through Grizzly Bear, who dies. After this the Grizzly Bear remains a bear. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m skins the grizzly bear, and drags the skin which is attached to the head into Frog Woman's tent. She is afraid of the grizzly bear. She paints her legs red and stands in the doorway, holding a hammer. She had put up a sharp stone in the doorway. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m drags the grizzly-bear skin in, and Frog strikes it; but Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m jerks it at that moment, so that she strikes the stone,
99 which she breaks. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m asks for feathers for his arrow. He is told that ducks on a lake own the feathers. He goes there, wearing ear ornaments. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$-ka·m, who is painted red, asks one of the Ducks to come ashore, asks for his feathers, and promises to pay him with his ear ornaments. The Duck obeys, and becomes 101 very beautiful. When the other Ducks see it, they all go ashore, and he takes their feathers. He adorns all of them.[4] Thus feathers are obtained.

Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m goes to obtain the arrow straightener from Bighorn Sheep. He goes to Bighorn Sheep, who tells him that the arrow straightener is on the other side of the river. When he is climbing the mountain, Bighorn goes back across the river in his canoe. He puts the penis of the Bighorn into the water, by means of which he produces a snowstorm. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m knows what is coming. He finds a tent, and is taken care of by his brothers and sisters, (probably animals) that live there. The house owner counteracts Bighorn's charm by striking his testicles. Bighorn thinks he hears the bursting of Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m's eyes, and Bighorn causes the cold to stop. While it is cold, Bighorn is throwing warm things on himself. After some time Bighorn Sheep returns to look for Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m. After the Bighorn has crossed the river, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m goes into his canoe, crosses the river, and does the same as the Bighorn has done. A snowstorm arises, and he goes into Bighorn Sheep's tent and throws warm things on himself. When he hears the noise of eyes bursting, he says, "Don't let it be cold any more!" After all this has happened, the old man has been transformed into a mountain sheep, and Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m takes the arrow straightener. Thus man obtains the arrow straightener. 103

In order to obtain sinew, Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m goes to the tent of Mouse, who is afraid of the Bull Moose, which almost breaks the tent. He obtains first a poor bow, then a good bow, kills the Moose for Mouse, and takes the sinew. Thus man obtains sinew.[1] 105

He goes to obtain Flint.[2] Flint is a man. If a person pays him well, he transforms himself into stone, and allows pieces to be broken off. When Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m arrives, Flint retains the form of a man, because he expects high pay. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m tells Flint that Diorite Man claims to be stronger than Flint. By carrying tales from one to the other he causes them to quarrel and to fight. When they strike each other, large pieces of flint and diorite fall off, and he is able to obtain the stone he needs. Thus he produces flint and tough stone for the use of man. 107

Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m goes to obtain bow wood. Two squirrels as large as grizzly bears stand on each side of a trail. He kills them. From the body creeps the small squirrel of our times. He passes between two moving trees, which crush any one who passes between them. He keeps them apart by putting his spear across.[3] Then he scatters the cedar wood. 109

Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·.m asks his mother where the sun rises, and he tells her that he is going there.

4. THE PEOPLE TRY TO KILL YA.UK^{U}E′$_{I}$KA·M (No. 55).—The people kill Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m and throw him into the river. Then they break camp and order Crane to drag a young tree to cover their tracks. The fish nibble at the drowned man's body, and he awakes. He kicks the fish, but they say that they are restoring him. He follows the people, meets Crane, whom he kills. He also kills Crane's wife. When he approaches the people, he sees his sister-in-law, who is lagging behind and who is crying. She carries her child, Duck, on her back. The child recognizes him and tells his mother, who, however, disbelieves him. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m shows himself, and she tells him that the people take away his brother's game, and that Duck has to render menial services to the chief, that they also take away the tent site that she is preparing. Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m tells his brother and his sister-in-law to resist the people.[4] The people are afraid when the two act independently. The chief, after defecating, calls Duck to clean him, and Duck kills him with arrow points that he has attached to his head.[5] Ya.uk^{u}e′$_{i}$ka·m shows himself, and the people are afraid of him. 121 123 125 127

191 5. COYOTE AND TREE CHIEF[1] (2 versions: No. 64 and VAEU 23:166).—Coyote passes Tree Chief's tent. Tree Chief's mother likes him, and wishes him to become 193 her son's friend. The two friends go out. When they pass Wolf's trap, Coyote diverts the attention of his friend and pushes him in. He pretends to be unable to pull him out. He induces him to throw out all his clothing, including a hawk, which he carries on his head, and his saliva. Then he leaves him and goes to the town where a chief lives who has two daughters. The chief, Golden Eagle, believes that he is 195 Tree Chief. Wolf and his wife find Tree Chief in the trap. He has taken the form of a young child. Wolf wants to kill him; his wife wants to raise him. They agree that whoever reaches him first shall do with him what he pleases. Wolf's wife digs through the ground very quickly and rescues him.[2]

Tree Chief asks Wolf Woman for sinew, which the boy uses for making a netted ring.
197 He holds it up, and it is full of birds. Next he asks for the leg skin of a yearling buffalo calf. He makes a netted ring, rolls it into the tent, and tells the woman to cover her head. It becomes a buffalo, which he kills. He tells the woman to put the blood and guts behind the tent. On the following day they are transformed into 199 pemmican. Coyote has married one of the daughters of Golden Eagle. Tree Chie takes some pemmican, and goes to the river to draw water. There he meets the chief's daughter, to whom he gives the pemmican. Next the boy asks for the leg part of the skin of a buffalo bull. He obtains a buffalo in the same way as before. He puts the blood in the skin and puts it away. On the next day the blood has been transformed into pemmican; the skin, into a painted blanket. He goes again to draw water, and tells the girl to say that she has received pemmican from the one whom she saw at the river.

Tree Chief hides the buffalo, and the people in the village of Golden Eagle are 201 starving. Golden Eagle throws up a feather of his body, which becomes an eagle, which is perched on a tree. He arranges a contest, and orders every one to try to shoot the eagle. Each is to have one shot. Coyote shoots repeatedly, but does not hit the eagle. Tree Chief appears, and hits the eagle. Coyote pretends that his arrow had hit it; but when he is carrying along the bird on his arrow, it is seen that it
203 is a prairie chicken. The boy goes back to the Wolf. In the evening he meets the girl again, and tells her that on the following day at noon he will show himself. He goes to the village in the same form as he used to have. The people are puzzled, because he himself and Coyote look alike. Tree Chief's saliva turns into shells, which are eaten by the sparrow hawk that sits on the youth's head; while Coyote has lost this art, and his hawk is starving.

205 Tree Chief tells the chief, his father-in-law, to look at his fortune-telling place. The chief sees tracks of buffalo cows, and sends the people to go hunting. Tree Chief goes ahead, piles up buffalo chips, which he transforms into buffaloes. The people kill the buffaloes. Tree Chief takes an old mangy buffalo cow. He is laughed at by 207 Coyote. Tree Chief takes it home. He gives his arrow to his wife, and tells her not to touch any one with it. When he is skinning the mangy cow, it turns into a fat buffalo. A dog tries to get some of the meat. The woman touches it with the arrow, and the dog falls down dead. When she touches it again, the dog revives. Coyote also kills a dog, and tries to revive it by touching it with an arrow, but he is unsuccessful. Tree Chief's wife carries the meat in her blanket into her tent. On the 209 following morning the blood is transformed into pemmican; the skin, into a painted blanket. Coyote is unable to imitate this feat. Coyote tries to make buffalo out of 211 buffalo chips, but is unable to do so. Finally Tree Chief gets impatient, and strikes Coyote with a firebrand, intending to kill him.

Coyote runs westward, while Tree Chief goes eastward. Tree Chief says both will 213 come back at the end of the world.

Second Version (VAEU 23).—Tree Chief is Coyote's friend. Golden Eagle asks (166)
Tree Chief to marry his daughter. The two young men start, and on the way Coyote throws Tree Chief into a pit. He asks for the bird which Tree Chief carries on his head, for his blanket and saliva. He puts these on, leaves Tree Chief in the pit, and goes to the village of Golden Eagle, where he marries the girl. Tree Chief transforms himself into an infant. The owner of the pit and his wife try who can reach the child first. Tree Chief by magic makes the soil loose where the woman is digging, so that she reaches him first. When the boy is a few years old, he asks for a snare in order to catch birds. He sets it, moves his hands, and the snare is full of birds. He asks for the skin of a buffalo calf and makes a netted ring. He tells the old people to lie down, and rolls the ring against the tent. The ring becomes a buffalo calf, which he kills. The intestines, which the woman puts away according to the boy's orders, are transformed into pemmican. The same happens to the skin of a one-year-old buffalo, which is transformed into a young bull, which he kills. He tells the old people that he is Tree Chief. He goes to the river and meets Golden Eagle's younger daughter, whom he marries. The people are starving because the buffaloes have disappeared. Tree Chief tells the hunters to wait at a buffalo drive. By kicking buffalo chips he transforms them into buffaloes, which are driven to a precipice. There are two buffaloes for each hunter. Tree Chief selects an old lean one for himself. He tells his wife not to strike their dog. When she disobeys, the dog falls down dead. He tells her to strike the dog again, and the dog revives. Coyote is unable to imitate this. Tree Chief drives away Coyote, reminding him that he had tried to kill him.

6. Coyote and Fox [1] (No. 1).—Coyote asks Fox for his blanket. They race. (This 1 is probably a reference to the tale of Coyote borrowing Fox's blanket and being carried away by the wind.) 2

7. Coyote and Locust (No. 2).—Coyote carries Locust. They meet a Grizzly Bear. 3
Coyote puts Locust down at the edge of a cliff. Locust scares the female Grizzly Bear, who falls down the cliff and dies.[2] Coyote and Locust eat the body. Later on they meet the male Grizzly Bear. Coyote is put down and turns into a stump, which the Grizzly Bear tries to bite. Coyote is retransformed and gives fat to the bear to eat. He says it is beaver fat. The bear asks whether they have seen the female 4 Grizzly Bear. After first denying to have seen her, Coyote tells the Bear that he

(the Bear) has eaten his wife's fat. Coyote runs away, pursued by the Bear. Coyote falls, and his hands strike a buffalo horn, with which he scares away the Grizzly Bear.[1]

141 8. COYOTE AND GRIZZLY BEAR [1] (No. 57).—Coyote sees Grizzly Bear feeding, and 143 calls him names.[2] Grizzly Bear pursues him. While they are running, Coyote jumps over the Bear. The Bear chases him around a stone. Coyote falls down and falls on the horns of a buffalo, which stick on his hands. Coyote rises, and with the horns frightens away the Bear. The Bear swims the river, and is hit with the horns.

3 9. COYOTE AND LOCUST [3] (No. 3).—Locust is carrying his leg. Coyote envies him,
4 and breaks his own leg too. The two make friends. Coyote goes ahead, and is kicked by Locust, who kills him. When Magpie picks at Coyote's eyes,[4] Coyote revives.
5 He slaps himself, and the dung tells him [5] that he will become a knife attached to Coyote's foot. Locust goes ahead, and Coyote kills him.

5 10. COYOTE AND GRIZZLY BEAR (No. 4).—Coyote makes fun of Grizzly Bear's dung.[1]
6 In order to catch Coyote, the Bear first creates service berries, then wild cherries, 7 which Coyote does not eat. Then he creates rose hips; when Coyote is eating these, Grizzly Bear catches him, together with the bushes. Coyote pleads that he did not offend Grizzly Bear. When Grizzly Bear tries to hit him, Coyote runs away. He 8 calls for the help of his manitous. One of these becomes a river; another, a log which lies across the river and bobs up and down; a third one becomes a tent. Coyote is told to come out of the tent as soon as the Grizzly Bear appears, and to abuse him. When the Bear reaches the river, he tries to cross on the bobbing log. Coyote holds the log, but lets go of it while the Bear is crossing over it. The Grizzly Bear falls off and is drowned.[6]

8 11. COYOTE GOES VISITING [7] (No. 5).—Coyote's wife is Dog. Coyote sends his chil-
9 dren to visit their uncles. They go to Kingfisher, who stretches his hand back to get his sharp horn. Kingfisher sends his two children to bring two switches. He ties his hair over his forehead, and jumps from the top of the tent into the water through a 10 hole in the ice. He comes back carrying two switches filled with fish. The following day Dog sends her children to visit their uncle Moose. Moose cuts off his wife's nose, throws ashes on the cut, which heals up at once. He sends his children to get roots, 11 which are rolled in the ashes of the wife and become guts. He slaps himself, and camas appears. On the following day Coyote tries in vain to imitate him.

12. COYOTE AND BUFFALO [1] (2 versions: Nos. 6 and 47). First Version.—Coyote finds 12 the skull of a buffalo bull. He kicks it. After a while he hears a noise and sees Buffalo coming in pursuit. His manitous hide him in the stump of a burnt tree, which the Buffalo shatters; next in a stone, which he also shatters; in a pond, which 13 Buffalo drinks; in a rose bush, which Buffalo can not tear to pieces. Coyote asks for peace and offers to smoke with Buffalo. Buffalo says that he lights his pipe by holding it up to the sun. Buffalo's wife had been taken away by other Buffaloes, and he 14 had been killed. Coyote sharpens Buffalo's horns, and the two set out to recover Buffalo's wives. They overcome the other Buffaloes, and Coyote receives the larger Buffalo Cow, which is to be his wife. He sends her ahead, and tries to shoot her in a valley. The arrow does not enter her body. Finally he kills her. After butchering 15 her, he sits on a stone. Wolf comes and eats the Buffalo, and Coyote is unable to get up until the meat has been eaten.[2] He pounds the bones and tries to extract the marrow. A bird tells him that he must not pound them,[3] that Badger is to do so.
While Badger is pounding, Coyote is asked to take hold of Badger's tail.

The marrow is put into a bladder. Badger runs away, eats it, and throws back the empty bladder. Coyote intends to break the remaining bones, and is told by a bird that the bird will do it. Coyote is sent away and told to return when he sees smoke. 16
When he returns, the birds have flown away with what remains of the Buffalo.

Second Version.—Coyote finds the head of a Buffalo Bull,[1] passes it three times, and 61 breaks it with a stone. He covers a flat rock with his blanket, and lies down singing.
He hears Buffalo coming in pursuit. He runs away. When he is tired, he calls on his manitous. The first one has the form of a stump, in which Coyote hides. Buffalo breaks it in two. The next one is a stone, which Buffalo also breaks in two. The third one is a bush, which Buffalo can not tear. They make peace and smoke together. 63 Coyote institutes the peace pipe. Buffalo tells Coyote that other Buffaloes took away his two wives and killed him. Coyote sharpens Buffalo's horns, and they overcome the other Buffaloes and take back the two wives. Buffalo gives to Coyote one of his wives, which Coyote selects because she is not as strong as the other one. Coyote sends his Buffalo wife ahead and kills her. He sits down on a stone and cries for the 65 wife whom he has killed. Wolves come and eat the Cow, while Coyote is unable to get up.[2] After the Wolves have disappeared, the stone lets him go. He is about to break the bones to extract the marrow, when Badger forbids him to break the bones, and offers to break them himself. Coyote holds on to Badger's tail while Badger is pounding the bones. Badger puts the marrow into the bladder and runs away with the marrow, eating it. He throws back the bladder. Coyote intends to pound the remaining bones. Two birds forbid him to do so, and tell him that they themselves will pound them. Coyote is sent to make a spoon. When he comes back, the birds fly away with the chopped bone.

13. COYOTE AND BUTTERFLY (No. 17).—Coyote hears Butterfly singing. (The story 16 is unintelligible.)

14. COYOTE AND GROUSE [4] (No. 8).—While Grouse and husband are away, Coyote 17 enters the tent, puts their children into a bag, and carries them away. The children break the bag and escape.

17 15. COYOTE AND STAR (No. 9).—(Unintelligible.)

18 16. COYOTE AND THE WOMAN[1] (No. 10).—A woman sees Coyote coming. She is afraid and lies down, pretending to be dead. Coyote comes up to examine her, and thinks she has been dead for a long time.

19 17. COYOTE AND THE MANITOU WITH THE HAT[2] (No. 11).—Coyote meets a manitou whose hat is made of fat. He eats of it and hurts the manitou.

19 18. COYOTE AND THE DUCKS (3 versions: Nos. 12, 59, and VAEU 23:167). First Version.—Coyote and his two children reach a lake on which there are many ducks. He tells his children to wail for his brother-in-law. A Mallard Duck comes ashore to hear what is going on. The others follow, and Coyote pulls out their feathers.[3]

161 Second Version.—Coyote tells his son to wail for his brother-in-law. The Ducks
163 hear him. One comes ashore, and says that he wants to play with them. They go from one lake to an adjoining one. The Ducks fly; Coyote and his son walk. Coyote stretches a net across the connecting river and induces the Ducks to swim. Then he catches them, takes them home, and dries them. The surviving Ducks
165 discover what he is doing and fly away. Lynx steals Coyote's ducks, and pulls his face and his tail long. When Coyote discovers this, and when he overtakes Lynx while asleep, he takes back the ducks and pushes in his tail and face.[4]

Third Version.—In this version the tale forms an incident of the tale of Coyote and Dog. (See p. 299.)

20 19. COYOTE AND OWL[5] (3 versions: Nos. 13, 24, and 36). First Version.—Owl carries away crying children. Coyote pretends to be a child and cries. Owl asks for the child. He is put into the birch-bark basket of Owl, who carries him home. The children dance in Owl's tent. Coyote closes Owl's eyes with gum, and throws him into the fire. The children return.

Second Version.—Owl carries the children away in a bark basket, the inside of which is set with awls. Coyote pretends to be a child, and is carried away by an Owl. He sends the children to get gum. Owl dances; and when he gets hot, Coyote gums up his eyes and burns him. The ashes are transformed into owls. 37 38

Third Version.—Coyote transforms himself into a child. When he cries, he is thrown out of the tent, and Owl carries him along. He induces Owl to dance, and kills him. 51

20. COYOTE AND TROUT (No. 25).—In winter Coyote meets a Trout Woman, marries her, and follows her into the water, which they reach by jumping into a water hole. The Trout goes to a place where people are fishing, saying that there is much food there. Coyote breaks the hook. The people make a large hook, by means of which they pull him out of the water. When he is all out, the people club him. He shouts, saying that he is not a trout, but Coyote. He resumes his former shape. 38 39

21. COYOTE AND CARIBOU (No. 35).—Caribou grows fat by eating young grass. When he is fat, Coyote kills him and then mourns for him. 51

22. COYOTE AND DEER (No. 37).—Coyote intends to kill Deer, and in pursuing him is frightened by the wind. He kills Deer, who is holding his own head. He asks whether he is holding Deer's father's war bonnet. The story is not by any means clear. 51

23. COYOTE'S CONTESTS [1] (No. 49).—The people of several towns have killed Coyote's relatives. Coyote asks Woodpecker, Flicker, Hawk, Chicken Hawk, and 69 71

Bluejay to accompany him and to have contests with these people. In the first town they have a diving-contest, in which Duck is matched against Beaver. According to Coyote's instruction, Duck hides under a canoe and breathes through a knot hole. After Beaver has come up, Duck comes up too. In the second town they have a wrestling-match. Flicker wrestles with Kneecap and is almost defeated. Hawk sends his supernatural power to help Flicker. When Kneecap is almost overcome, 73 Flicker finishes the contest alone. In a third town they have an eating-match, which is won by Bluejay. Then Coyote and his friends begin to quarrel, each wanting to go to a different place. Coyote wants to go to swamps, Duck to lakes, Flicker to dry trees, Woodpecker to thick woods, Hawk to scattered trees. They separate accordingly.

127 24. COYOTE AND DOG (2 versions: No. 56 and VAEU 23:167).—Coyote's wife, Dog, and her two children, cut fuel. When the tree falls, a deer jumps out, which Dog holds. The children call Coyote to kill it. When they call him, he spills the rose hips on which they are living, makes a bow, and goes to shoot the deer. He tramps 129 down the snow and tells Dog to let go of the deer. His first arrow passes over the deer, which breaks through the snow. The second one passes under it. The deer escapes. Coyote travels along on his snowshoes, and finds that they are full of shrews, which he roasts. Dog is carrying her daughter on her back. She sees the fire, and 131 thinks that Coyote has killed the deer. Dog and her daughter leave Coyote and his son. Coyote reaches a lake and catches young beavers, which he ties to his son as ear ornaments. While he is away, the beavers revive, and drag the boy into the water.
133 Coyote returns to save the boy, and kills the beavers. He gives the beaver fat to his son, while he eats the meat, but afterwards he exchanges meat and fat. Coyote plays sliding down a hill. While he is doing so, his son freezes to death.[1] On going on, he 135 comes to a town in which he finds a woman and her child. The child knows his thoughts. He discovers that the child is his grandson. He rejoins his wife, the Dog. When the hunters return in the evening with venison, Coyote enters the tent; but 137 they pretend not to see him, and soil his blanket. When he returns, his wife tells him that only hunters are allowed to take part in the evening meal. On the following day he joins them, and says he will kill two bucks and a grizzly bear with seven young ones. When they are out, Coyote sits down at the head of the line of hunters. The people claim that this is improper, because he has not obtained any game. The chief of the hunters, Sun, carries pitchwood for starting a fire. Coyote puts flicker feathers in his moccasin, and when he runs fire starts. He surrounds the deer with 139 fire and kills them. The hunters say that every hunter must carry his own game. Coyote calls his manitous, who tell him that the hunters blow on their game to make it small. He does the same, and carries home seven bears and two bucks. When he kicks the game into the tent, it assumes its natural size. In the evening he does not join the feasters until his wife tells him that he may go. In the Sun's tent he sees a shield (drying-frame?), which he steals. After walking a long distance, he lies down
141 to sleep, and on the following morning finds that he is back in the Sun's tent. This is repeated until the Sun tells him that he must walk a whole day and a whole night before lying down.[2]

(167) Second Version (VAEU 23).—Coyote's wife, Dog, goes gathering wood and catches a deer. She sends her daughter to Coyote to kill it. Coyote has no arrows, and makes two. He travels slowly because the snow is deep. He tells his wife to let go of the
(168) deer. He misses it. He tells his wife that they will pursue the deer, and asks her to follow. The woman packs up the tent and follows. Coyote feels that his snowshoes are heavy, and finds that they are full of mice, which he fries. He gives one pile to his wife and daughter, and keeps another for himself and son. The dog and her daughter desert him. She goes to the Sun, who marries the daughter. Coyote consoles his son, saying that Dog will come back when she has nothing to eat. He catches beavers, and uses two young beavers as ear ornaments for his son. He goes to get wood. The beavers revive and pull the boy into the water. Coyote rescues him. He goes with his son to a place where two lakes are, connected by a small river. He cries, sitting on the shore of the lake. The Ducks ask him why he is crying. The Ducks offer to play with him. They dive and fly from one lake to the other. In this game Coyote is almost drowned. In order to take revenge, he splits a tree and spreads it. Thus he places it in the river. He tells the ducks to swim from one river to the other, and every day a few are caught in the trap.[1] Coyote takes them to his tent and singes off the feathers. Lynx smells the burning feathers, causes Coyote to sleep, steals the ducks, and pulls out the nose and legs of Coyote and of his son, In return Coyote and his son kick in Lynx's face and break his tail.[2] Lynx is frightened and runs away. Coyote goes to search for his wife, and finds her in the Sun's house. His daughter is holding an ugly child, which hears his thoughts when he thinks that the child is ugly. He wishes to kick the child. The child moves, and thus produces a gale, which starts their fire. The hunters come back, and all the women must leave before they begin to eat. Coyote is also sent away because he has not been out hunting. When he does not go, the hunters soil his blanket and do not give him anything to eat. The woman feeds him. Sun is blind. Wolf tries to restore her eyesight, and after four attempts he succeeds. On the following day Coyote joins the hunters, who go out carrying torches. Coyote does not carry any fire. When he puts feathers into his snowshoes, he produces fire with every step. The chief tests the running-powers of men by letting two run in a circle in opposite directions. Coyote kills seven grizzly bears and two deer. The hunters shake the game in order to make it small, and leave him. Coyote learns from his dung advisers what to do with the (170) animals. He blows on them, and they shrink. He puts them into his belt and runs home. He is allowed to eat with the hunters. One day he leaves in order to visit his son. He steals the Sun's torch. After walking some distance, he lies down to sleep; and when he awakes, he finds he is back in the Sun's house. After this has happened three times, the Sun tells him that he must run for three days and three nights without stopping, and then the Sun will not return to him.

25. COYOTE AND FOX[3] (No. 58).—Coyote and Fox send their sons to obtain super- 143
natural power. Coyote's son returns soon; Fox's son stays away the whole night. 145
The one receives as his power moonlight; the other, darkness.[4] The two boys go to a village in which the people play with a hoop. Young Coyote wants to steal it; Young Fox wants to wait until morning. When Young Fox is ready to start, Young Coyote is asleep. The hoop is in a tent in which two people stand watching the doorway, each holding a hammer.[5] The two pass, take the hoop, which touches the doorway a little and makes a sound. The two old people awake and call the other 147 people, who pursue the boys. Young Coyote carries the hoop. When he becomes tired, he gives it to Young Fox. Young Coyote is caught, and the people say they will not kill him. Young Fox rolls the hoop ahead and sings, saying that Young Coyote has been killed. Old Coyote understands that Young Fox has been killed. The hoop rolls into the tent, and falls down where Coyote is sitting. Then he knows 149 that his own son has been captured. Old Coyote and Fox make war on the people who have captured Young Coyote. They find the people using Young Coyote in place 151 of their hoop. Fox makes a sign to him, and Young Coyote runs away and makes his escape.

Salmon hears about the hoop, and tries to win it by gambling with Coyote. Coyote and his partner Young Fox lose the hoop. Coyote sends Young Fox to Old Fox to 153 borrow his partridge tail. Fox plays with Young Coyote as partner against Salmon, and wins back what Coyote has lost. Salmon loses his daughter, who is then married to Young Coyote.

The couple have a child. They travel in their canoe to the Salmon country. Fox 155 accompanies them. The woman is seated in the bow of the canoe. They reach a dangerous place. Fox, Coyote, and his son enter a bladder. Fox has his pipe[1] in the hole of the bladder. The canoe upsets above the falls and sinks; but they come up unharmed below the falls, drifting down in the bladder. The same happens at another place.

When they reach the Salmon country, the woman climbs a steep precipice, on which she hopes to kill Coyote and Fox. Fox throws tobacco on it, and they are able to climb it. The woman asks her elder brother to kill Fox and Coyote. He throws dog manure into the fire in order to suffocate them, but Fox saves them in his bladder.[2]
157 They are sent out to fish salmon during the night. Coyote stays behind in the tent, and is warned not to fall asleep, because the people will kill him. He is also told to come out if he should see a small fire, which would indicate that Fox and Coyote were fighting with the Salmon people. Two old persons stand in the doorway; and when Coyote sees the light of the canoe getting small, he rushes out. Coyote deceives the old people, who kill each other with their hammers. Coyote goes aboard the canoe.
159 The woman's brother transforms himself into a salmon. A Salmon boy, who accompanies them, moves his torch so that Fox shall not hit the salmon with his spear. The boy tells Fox to strike the salmon tail. If he should have done so, the salmon would have upset the canoe. Fox knows this, and strikes the stomach of the salmon. They cut off its head. Coyote is told not to look back. He disobeys, and the canoe can not be moved. The pursuers are satisfied when Fox throws the salmon head into 161 the water, and the canoe moves on.

The people are sent to dive for the salmon head, and the one who succeeds in getting it is promised the Salmon chief's daughter.[3] Turtle succeeds, and marries the girl, who refuses to talk. When he makes her laugh by tickling her, he finds that her mouth has a foul smell, and he leaves her.

165 26. COYOTE KILLS PANTHER AND LIBERATES THE SALMON (No. 60).—Coyote's wife, Dog, sends him to visit Panther. He finds him engaged in making arrows, while his 167 wife is cleaning skins. They refuse to give him food. He sends his wife, telling her that their meat is hanging close to the doorway. Panther scolds her. When she returns, Coyote makes a bow for himself and his son, and a hammer for his wife and 169 his daughter. They attack Panther, and eventually kill him and his family. They skin them and throw the bodies out of the tent.

Coyote acts as Panther used to do: he calls the game, which appears, and which he shoots. Since he shoots too much, the game disappears, except two animals. The animals suffer, and say that they recognize that it is Coyote who has shot too many of them. They send Little Flathorn, who discovers the bodies of the Panthers.
171 The animals make war on Coyote. They throw stones down from the mountains. Coyote paints himself and puts on his war dress. His wife and his children are killed by the stones, and finally he himself is hit.

He transforms himself into a plank [1] and drifts down the river. He lands at a fish trap. Two girls find him and carry him to the tent. When they put fish on the plank, it eats the fish. They recognize that he is Coyote, and throw him into the water. 173

He sees two girls picking berries, and transforms himself into an infant, which they carry home. The girls stay at home, watching the child. Coyote sees that when one of the girls stretches her hand backward, salmon fall down; and that when the other one stretches out her hands, a fawn falls down. When the berries are all eaten, they deliberate whether they may leave the child alone and tell him to put out the fire. Since he is able to do so, they go out. When the girls are gone, he discovers the salmon and fawns behind the tent. He digs a ditch to the river. On the following 175 day he completes the ditch and drives the salmon into the river. He throws the fawn into the fire and leaves it. He sets fire to the house. When the girls come back, they find the salmon gone. They think that the bones in the fireplace are those of the child. Finally they recognize that they have been fooled by Coyote, and ask him to leave some food. He shakes his blanket, and a few of the salmon turn back.

He meets Wolverene, who is fishing. Wolverene's sister announces his arrival; and Wolverene says that the visitor is Coyote, and asks her not to look at him. For this reason Coyote does not give them salmon. He meets Sparrow, who is fishing. 177 When his arrival is announced, Sparrow accepts him, and his daughter marries him. Therefore he leaves salmon there. On the following morning he tells the salmon to go into the fish trap, first one, then two, then three, and finally many. Coyote leaves 179 his wife, and closes the passage between Columbia Lakes and Kootenai River.

27. ORIGIN OF THE SEASONS [2] (No. 61).—Coyote goes to Squirrel to ask for food. She has no more, and tells him that spring is still far away. He tells her what to do. 181 Squirrel cries, and says there will be no food until spring. The seasons are kept in another town; and after twelve months of winter, the owners untie the bag containing spring, summer, and fall. The people start to steal the summer season. They go to a town in the sky, and Lynx is sent ahead to enter the tent. The people are placed outside at intervals, the strongest one farthest away from the tent.[3] The Lynx boy goes into the tent, and two old women tell him where the springtime is hanging. He heats some gum by the fire; and when it is melted, he sticks it on the mouths of the old women. Then he takes down the bag containing the spring. The women can not speak, but finally the people discover that the bag containing the spring is being

183 28. COYOTE JUGGLES WITH HIS EYES [1] (No. 62).—Coyote sees a man, Snipe, who takes his eyes out of their sockets and throws them up. Then they fall back. Coyote steals the eyes. He puts his fingers into the eyes of Snipe, who finally catches him, 185 tears out Coyote's eyes, puts them into his own eye sockets, and takes Coyote's eyes to his tent. Coyote finds some gum and puts it into his orbits; but when it is hot, the gum melts. He puts some foam into his orbits; it bursts, and he is blind again. He picks huckleberries, which he uses for eyes. Then he meets two children who are picking huckleberries, takes out the eyes of one of them, and uses them for his own. On his way to the town he hears that the people are using Coyote's eyes to obtain good luck. He kills the old woman who gives him this information, shakes her body 187 out of her skin, and assumes her shape.[2] When the granddaughters of the old woman come, he asks them to take him to the place where the people are playing with Coyote's eyes. Then he dances, and during the dance he takes away the eyes.

189 29. COYOTE AND DEER [3] (No. 63).—The deer kills the people. Coyote resolves to pull out its teeth. When the deer gets his scent, it pursues him. Coyote catches the deer and pulls out its teeth and makes a tail of grass for it. He tells the deer to snort when it sees people. He kills two deer and comes to the town, and people are scared when they see him carrying the deer.

30. RAVEN (No. 65).—A chief wishes that everybody shall die twice. Everybody 213 agrees except Raven, who wants to eat the eyes of corpses. His decision is accepted. The people kill Raven's two children, and he wishes in vain to have the previous decision reversed.[1]

Ant tightens his belt in order to bury the dead. For that reason the ant has a narrow waist.[2]

Raven is hungry and hides the buffalo.[3] The people are starving. They ask 215
Beaver to pretend to be dead. Raven appears and wants to eat Beaver's eyes. Beaver holds him, and the people capture him. Raven is taken into the tent where the people are assembled. Coyote sits on top of the smoke hole. Raven refuses to tell where he has hidden the game. Finally he shouts and frightens Coyote, who falls down. Then Raven flies away through the smoke hole. Magpie has good eyes, and sees in what direction Raven is flying. This makes Coyote angry, and he throws dust into Magpie's eyes. Therefore magpies' eyes water. The people send Jack Rabbit (Dog?) and Hare to look for game. They reach a tent inhabited by two old women. They see the tracks of buffaloes. The one transforms herself into a pup; the other one, into a stone. The dog lies down near a water hole. One of the old women wants to throw the pup into the water; the other one pities the pup and takes it home. The other woman takes the stone home in order to use it as an anvil. A bladder and a bunch of claws are hanging in the doorway. When the buffaloes come in, these two give notice by their noise. At night the one boy breaks the bladder with a stick; the other one steals the claws. When the boys are some distance away, they shake the claws and sing, calling the buffaloes. The game runs out of the tent. The women find that the bladder is broken and the rattle taken away. The women with lifted hammers stand by the side of the trail of the game. The two youths hang on with their teeth to the testicles of a buffalo bull. The women strike it, and make its sides flat. All the pemmican in the house rolls out. Thus the game is secured by the people.

31. THE DELUGE (2 versions: Nos. 27 and 66). First Version.—Chicken Hawk's wife picks huckleberries. A sea monster abducts her.[1] Chicken Hawk shoots the monster, which drinks all the water.[2] When Chicken Hawk pulls out his arrow, the water streams out,[3] and there is a deluge. Chicken Hawk takes off his tail and puts it up, saying that if the water rises higher than the stripes on his tail the people will die. The water stops before reaching the last stripe, and then goes down again.[4]

Second Version.—Chicken Hawk's wife, Grouse, picks huckleberries. When swimming in a lake, the water monster threatens to kill her. She pours the huckleberries into its mouth. When she goes home, she pretends to have been unable to pick huckleberries because she felt ill. When she goes out again, she meets the sea monster, who becomes her lover. When going home, she pretends to be sick. Finally Chicken Hawk goes out to watch her. He sees her with the sea monster. When his wife comes home, he tells her that the huckleberries are bad, and asks her to wash them. On the following day Chicken Hawk follows her, and shoots the water monster with one of his two arrows. With the other one he shoots his wife, whom he transforms into a grouse. The water monster goes back into the lake and drinks lake and rivers. Then he dies. The people almost die of thirst. Chicken Hawk pulls out the arrow, and the people are able to drink again. The water rises, and the people climb the mountains. He places his tail upright, and says that if the water should pass the third stripe of the tail the world would come to an end. The water stops rising before reaching the last stripe, and goes down again.

32. CHICKADEE AND ELK [1] (No. 14).—Chickadee wishes to cross a river, and asks 21
Elk to take him across. While Elk is carrying him, Chickadee kills him.

33. FROG AND PARTRIDGE (No. 15).—Frog Woman marries Partridge. After a while Partridge finds his first wife, and they go back to their children.

34. BEAVER AND TURTLE [2] (No. 16).—Turtle goes after the head of a chief while 22
he is asleep. He is captured the next morning. The people threaten to cut off his head: Turtle says he does not fear a knife. They threaten to shoot him: he says he does not fear a bow. They threaten to chop him up: he says he does not fear an ax. 23
They threaten to drown him, and he asks them not to do it. When he is thrown into the water, he swims away, shaking the head of the chief. The people try to pursue him; but Beaver gnaws through their bows, and the pursuers go back.

sees Panther's reflection in the water.[1] He tries to hit him in the water with his fluid. When he is unable to do so, he lies down and sees Panther in the tree. He turns to shoot him; but Panther kills him with his arrow, which he points with his claw.

41 Second Version.—Panther sees Skunk coming, and pretends to be dead. Skunk puts him into a bucket and carries him along. Skunk says he is afraid only of whistling. Somebody whistles. Skunk is scared, puts down Panther, who breaks the bucket. Skunk finds Panther's tracks. Panther climbs a tree. When Skunk drinks, he sees Panther's reflection, and tries to kill him in the water by means of his fluid. When he is tired, he lies down and sees Panther in the tree. He shoots him and kills him.

48 Third Version.—Skunk finds Fox, whom he puts into a pot. He says that he is afraid of whistling. Somebody whistles. Skunk runs away. Fox breaks the pot and escapes. Skunk pursues Fox, who hides in a tree. Skunk sees Fox's reflection in the water,[2] and tries to kill him. When Skunk is tired, Fox shoots him.

43 36. CHICKEN HAWK AND TOAD (No. 28).—(This story is almost unintelligible.) Chicken Hawk and Blue Hawk are hunters. Toad and Golden Eagle (?) marry them. Chicken Hawk kills Toad. Toad's parents find her, and try to kill Chicken Hawk. They capture him and put him over the fire. Blue Hawk knows what is happening to his brother, and rescues him.

46 37. CHIPMUNK AND OWL[3] (2 versions: Nos. 32 and 46). First Version.—Frog is the grandmother of Chipmunk. She sends her to the river, where she gathers rose hips. She meets Owl, who pretends that Chipmunk's mother wishes her to accompany Owl. Chipmunk asks Owl to cover his eyes, and runs away. She runs back to her grandmother, and asks her to hide her. Frog puts her into a kettle of soup, in which Chipmunk is drowned.

59 Second Version.—Frog warns her granddaughter, Chipmunk, not to go to the river. She disobeys, and meets Owl, who tries to seduce her by saying that her relatives want her to accompany him. She always replies that the particular relative is dead. Chipmunk asks Owl to cover his eyes, and escapes. Owl just succeeds in scratching Chipmunk's back. Chipmunk asks her grandmother to hide her. When she puts her into a basket, Chipmunk makes a noise. When she puts her into her mouth, she can not hold her. She puts her into a kettle with soup. Owl arrives. Frog says that she has not seen Chipmunk. Owl asks for a drink, discovers the soup, drinks it, and 61 finds Chipmunk in the bottom. He kills her. Frog washes the bones of Chipmunk, and revives her.

25 38. MOSQUITO[4] (No. 18).—Mosquito is invited to eat choke cherries and service berries, but declines. He is offered blood, and drinks a great deal. He is killed, and small mosquitoes fly out of his body.

39. RACE OF FROG AND ANTELOPE.[1] (2 versions: Nos. 29 and 69). First Version.— 43
Frog and his friends go to Antelope's tent in order to play. They stake their clothing. Frog makes his people lie down along the race course. When Antelope is running, one Frog after another appears ahead of him.

Second Version.—Chief Frog goes with his people to Fish Hawk Nest, the town of 245 Antelope, in order to race with him. They stake their property. The men and women Frogs lie down along the race track. Frog stakes his blue clothing. Antelope 247 laughs at Frog. In the beginning Antelope does not run fast; but when he finds that Frogs are always ahead of him, he runs faster and faster until he is exhausted.

40. THE TWO TSA'KAP (No. 31).—There are a brother and sister Tsa'kap. The boy 45
bathes in a lake, and is swallowed by a charr. His sister catches the charr on the hook, and cuts it open. The brother speaks inside, and comes out.[2] They go back to their tent. The sister warns him not to shoot a squirrel. He disobeys. When he shoots, his arrow falls down in a tent, in which he finds a woman, who compels him to undergo a swinging-contest. When the Tsa'kap swings, the rope does not break. When the woman swings, it breaks and she is killed.[3] The sister warns him not to go in a certain direction. He disobeys, and kills a beaver. The supernatural people say that he stole it from them. He returns home and asks his sister for their father. The sister first prevaricates, and then tells him that their father has been killed by a 47 grizzly bear. The brother goes to kill the grizzly bear. He shows his strength by shooting at a tree, which falls over. He kills the grizzly bear with his arrow, skins it, and takes his father's scalp. He returns, and he and his sister move camp.

41. THE MINK (VAEU 23).—Mink has three brothers. He is the lover of the Grizzly- (170)
Bear woman, and Grizzly Bear tries to kill the brothers. He gives them a basket which he said contains berries. As soon as Bear is gone, Mink opens the basket and finds it contains bear hair with which he was to be poisoned. Bear sees this and rushes after them. He kills the brothers. Only Mink survives. Mink makes a small pit and throws something into it, which is transformed into a girl. He throws (171) her away. He repeats this experiment, and finds a boy, whom he raises. When he sees the Bear on the other side of the river, he jumps into the water. The Bear tries to get him, makes a raft, drifts down the river. Here Mink kills him. He meets Bear's brothers, transforms himself into a fly, but is seen by the Bears. Then he transforms himself into a very small fly, which the Bear swallows without noticing it. He kills the Bear with his knife.[1] At Bonner's Ferry he builds a salmon weir under an overhanging rock. Every day the weirs are found empty, except that of Mink. The people see a meteor coming down, which empties the weirs. The meteor is a basket. The thieves leave the basket and carry the fish back. The animals discover that the rope by which the meteor is let down is a snake. Owl and Lynx cut the snake. They find that in the basket there are a buffalo, a mountain goat, a frog, and a turtle. These are transformed into stones. The people try to kill the frog by striking it with sticks, but they are unable to do so. For this reason the place is named Strong Belly.

225 42. WOLF (No. 67).—Wolf is married to Doe. He does not like the moccasins that 227 his wife makes, and therefore goes to fight his brothers-in-law. The Buck hides his wife and son in a hole, and transforms himself into a deer. He goes up a mountain. The Wolves kill the people, but can not find Wolf's brother-in-law. Wolf follows the tracks of his brother-in-law; but whenever he reaches one mountain, Buck is on the following one. Finally Buck goes to his father's father, the fish K!ᵉ'klom', who is 229 smoking. The Fish throws his mittens on the Buck, and thus hides him. Wolf enters Fish's tent, but does not see his brother-in-law. He asks for him, but the Fish denies having seen him. Fish makes the figure of a deer of grass, throws it out of the smoke hole, and it becomes a deer, which stands on the other side of the river. When Wolf sees it, he swims across the river in order to get it. Then the Fish launches his 231 canoe and goes aboard with Buck. They catch up with Wolf and kill him.

43. SKUNK[2] (No. 68).—Skunk and his younger brother Fisher live in one tent; Frog and his granddaughters Chipmunk and Big Chipmunk, in another one. The Chipmunks want to get meat; and Frog sends them to Fisher, but warns them to beware of Skunk. She tells them that Fisher always gets home in the evening. The girls wait at some distance from the tent. Skunk causes his guardian spirit to pound bones in the tent, while he himself goes out dressed like Fisher. Big Chipmunk 233 insists that the person who came out is Fisher, and finally persuades her elder sister to go in with her. When Fisher comes home, he sends Skunk for water. Skunk is afraid to go far away, and goes to his own spring. Fisher sends him back to get water from his spring[3] and to bring in the game. He gives him a tump-line made of entrails.[4]
235 Skunk is afraid that Fisher may take the girls, but has to go. Fisher causes a gale to overtake Skunk. The tump-line breaks repeatedly, and he is almost frozen to death. Meanwhile Fisher finds the girls, and with them leaves the tent. He tells them to remove all the rotten bones, because one of these is Skunk's guardian. They go first to Chipmunk's hole, then to Big Chipmunk's, but both are too small. They climb a tree at the place where Fisher lives. When Skunk succeeds in getting home, he finds the tent empty, and after searching finds a single rotten bone that Big Chipmunk had left. Then he pursues the fugitives. By means of the bone, which is 237 his guardian spirit, he finds the tree. He shoots it with his fluid, and it falls.[1] Fisher and his wife jump to another tree, but finally they fall down and are killed. Skunk restores the sisters, and they go to Big Chipmunk's tent. It is too small, but by shooting his fluid into it he enlarges it. They sleep in the tent. When Skunk is sound asleep, the women leave him and go to search for Fisher. They reduce the 239 size of the tent by means of their supernatural power, so that it becomes as small as before. They restore Fisher to life and move away. When Skunk is awakened, he finds himself in the narrow hole, unable to move. He succeeds in enlarging it a little by means of his fluid, and sees an opening. He pushes out his musk bag at the end of his bow; and Raven, who happens to fly by, takes it away. Skunk cuts off 241 his legs and his arms,[2] and puts one part of his body after another out of the hole. When outside, he puts himself together, but parts of his entrails have been lost. He puts leaves in their place. Raven takes the musk bag to his village. He transforms it 243 into a pup, and they play with it. Skunk reaches the village and is given food, which, however, falls right through him. He goes out, and sees the children playing with the pup. He makes signs to it, and the pup runs towards him. It is retransformed into his musk bag, which he takes away.[3]

44. THE STAR HUSBAND[4] (No. 70).—Two girls sleep outside and see many stars. 247
One of them says that she wants to marry a small star that she sees there. When she wakes, she finds herself sitting next to an old man, who tells her that he is the star. The large stars are young men; the small stars, old ones. She goes out digging roots, 249 and against the commands of the people breaks the ground near a tree. She can look down, and sees her relatives walking about. She makes a rope and lets herself down. At home she tells what has happened, and on the following morning she is found dead, killed by the star.

her how it happens that her son is so white. She tells him that she cooked him in 45 order to make him white. He asks to be treated in the same way, and is killed.
(171) Second Version.—A woman has gone out berrying, and puts her child down in the grass. A giant steps up to her and asks why the child, whom he calls his brother, is so white. The woman says that this is the result of roasting. The giant asks to
(172) be roasted too. The woman puts him into an oven, covers him over with stones, lights the fire, and kills him.—A giant who sits on the bank of a river is overtaken by some boys, who kill him by shooting him from behind.

83 46. THE GIANT (2 versions: Nos. 51 and 76). First Version.—Two brothers go out hunting. The elder one shoots a bighorn sheep. He starts a fire, and dries the meat over the fire. He roasts a piece of the meat, and does not like the taste. Then he cuts a piece of flesh from his body, roasts it, and likes the taste. He eats himself entirely. The younger brother goes out to search after him. He sees a fire, and hears his brother saying, "I love my brother, and it will take me two days to eat him." The transformed brother pursues him, strikes him with his intestines, and kills him. The elder brother's wife goes out to search for her husband. Something tells her to 85 put sharp stones on her clothing. She does so. The man strikes her with his intestines, but tears them. She runs home and tells the people what has happened. They move camp. The man's wife and his son alone remain. Crane stays near by. The transformed man comes. He takes the child and tears it in two. The woman offers to wash it, goes out, and runs away. She tells the people what has happened. Crane hides in a hole near a steep bank. When the man pursues his wife, he passes this place, and Crane kicks him into the water, where he is drowned.

273 Second Version.—A young man goes hunting sheep and dries the meat. Suddenly he sees two slices of meat, which he eats and which he likes. When he sits down, he feels a pain, and sees that he has eaten of his own flesh. He cuts one piece after 275 another from his body until only bones and intestines remain. After three days one of his elder brothers goes to look for him. When he finds him, the transformed brother says that he loves him, but kills and eats him. Thus he kills all his brothers. The 277 youngest one is warned by his guardian spirit. The boy makes his escape, and tells the people to leave. The hunter's wife stays behind with her son. When the man arrives, he holds his son tightly and makes him dance. The woman pretends that she wants to wash the child, and runs away. When she reaches the people, they make 279 a hole next to a cliff, and one of them kicks him into the water, where he is drowned.

55 47. RABBIT, COYOTE, WOLF, AND GRIZZLY BEAR (No. 45).—Rabbit runs past Coyote, 56 saying that he has been scared. Coyote follows, passes Wolf, and tells him that he has been scared. Wolf passes Grizzly Bear and scares him. They all reach a prairie, 57 where they sit down and ask one another what frightened them. One accuses the other, while Rabbit finally says that snow fell from the trees and frightened him. They laugh and separate.

26 48. LAME KNEE [1] (No. 20).—The chief orders the people to break camp in order to plant tobacco. The young men tell Lame Knee to take away the chief's wife. He 27 holds her when she comes to draw water. The chief is told that Lame Knee is holding his wife. He sends repeatedly, ordering him to let her go, but Lame Knee refuses.
28 Then the chief cuts off Lame Knee's head, which rolls away smiling. He cuts off his arms and his legs. When the people are asleep, they hear the voice of Lame Knee, who has come back to life. He kills the chief and marries his wives.

28 49. THE YOUTH WHO KILLED THE CHIEFS [2] (No. 21).—The daughter of an old man is married to a chief, who kills all her sons, while he allows her daughters to live.
29 The chief hunts buffaloes, but is stingy, and does not give any food to his parents-in-law. The woman has a son, but conceals the fact from her husband.[3] When the boy grows up, the woman tells her father to shoot a buffalo cow. The chief demands it, but the woman's father refuses to give it up. When the chief tries to kill the woman's 30 father, her son shoots him. The youth enters the chief's tent, kills his wives, and gives the tent to his mother. He goes traveling, and reaches a village in which the people are hungry. A woman gives him a little to eat; and when he is not satis- 31 fied, she tells him that the chief is rich but stingy. The youth goes into his tent. The chief becomes a rattlesnake, which he kills. Then he gives meat to the people. He goes down the river to another village, where the same happens with the Grizzly- 32

Bear chief. He goes on down the river, and the same happens to the Buffalo chief. 33

50. LITTLE SUN (No. 71).—The chief at Fish Hawk Nest, Crazy Old Woman, wants 249
to go to war, and calls for a runner. Little Sun offers to go. He starts when the people begin to play ball in the afternoon. He arrives at the place to which he had been sent, which is far distant, before the people stop playing ball in the evening. He arrives dragging his blanket. He tells Chief Not Sitting Down Long what is wanted. He tells 251 the chief that his people are to work for three days preparing bows and arrows, and then to start. They are to meet at Low Hills. In the afternoon Little Sun starts back, dragging his blanket, and arrives at Fish Hawk Nest in the evening. After four days they start, and meet at Low Hills at noon. Among the warriors are Pipe Lighter and his friend. They are hungry. Pipe Lighter shoots at a burl on a tree, 253 which is transformed into a bear. The first time his arrow strikes, it sounds like wood. The second time he kills the bear. The people are afraid of him. When the people are hungry again, his friend spears a piece of wood in the water, which is transformed into a charr. The first time he strikes it, it is wood; the second time, it is a fish. In the evening they reach the village of their enemies. Two scouts, Lamb Hat and Raven 255 Hat, go out and see the village of the enemy. The people (except one man, who is suspicious) think they are animals. Lamb Hat transforms himself into a lamb, and 257 is able, with the other warriors, to go down a slope of loose stones without making any noise. Crazy Old Woman's son, Rattling Claws, goes with Not Sitting Down Long, who captures Chief Hare Lip, and shouts that he is holding him. Rattling Claws counts coup for the chief. Early in the morning all the enemies have been killed. The one man, who had been suspicious, keeps away. In the morning he sees that 259 the village has been destroyed. The warriors spare him and let him carry the news back to his people. While the warriors are going back, Rattling Claws brags, and says that Chief Not Sitting Down Long counted coup for him. The chief becomes angry, and wishes him to be killed by a grizzly bear. They arrive at Fish Hawk Nest, Rattling Claws going ahead, indicating that he is chief warrior. Chief Crazy Old Woman tells them to rest and then to go out hunting. Rattling Claws and one of his 261 elder brothers go hunting bighorn sheep. The elder brother tries to frighten him, saying that he is being pursued by a bear. When a grizzly bear is really coming, and the elder brother warns Rattling Claws, he does not believe him, and is killed by the bear. This is due to the wish of Chief Not Sitting Down Long, whom he had offended.

51. PINE CONE (No. 72).—Two friends, Lamb Hat and Wolverene Hat, are hunting 261 mountain goat. When enemies come, the one transforms himself into a mountain 263 goat, which climbs the steep mountain. The other one becomes a wolverene, and runs back along a ledge upon which they are standing. The enemies pursue them, and the friends reach an old man named Pine Cone, who is hunting muskrats. They warn him, but he disbelieves them. When he sees the enemies coming, he hides, and 265 puts his blanket over a figure made of rushes, intending to deceive the enemies. The enemies find him, and he tries to shoot them. His arrows hit them, but do not pierce them. His last arrow has no point, and with it he kills one of the enemies, who then attack him. He tries to ward off their arrows with his bow, but is killed. The enemies go back. When the people of the two friends reach the lake, they find the body of Pine Cone.

267 52. THE KUYO'KWE (No. 73).—The people are moving camp, and a woman is left behind boiling bones. The Kuyo'kwe arrive and look into the tent. They enter, take off their clothing, and the woman makes a fire for them and gives them to eat. She throws melting fat into the fire, which startles the Kuyo'kwe. She takes this 269 opportunity to run away. She carries a torch. The Kuyo'kwe pursue her. She reaches a cliff and throws down the torch, while she herself jumps aside.[1] The Kuyo'kwe believe that they are still following her, and fall down the precipice. The woman follows the people, and tells her son to take the property of the dead enemies. Thus the boy becomes a chief.

269 53. THE GREAT EPIDEMIC (No. 74).—During an epidemic all the people die. One man only is left. He travels from one camp to another, trying to find survivors.
271 He sees some tracks, and thinks that some people must have survived. He notices what he believes to be two black bears, follows them, and finds a woman and her daughter. He marries first the woman, then her daughter, and the present Kutenai are their descendants.

273 54. THE GIANT (No. 75).—The people in a village are eaten by a Giant. An old couple live at the end of the village. The Giant enters their tent, and says that he will eat them in the morning. The old woman wakes up. She calls her husband, who cuts off the Giant's head.

26 55. THE MAN AND THE WASPS (No. 19).

33 56. THE WHITE MAN (No. 22).—A white man is chopping off a branch on which he is sitting. He is warned, but continues until he falls down.

34 57. THE FRENCHMAN AND HIS DAUGHTERS[2] (No. 23).—A Frenchman has three daughters. When walking in the woods, he finds a stump, which is the home of the Grizzly Bear. The Grizzly Bear demands to marry the Frenchman's daughter. He 35 takes the eldest daughter to the stump. She marries the Grizzly Bear, but runs away in the evening because she is afraid. The same happens with the next daughter.
36 The third daughter goes to the Grizzly Bear and stays with him. The young woman's mother goes to see how she fares. During the night the Grizzly Bear is invisible. In the morning she sees him again.

279 58. THE MOTHER-IN-LAW TABOO (No. 77).—The men were ashamed to talk to their mothers-in-law. Only those who disliked their mothers-in-law talked to them.

IV. VOCABULARY

The following vocabulary contains a selection of the more important stem-words, prefixes, and suffixes, together with examples showing the use of these stems. So far as possible, these examples have been taken from the texts. The Kutenai-English vocabulary has been arranged in such order that sounds which are closely related stand near together. The order selected is, vowels, labials, dentals, palatals, velars, laterals. This results in the following order of sounds:

a	y	p	t	ǩ	l
ɪ, i	w	p!	t!	ǩ!
o, u, ʊ	h	m	s	q
			ts	q!
			ts!	x
			n

The long lists of nouns beginning with a_a'k- have been placed together. I have embodied in this list a long list of nouns collected by Dr. Chamberlain, which I have not checked. I have kept these separate, because it is impossible to distinguish between a_a'k-, a_a'k!-, a_a'q-, a_a'q!-.

In the verbal forms I have generally given the stem without ending and without prefix. This is indicated by hyphens at the beginning and at the end of the word. Prefixes have been marked by a following hyphen and the abbreviation pr., although they may also take verbal prefixes. Suffixes have been marked by a preceding hyphen and the abbreviation suff. References are to page and line of the preceding texts; 256.161, for instance, means p. 256, line 161. Words marked Kel. were obtained from a young Lower Kutenai named James Keluwat; those marked Aitken were collected by Mr. Robert T. Aitken, who accompanied me part of the time I spent among the Kutenai.
